cause it has been brought across the ocean. But in England there is a wide distinction between what is called blood stock and the common stock of that country. Certain breeders of stock have been extremely nice in regard to breeding. They have selected from the common herds of cattle the very best they could find, and have kept them apart from the common run of cattle, casting off all the inferior individuals that often show themselves in the best herds. By pursuing this course for years in success sion a race is superior to the common run of cattle-and at length this race becomes so perfect that you can place much reliance on the progeny. Different courses have been pursued by stock breeders in England—but generally the aim has been to produce large animals, and such as will fatten early, regardless of their merits as milkers.

The short horn Durhams meet the views of those who pride themselves in the growth of the largest animals, and such as will fatten at three or four years of age. These cattle are said to fatten at less expense also than the promiscuous herds of our country—but as re-liable milkers the full blood Durhams have failed to give satisfaction to purchasers.

But a prejudice exists against what is called "blood stock," that is, imported stock, and the question is often asked why is not our own stock as good as any that can be imported? We have cows of no particular breed that will excel the general run of imported cows, and why shall we not rely on them in preference to what is termed "blood stock?"

Now we have no idea that the farmers of Britain are the only people capable of producing "blood stock." They have taken the lead in this business, and to them we look for information in regard to results-but we are not bound, hand and foot, to the opinions of foreign breeders.

Let us examine this subject fairly. Is it best to breed promiscuously and pick out of the mass production the best looking individuals-or is it better to endeavor to rear a race from the most noted milkers, and keep that race apart from the mean animals which are often reared as farm stock?

A drover who goes into the interior to buy cows will prefer such as are bred by an old farmer who has long been in the practice of raising his own calves, and breeding from the best of his cows. A farmer who has pursued this course for 20 years or more has now, in fact, "blood stock" of his own production, and can calculate with considerable confidence on the qualities of the calves or young cattle that he has produced.

By pursuing this mode we can rear as good blood stock as any foreigner who ever lived. Time, patience, and strict attention are needed to come to the result which foreign breeders have come to in the improvement of their herds. We can have as good cattle as any that have been produced in England if we will have patience and continue long in the right course.

It often happens that an individual cow of no particular breed, will yield more milk and butter than the average of blood stock. What of it? Will her progeny do the like? If we cannot rely on her progeny we cannot account her as of any great advantage to the public, though her owner may have made profits out of her.

Drovers go annually into the interior to buy provers go annually into the interior to buy provers to make the first course. The Music —Instruction on the Piano, with use of instrument, will be given by Miss Rebecca D. Hanson, at $10 per quarter.

lot of cows is transferred from Vermont to Rhode Island-but not the least advance is made in the improvement of stock. Rhode Island still continues to make veal of all the calves, and Vermont continues to rear all, good

And yet we hear croakers declaiming against blood stock, or select stock, because a bastard individual is sometimes found to prove superior to the average of blood stock or legiti-

Imported stock, and all blood stock, should be judged by its real merits. If Americans will pay the same attention to breeding which foreigners have done, they can, without doubt, rear as good animals as any of foreign production. Will they not make the trial?— Mass. Plowman.

TRY IT !- Let every farmer take a memorandum of seeding each wheat field in his neighborhood, and compare after the next harvest the difference between the early and the late sown wheat. Let him also make a memorandum of the depth of ploughing adopted by each farmer, and compare the difference between the crops on the deep ploughed and shallow ploughed land.

Let him likewise compare the quality and quantity, and the value in market of the wheat raised by the farmer who took the greatest care, at the expense of much time and labor, to procure the best seed, with the crop of the man who took the first seed that came to hand.

Write these things all down, and call on us five years hence, and let us know if you have not saved twenty per cent. on your wheat crop ever since you adopted the plan.

If the farmer wou't do it, let the wife do it .- If the wife will not, let the children. But try it at any rate. Now is the season to do it. You can do it in half an evening.

TO REMOVE VERMIN FROM CATTLE .- Dissolve camphor gum in new rum, making the liquid pretty strong of camphor, and apply it on various parts of the body of the animal.—

It is a harmless application, so far as the animal is concerned, leaving the coat free and clear, but destroys the lice. In about two or three weeks after the first application, rub on the liquid again, in order to kill the young received the solution of the solution of the solution of the liquid again, in order to kill the young received the solution of the solution of the liquid again, in order to kill the young received the solution of the solution of the liquid again, in order to kill the young serving that the solution of the liquid again, in order to kill the young serving that the solution of the soluti vermin that may have hatched out after the first rubbing. Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

For purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from excess of Mercury, exposure and imprudence in life, chronic constitutional disease, arising from a nimpure state of the blood, and the only reliable and effectual remedy known for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the face and all Scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

This article is now pre-cribed by some of the most distinguished Physicians in the Country, and has proved more efficient in practice than any preparation of Sarsaparilla yet offered to the public. Several cases of secondary Syphilic, Mercurial and Scrofulous diseases have entirely recovered in the incurable wards of our public institutions, which had for many years resisted every mode of treatment that could be devised. These cases furnish striking examples of the salutary effects of this medicine in arresting some of the most inveterate diseases, after the glands were destroyed and the bones already affected.

WOMAN'S FRIEND!
Time, Money, and Labor Saved

BY USING THE GERMAN CHEMIcal Erasive Soap. Made from a German process, and, as believed, not known to any other manufacturer in the United States. The proprictors having tested this article in various ways during the past six months, now offer it to the public as possessing the following advantages over other washing soaps:

1st. It may be used equally well with hard or soft water.

2.d It requires but half the quantity required of other soap to accomplish the same object.

3.d. Clothes need no boiling and but little rubbing.

1st. It may be used equally well with hard or soft water.

2.d It requires but half the quantity required of other soap to accomplish the same object.

3d. Clothes need no boiling and but little rubbing, (most arlicles none,) thus avoiding their wear upon a wash board.

4th. It requires less than one half the time and labor to do the washing of a family, that it requires with the best family soap; does not injure the fabric and tends to set the colors.

the colors.

5th. For cleaning Paints, and removing Grease, Tar, and Printer's Ink, it is unsurpassed.

6th. One pound will go as far, for any use, as 3 pounds of common rosin soap, or 2 pounds of best family soap.—
Machinists, Printers and Painters will find it an invaluable article for washing hands—as it does not chap, but softens the skin. It is warranted to give perfect satisfaction or the money ill be refunded,
