D. Would inform the inhabitants of Bradford county that he respectfully solicits 600 subscribers for his loca work entitled "FISH AND PHILOSOPHY, or Sketche made During a Short Sojourn in Northern Pennsylvania." The book will consist of from 250 to 300 pages, 12m.

that he respectivily solicits 600 subscribers for his local more entitled "FISH AND PHILOSOPHY, or Sketches made During a Short Sojourn in Northern Pennsylvania." The book will consist of from 250 to 300 pages, 12mo., and will be bound in embossed muslin. The price will be $1,00. As the work was not written to vindicate any particular theory, or to advance any particular inte-rest, it is difficult to say what it aims al.—further than to help while away a leisure hour or two, in what the Au-thor hopes, not unprofitable reading. The pages are chiefly devoted to descriptions of local scenery; incidents while Trouting on the Schrader branch; literary criticisms and reminiscences; conversations, de-velopments of local character, poetry and philosophical reflections. As the publication of the book is not a question of bread, the author can use the liberty of speaking plain.— In the first place, then, he cannot afford to publish the book unaided—nor would he if he could; for the simple reason, he is unwilling to shoulder the responsibility of committing a.—possibly—poor book to the world. He therefore seeks to make a eoporate concern of fi, and thus share with the subscribers the odium of failure, should if fail. It is a purely graduitous matter, graftle-men, sign, or not sign. In the second place, the author is unwilling to have his stock of books added to, by too many hundred copies of a work that failed to redeem the price of its publication; neither does he desire the horror of witnessing the avful spectacle of an anch-dafe, of what cost him so much pains and time to create ;—for he cer-tainly would commit to the flames what remained unsold of the edition, should they remain too long on his hands. He is determined to pay the publisher on the receipt of the edition, should they remain too long on his hands. He is determined to pay the publisher on the receipt of foo subscribers can be had, he wild dos o.
