the fact that the thing was not a hoax appeared to be satisfactorily established, the President telegraphed Shannon to employ all the authority at his command to suppross the outbreak, and when a full and formal statement of the facts in the case should reach Washington, the government would act as the exigency of the case should seem, to demand. It is regarded by the President as a ques tion requiring, in every aspect, very delicate treatment, particularly as the County Sheriff, state of the case a summons by him to the would hardly meet with a favorable response, as such troops are entirely beyond his jurisdietion, and not subject to the posse comitatus call. If the President finally concludes, in accordance with the requirements of Gov. Shannon. he must first issue his proclamation of warning unless there be indeed open, positive re-bellion. So the imminent danger of grave consequences at present is not seemingly impending, as far as the armed interference of the government is concerned.

The Bloodshed and Burnings in Kansas.

Kansas is in a flame with an intestine warthe people of the territory on one side and Go-vernor Shannon with his Missouri auxiliaries on the other. Blood has flowed, and dwellings have been fired ; man flies from man as from the life of his brother as he would that of the of the United States. This is the first time that civil dissensions, arising from a cause of marrel common to the whole country, have probloodless one. But now the great quarrel between the slaveholders of the South and the citizens of the other states, respecting the extension of slavery, is put to the arbitrament of the sword in a part of the country from which the interference of the federal laws has been professedly withdrawn, to allow free scope for the contest. Whether the controversy be well or ill managed, on the part of those who have submitted it to this fearful test, it is still our own cause-a cause in which every citizen of he United States has an interest.

The cloud from which this shower of blood is falling has long been gathering. Sagacious observers have been looking with anxiety for an armed collision between the friends and enemies of slavery in Kansas, almost from the first most moment that the country began to be occapied by emigrants from the states. When he invading party from Missouri imposed a sparious legislature upon the residents, and blood. The residents saw themselves abantal organization. Ever since Gov. Reeder was removed, and Shannon was sent out by Mr. Pierce in his place, to enforce the spurious code promulgated at the Shawnee Mission, the country has been literally without a govern-ment. Ment. It is said that Gov. Shannon has called up- Buff. Rep. on the President for a detachment of United States soldiery to put down the insurrection of se against its local government, the federal improvement in water wheels. dministration has no power to meddle in the natter : the state government must put down he rebellion by such means as it can command. If we admit the doctrine of popular sovereignin the territories, we must apply to them the me rule of practice. The local authorities nust deal alone with those who rise up in reistance against them. Evidently Governor Shannon does not understand, or declines to practice, the doctrine hich his political associates profess. He ald be removed instantly for daring to infere with the "principle of the Nebraska "-a principle from which the administration s again and again declared that it will tolere no dissent. If there is any soundness in loctrine of popular sovereignty in the terties, Gov. Shannon's conduct is inexcusable. on the other hand, he has taken the right rse in appealing to the power of the federal rament, popular sovereignty is a disgrace-We are now reaping what was sown when Missouri Compromise was repealed. Not p of blood is shed in this strife, which not cling to the garments of those who ported that fatal measure ; not a victim falls either side, for whose death they are not aswerable. It was to open a path to persondelivered over to anarchy, and made the of manslaughter and burnings. First, aglas, allured by the apparent success and larity of the compromise of 1850, was and the propose the breach of faith which ed to these horrors, and then Mr. Pierce, a brief struggle with his doubts, anxious de with him the glory of the achievement s zealous supporter. No occasion of state sity or even of state convenience called wantonness of legislation, released from entrol of moral restraint, which struck that ance of peace, the prohibition of slavery orthwestern territories, from our statute-In passing the Nebraska bill, the adand its friends prepared the torcharged the weapons by which our country- soned in the yard, have been slain.

When Shannon's despatch was first received sion, the detestation of fraud, the abhorrence Washington its authenticity was doubted of wrong cloaked under the guise of law-eve by the President and his cabinet, but when ry feeling of the human heart, which does not counsel cowardly submission and the purchase of present safety at the price of future evils, takes part with the residents of Kansas. They may may commit imprudent acts—they may be rash; there may be fanatical persons among them, who will do what we cannot justify ; but their cause is a great and righ-teons cause, and we must stand by it to the last. The House of Representatives now assembled at Washington, will, undoubtedly, deny a seat to Whitfield, the pretended delegate from and not the United States Marshal, appears seat to Whitfield, the pretended delegate from to have been the executive officer. In this Kansas, elected under the ordinances of the spurious legislature, and will send him back to government troops at Fort Leavenworth his constituents. In doing this, they will re-wend hardly meet with a favorable response, cognise as just and laudable, the resistance with which the residents of Kansas have met the usurpation of the intruders from Missouri. -Evening Post.

> ANOTHER WARNING VOICE .- One I. M. RUCKMAN, enamored of the glories that encircle the editorial "we," satisfied that "the wants of our flourishing town" demanded "another paper," set up The Balance, at Mansfield, Tioga Co. Pa. For a while he went on swimmingly, with lots of subscribers and unparalleled success. What was the surprise of his numerous patrons" under all the "suckumstances," to read the following humorous but honest Valedictory, which came upon them "like a clap of thunder in a clear sky !"

With this No. of the Balance, our connection as Editor and Publisher ceases. Our course the savage beasts of that wild region, or seeks has been very brilliant, but very short. Since the 11th of July, we have been editor, proprie wolf or the bear. Nor is this a contest in tor and devil of the Balance, to say nothing which the rest of the country is neutral; it is of the untold honors heaped upon us by the a civil war, to which we are all more or less Administration as Post Master. We may now arties. The battle-ground is Kansas, but the settle down with two prefixes to our namethes of the combatants fill the entire circuit ex-Post Master, ex-Editor. We suppose we're politically dead, because we didn't trust to the old line." Our star, however, arose in brilliancy, we had been weighed in the Balance ceeded to open and armed violence. The Shays and our side of the scales had come down with war in Massachusetts was a local dispute in a thump; we now kick the beam. Our aspirations have been local also ; the dispute between the federal go- knocked into "pi," and our love for the human vernment and South Carolina, notwithstanding family materially injured ; but we retire with the warlike words that were uttered, was a the best feelings to the whole biped race, politicians in particular."

> THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH .--- WO learn that on Sabbath morning quite early Mrs. Spelman, residing on Palmer Hill, left her three children asleep while she went a short distance to one of the neighbors on some errand. The oldest child was nine years old and the youngest an infant only one year. Mrs. Spelman locked the house when she left. From some unknown cause the house took fire during her absence, and the three children perished in the flames. The distracted mother returned and found her little brood, that she but a few moments before had left in quiet slumber, had taken wings of fire and flown to the spirit land. The mother's grief may be imagined but cannot
