Wood ashes is one of the most important fertilizers. It is easily obtained in any quantity and at little or no expense. Take them carefully from your hearths, and save them until your corn and potatoes have risen two inches from the ground ; then take a basket on your arm and from it take a small handful of ashes and cast it at the root of your plants, and hoe them soon so as to cover the ashes. By this means you will increase your crop half. Ashes contain all the inorganic substances of the wood or plants which are consumed, part of these are soluble, and part insoluble, but the soluble substances mixed with water will dissolve the insoluble. Thus dissolved potash will dissolve silica and prepare it for glazing the stock of the cane corn, wheat, &c.

Not a particle of ashes should go to waste. Leached ashes have parted with most of their potash, but still retain their phosphoric acid, and most of their lime

Ashes neutralize acids in the oil; they warm cold, mossy, wet places; they are destructive to insects; they assist to break down and dissolve the coarse fibres and stocks in the compost heaps, render hard, clayey soil open, loamy and fertile. The potash, so material to most crops, can be obtained here only from ashes. In granite regions, potash is obtained from a dissolution of feldspar, but we have none in this country.

Wheat contains a large portion of potashfifty-nine per cent, of the ashes of corn is carbonate of potash, and one-half of the earthy part of Irish potatoes, is pure potash.

Save your ashes therefore as carefully as you do your five and ten cent pieces, and apply them to your crops with care, and you will find them of a rich, deep color while growing, and heavy with nutriment at harvest.

BUTTER MAKING.—Not one pound in five of the butter sold in our cities, under the name of "Goshed," &c., and very little "Country butter," is fit for human food. Butter makers should remember these few short rules :

The newer and sweeter the cream, the sweeter and higher flavored will be the but-

THE Use of Snow .- The past severe winter in its effects on plants has furnished some striking proofs of the protection afforded by snow. Several specimens of the tree box, some of them seven or eight feet high, are as brown as dead grass above the snow line, while all below is as green as emerald. The Japan Quince, usually regarded as very hardy, although not destroyed by the extreme cold, was so injured and checked in its growth, that while the flowers below the snow are an inch and a half in Factory Prices. Particular attention paid to orders by diameter, and in dense and brilliant clusters, the exposed portion of the shrub is thinly furnished with pale red or pink flowers, not onefifth the size of the former.

The only blossoms of the peach that have appeared have been a few that were covered snow drifts; and the strong contrast in the color of the wood of the trees, where expose or protected, has been sufficient to show the precise depth of the snow in any part of our peach orchards. Observations made at the Royal Gardens at Kew, in England, (where the winter has also been very severe,) showed a difference of nineteen degrees immediately above and below the snow .- Country Gentle-

HOME-MADE CHLORIDE OF LIME. - Professor Nash says, take one barrel of lime, and one bushel of salt. Dissolve the salt in as little water as will dissolve the whole. Slack the lime with the water, putting on more water than will dry-slack it, so much that it will form a very thick paste : this will not take all the water. Put on therefore a little of the remainder daily, until the lime has taken the whole. The result will be a sort of impure chloride of lime, but a very powerful deodorizer, equally good for all out-door purposes with the article which is bought under that name at the apothecary's, and costing not one twentieth part as much. This should be kept under a shed, or some out-building. It should be kept moist, and it may be applied wherever offensive odours are generated, with the assurance that it will be effective to purify the air and will add to the value of the manure much more than it costs. It would be well for every farmer to pepare a quantity of this and have it always on hand.

Fowls .- The Ohio Farmer says, as the manure of the hen house is the best for onions, so onions, chopped fine and mixed with Indian meal, is occasionally the best food for chickens. It should be given once or twice a week, and will prevent gapes and all kinds of inflammation of the throat and eyes.

WEEVIL .- These troublesome pests may be kept out of grain by using salt. Sprinkle a little fine salt on the bottom and around the sides of the bin as you fill up, and over the top when full. Wheat kept in old salt barrels will never be destroyed by the weevil.

PROFITS OF ORCHARDS .- A distinguished agriculturalist, who has one thousand apples-trees, and intends to set out as many more, says that if apples will sell at twenty-five cents per bushel, they are his most profitable crop-and if they will not sell, they are the cheapest food he can raise for all kinds of animals.

A quiet exposition of the truth has a better effect than a violent attack upon error. Truth extirpates errors as grass extirpates weeds, by working its way into their place, and leaving no room to grow.

