ter the election last fall, when the administration party was so signally overthrown, all of the previously talked of "old line democratic" candidates, except Mr. Cameron, retired at once from the field. The decided adverse political character of the Legislature, precluded. as it was supposed, the possibility of their elction; and they ceased to be spoken of as candidates, and were no longer before the public as such. These, and others of this class, were the men, over whom, I had repeatedly expreslows of necessity, that such expression was made, when they were understood to be candidates or "rivals" for the office Mr. Cameron was seeking.

I have said enough to show the infamous the victim of his falsehood and misrepresentation. A word as to the reasons and motives of his conduct.

I would not consent to co-operate with him in a systematic course of fraud and deception. I would be a party to no shams. I would not display the banner of Freedom to betray it. I would not make hypocritical professions of attachment to the principles of Freedom, for the purpose of leading the masses into the support of slavery propagandism. In short I would not become a co-partner in his infamy, in presenting Gov. Bigler before the people, as the candidate and friend of Freedom, when I, and he, and every intelligent man in the State and County, knew that he stood as the candidate of the National Administration, and the representative of its principles and measures. If I land earned for myself a portrait, drawn in the same colors, as that presented of him by a leading Bigler paper, Mr. Chase to-day would have been my friend; and instead of devoting almost his entire paper to misrepresentations and falsehoods aimed at me, would have been extolling me as a model of political consistency and integrity.

The motive for the perpetrating of this audacious villiany at this juncture, is too plain to be mistaken. It was intended for effect upon the Legislature, and to influence the result to come off on Tuesday next, the 27th inst. For this reason it was held back until it was tho't too late to expose and counteract the fraud.-I heard two weeks ago through a letter written by Mr. Laporte to E. O. Goodrich, that Mr. Chase—then in Harrisburg—was showing a letter from me to Mr. Cameron, containing expressions of kindness and personal regard with a view to influence my friends to the suppert of that gentleman. When informed of I cared nothing about it beyond the fact, that Mr. Cameron had allowed so unscrupulous and unprincipled a man as Mr. Chase to have possession of the letter. The result has demonstrated, that this remark was not without foundation. The letter was not written for exhibition or publication; and yet if Mr. Chase chose to make this use of it, I cared not a straw if it were published in every paper in the Commonwealth, and read by all her citizens. I thought, I confess, that it was trenching upcourse, to place the letter in the hands of a known unscrupulous enemy. This act justly makes Mr. Cameron responsible; and a sharer Chase, is that he wished it to be used in the manner, and for the purpose it has been used; and that there was no man in the State, Mr.

But to the letter, and the motives for its garbled publication at this time. So little was showing the letter in Harrisburg, that I of business. did not even write to my friend Laporte upon the subject. I well knew that it contained

The next use made of it is to present a garbled publication, on the eve of commencing again the ballotings for Senator. with a view to prevent the opponents of Mr. Cameron uniting upon me. Mr. Cameron's organized, and within a few votes, number the figure required for an election. It is otherwise with his opponents—they are broken and only in one thing—opposition to the election divided, it is easy to see that the disciplined orces of Mr. Cameron, must in the end prevail. had received more votes on the second and been given to any other candidate-Mr. Buckalew excepted, whose election his friends do not count upon or expect. It was feared that the opponents of Gen. Cameron (not including the members who voted for Buckalew) might election. Mr. Chase evidently feared this, and contemplated with dismay the possibility of my success. What so well calculated to prevent a union upon me, among a class of men whose bond of cement in action, was opposition to Cameron, as to represent me to be really in that gentleman's favor? What better calculated to excite against me, men so feeling, than to represent me as declaring my preference for Cameron, over those candidates in whom they had felt an especial interest, and whom they what way could Gen. Cameron's success be so effectually promoted, as by keeping his opponents broken and divided? Here lies the true secret of this most infamous business : Fear of my election, and a desire to promote the success of Gen. Cameron. Mr. Chase, in his comments on my letter, with characteristic recklessness, asserts, that I have charged Mr. Cameron with trying to bribe me to his support. It is false; and no credible witness can be called in its support. Were pect that he had been wasting some of his unds upon Mr. Chase.

The Sentinel fears that papers have been destroyed that were essential to the elucidation and illustration of the History of American pomeans employed by Mr. Chase, to make me lities for the last half century. The Globe, of Wednesday, adds:

"We think it worthy of note to write down that we saw Col. Benton for a few minutes, at a quarter past ten o'clock, last night, when he was about sitting down to re-write, for this morning's Globe, the speech which he made the day before yesterday, on the presentation of Gen. Jackson's sword to Congress, which he had revised, but had returned to our office a part only; the balance he had left in his office and it was burnt. He said he had it all in his head, and it should come out before he slept

"We asked him if his house was insured, and he replied, as near as we can recollect as follows: "No it was not insured; but I care nothing about that; insurance could not have saved all that I considered valuable—the bed on which my-wife died, on which I slept; her clothes, which were in a trunk sitting at the head of it; the articles which she prized most, around it-the last things I saw at night, and the first in the morning-and the papers in the adjoining room, many of which cannot be supplied. But what I shall most feel-more than I now do-will be the loss of the memorials of my wife, whose body, still above ground, it will be my first care to remove to St. Louis, when released from Congress, to buried in the place in which I had collected the remains of my dead-my mother, children, grandchildren, sister,-to take the place by their side which she and I had marked out for ourselves."