A ND CHERRY PECTORAL.—The fol-A ND CHERRY PECTORAL.—The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Ayen's Catharite Pills have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpassany combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or les good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with illious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straight-n with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; ee his clammy features blosson into health. Give them o some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrotula en with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrotula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with exery every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these Pills, and mark the effect; see the scals fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with linaments and salves; give him these Pills to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for olas! there cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walkes alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise, or mental anguish, or some lurking disease has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation, or secretion, till they do they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these Pills to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her check, and where sorrow sat, joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the Pills in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized me, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled Consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong whisper to all but him Consumption. He tries everything; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his fame. He is taking the Cherry Pectoral now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living troub like this to shad. returns, and with it his strength. The dart which preced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the Cherry Pectoral an imperishable renown. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the Cherry Pectoral if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an idvaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for the counties of Bradford, Sullivan and Lycoming, has the A counties of Bradford, Sullivan and Lycoming, has the pleasure of calling the attention of the public to this useful invention. The Hive is truly a great improvement on the old square box; and the facilities it affords for taking out the honey are as harmless to the bees, as they are profitable to the owner. No resort to drums and pans is needed to hive the increase in the spring, and no resort to brimstone, five and fagot is required to conquer the bees and procure their honey in the fall. As the bees multiply, new sections are added to the hive; and when the honey is wanted, they are removed accordingly. The arrangeis wanted, they are removed accordingly. DR. HALSEYS' FOREST WINE.—The discovery of the FOREST WINE is the greatest blessing of the age. Put up in Quart Bottles, a single bottle of which does more good, and goes further in the cure of Disease, than ton bottles of any Sarsaparilla in use, and warranted to cure without an unpleasant or weakening effect. effect.

The method by which all Sarssaparillas, and other similar medicines are prepared, is by boiling the Roots of plants to obtain the extracts. Their medicinal virtues are thus principally evaporated and destroyed.

It is not to be wondered at then, that 10 and even 20 It is not to be wondered at then, that 10 and even 20 bottles of these Sarsaparillas are sometimes taken without any perceptible benefit. Not so with the Forest Wine.—
By the invention of a wonderful chemical apparatus, a perfect wine is produced without beating; retaining, at the same time, all the primitive healing properties of the rare medicinal plants of which it is composed, thus rendering the Forest Wine the most efficient medicine the world ever produced at the same time the most efficient medicine the world ever produced, at the same time time the most agreeable.

MORE TESTIMONY FROM COHOES.

DR. G. W. HALSEY—Dear Sir: My wife last autumn was reduced to a low state of Debility. My family physician advised her to take your Forest Wine. Accordingly I went to Mr. Terry's, your agent in this town, and procured a bottle of it, which restored her in a very short time to perfect health. ed a bottle of it, which restored her in a very short time to perfect health.

Dr. Halsey:

Hempstead, Dec. 1, 1847.

A bottle of your Forest Wine and box of Pills, which I procured of James Carr. (your agent for this place.) has done wonders for me. I had been in a state of decline for more than a year, afflicted with a dreadful cough, pain in the breast, general debility, and loss of appetite. I became almost a skeleton, and had been unable to leave my room for more than two months, my friends told are. I came almost a skeleton, and had been unable to leave my room for more than two months; my friends told me I had the Consumption and despaired of my recovery. I could not obtain any permanent relief from any medicine I had taken, or my physician, until your Wine and Pills were procured. The first dose of the Pills brought up from my stomach, much phlem and greenish matter, and my stools were perfectly black. I then commenced taking your Forest Wine three times a day, my appetite began to return immediately, my cough left me, and in less than two weeks I was almost well. I now enjoy better health than I ever did before, having increased twenty-five normals. than I ever did before, having increased twenty-five pounds in seven weeks. AFFECTIONS OF THE KIDNEYS.

Mr. T. J. Gillies, a highly respectable Merchant of No. 308 Broadway, New York, cured of a severe affection of the Kidneys by the Forest Wine and Pills.

Dr. G. W. HALSEY: New-York, March 12, 1853.

Dear Sir—In the summer and fall of last year I had a severe complaint of the Kidneys, which rendered me quite unfit for business. I procured your Forest Wine and Pills which cured me in a few weeks time, and I have since enjoyed better health than I had for many years previously. From their efficacy in my own case, and from what I know your medicines to have done for others, I am induced to recommend them as the best medicines with which I am acquainted.

Yours, respectfully.

DYSPEPSIA. DYSPEPSIA.

There are thousands cured every year of this disease by the Forest Wine and Pills; Dyspepsia, Costiveness and Indigestion, are kindred complaints, frequently existing together, and the cure of one is generally the cure of all. The Forest Wine and Pills above all remedies are pre-eminent in the cure of Dyspepsia.