Congress adjourned on Sunday last, at 12 M. having passed the Appropriation bill in the last hours of the session. Among its acts were the passage of the Postage Bill, fixing the postage for a distance less than three thousand this by Mr. Goodrich, I remarked at once, that miles at three cents, and over at five, providing that all letters shall be prepaid, after next December with stamps; and that letters containing money may be registered, though preserving the irresponsibility of the department; the Ship Passengers' Bill supplies important additional securities to the health and comfort of the emigrants who crowd to our shores; and the Shipwreck bill furnishes new and most valuable facilities for rescue in case of shipwreck, on the point of honor and gentlemanly inter- or of serious danger upon our coasts. THE COLLINS LINE VETOED .- The attempt of the owners of the Collins line of steamers to get the extra allowance out of the public treasury for four years longer, without the power of Congress to rescind the contract which it expressly reserved, has very properly failed, thro' the interposition of the Presidential veto. Government has been paying an enormous amount of money, as the President shows, for this mail service, without a corresponding public advantage. The fact is only another proof that whenever government attempts to foster with bounties-any particular enterprise, it is only working mischief, interfering with free competition, and paying a costly sum for service which would be better and cheaper performed if private enterprise were left to perform the work iu its own way, assisted only by its own energies, and the necessary economy with which service is performed when in such hands. A grant of an extravagant sum by Government is made the pretext for another still more extravagant, and the necessity for aid grows just in proportion to the facility with which the money can be procured from the public treasury.

The President deserves great credit for this veto, and so far as checking unjust legislation is concerned, he is entitled to the gratitude of the country. This veto, and the veto of the Spoliation bill, shows that he is determined to guard the Treasury against the schemes of those who make plundering a business.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS .- On Tuesday last, elections were held in the towns of several of the States. These contests have been particularly morse seems to be busy at work with his conlarly sharp and exciting, and their effects are science. of more importance, than usually attend such struggles. In every instance, we believe, the question has been distinctly drawn between the Know Nothingism and anti-Know Nothingism. In New-York municipal elections were held flew off from machine. Severe internal injuries Tuesday in Oswego and Auburn. In the former, the fusionists, composed of whigs and foreigners, succeeded in electing their candidate for Mayor by a handsome majority over the Know Nothing nominee. In Auburn, however, the Know Nothings were successful by a majority of two hundred over a candidate of a coalition formed of all the old parties and factions. At Rochester, Norwich, Oxford, and Sherburne, the Know Nothings were also successful. At Utica, the Whig ticket was chosen, while at Syracuse and Troy the fusionists triumphed. At Newport, Ky., the American ticket was defeated. Throughout Massachusetts the Know Nothings have sustained their ascendancy, four-fifths of the towns heard from having been carried by that party. At Detroit, Mich., a democratic Mayor has been chosen by a large majority. In Maine the Know Nothings have carried everything before them.

Mr. Soule, late Minister to Spain, has returned to this country, and is now sojourning at Washington. It is said that Mr. Soule feels that he has been badly treated, but says until the public have all the official facts before them, he does not feel at liberty to speak. He will not, however, tamely submit to the official snubbling he has received. Marcy's letter in reply to the joint despatch is very long, taking decided ground against the opinions ad-Soule, and directing Mr. Soule to retrace his ground, and resume negotiations at Madrid upon the most peaceble basis. To this Mr. Soule replied in a brief note, stating that the instructions thus communicated were of so extraordinary a character-so totally at variance with the whole previous policy of the administration, and disregardful of the humiliating position he would be compelled to assume were he to carry them out, that self respect left him but one course to pursue, and he accordingly tendered his resignation.

The New Hampshire election takes place on the 13th inst., and more than usual interest attaches to it, since, in addition to the Governor and other State officers, and members of the lower house of Congress who are to chosen, the Legislature, now to be elected, will have the choice of two members of the United States Senate, to fill the seats vacated by the death of Messrs. Atherton and Norris. For Governor, there are four candidates, N. B. Baker, democrat; James Bell, whig; Asa Fowler, Free Soil; and Ralph Metcalf, Ame-

HORRIBLE STORY-ONE BOY MURDERED BY ANOTHER!—A gentleman living in Russa, Herkimer county, who was in this city yesterday, informed us that a horrible tragedy was reported to have occurred in that vicinity a few days since. As the story was told us, two boys, aged 12 and 14, respectively engaged in a quarrel which terminated in a threat on the part of the youngest lad, that he would shoot his antagonist. AFFAIRS IN CUBA .- The Havana correspondent of the National Intelligencer says the regular troops have nearly all been withdrawn from the city of Havana, and its protection is in the hands of volunteers and a safeguard force, which is composed of the soldiers who have been discharged from the army in Cuba on expiration of service for several year's past. This makes a very efficient force in appearance, and the men have mostly had the advantage of active field service-probably better troops than those which have been thrown into the country and forwarded upon the coast to protect weak points, and to be ready for concentration wherever there may be necessity. He thinks, however, that the indiscriminating arming of negroes has been an unwise measure, and which, if continued to the extent proposed will result in serious evil for Cuba, that Coucha, or any one succeeding him will not be able to cure or remove. The consequences are already perceptible in the streets and in families.
