THE WINE CELLARS AT CINCINNATI.

A recent visitor at Cincinnati, gives us the following account of the wine cellars and wine business at and in the neighborhood of that city. We have on several occasions published interesting facts relating to the grapegrowing and the wine business of Ohio; but we are sure we shall add to previous accounts, by printing annexed information:

The wine houses of Cincinnati, are among the most interesting curiosties of that city. We have visited two of them. The establishment of Longworth and Zimmerman is the most extensive; but that of Zimmerman and Brothers being latest constructed, has many improvements. In those places, deep vaults are constructed, from twenty to thirty feet beneath the surface of the ground. These are kept at a cool, uniform temperature, during the entire year. The new wine is first stored in huge thousand gallons. There it stands, ferments, Surveying for Bradford County is prepared to stand to and is allowed to settle during a period of several months. When it is fit for bottling it is racked off, the bottles being filled and corked by machinery. They are then stored away in the machinery. They are then stored away in the vast cellars, where they remain for some months until ready for use. The still wine does not require as much management as the sparkling variety, which is more perfectly clarified, and the ward House.

Towarda, May 15, 1856. variety, which is more perfectly clarified, and by means of pure rock candy it is sweetened and the sparkle which distinguishes it is secured. The bottles of sparkling wine are, af Daguerrean & Glass Picture Gallery, ter being filled, placed with the necks downward. Sediment gradually deposits itself near the cork. Skillful workmen then unclose these bottles, holding them neck downward, and allow enough of the wine to escape to carry off the deposit. This process is repeated until the wine is thoroughly clarified and fit for use .-While it is ripening it is most important to keep the temperature low. An increase of half a degree in heat will cause the bottles to explode, and sometimes hundreds, even thousands of bottles are thus wasted, the destruction sweeping far and wide through the cellars, and it is only conquered by the application of ice, to bring down the average temperature. These losses are common to all wines of a character similar to champagne, and they have much influence in increasing the cost. The descent into the wine vaults is like that into the caves of Tartarus. With candles fixed upon the ends of shingles, the guides and visiters explore the mysteries of these dark and silent regions. The gloom is profound, and is scarce lighted by the glimmer of their candles; the visiters pass on amid stacks of bottles, piled crossways, and resting in mounds. Mildew, damp and moisture enshroud them, and there is but little promise of the good cheer within. Wine drinkers are rarely intemperate; it is your guzzler of brandy, whiskey, rum or gin, who rapidly, unless prudence restrains him, becomes a drunkard. Mankind have always had a taste for stimulants, whether in savage or civilized countries. This weakness, implanted in us by nature. is not to be eradicated by statutes, which make crimes of indulgence toward which constitutional present the property of the proper cheer within. Wine drinkers are rarely inof indulgence toward which constitutional pre-dilections urge us. It is the part of wisdom, therefore, in endeavoring to regulate the weak-nesses of men. The encouragement of the grape culture and of the wine manufacture is a great measure of social reform which will a great measure of social reform which will Tuition in the Fifth class, (primary) per term.... $4. ensure health and happiness to all who are relieved from the temptation of using the produce of the still. The facilities for raising the grape are so many in this country, and the advantages to all by rendering wine a common drink, are so much to be desired, that it is a subject for fervent hope that ere many years, vineyards will gladden the face of this vast continent, and that wine will be as excellent, energy, enterprise and courage great credit is due, should be proudly enrolled the name of the male pupils can find board in private families, Nicholas Longworth.

GOOSEBERRY MILDEW .- It is well known that mildew is so destructive to gooseberries in this country, that but few of the large and choice kinds ever perfect much of their fruit, and as a consequence of one of the nicest of fruits is but little seen in our market, in a ripe state. The writer of the Calendar for the Horticulturist, gives a very simple remedy, which if as good as represented, is well worthy of extensive application. The following is the remedy as we read it, merely require the application once, "when the fruit is forming :

Mildew may be prevented, by watering with soap-suds, over the branches. A radical cure for this pest may be formed by mixing a peck of lime and a pound of sulphur, in ten gallons of water; let it stand and settle. A pint, in four gallons of water, syringed over the bushes when the fruit is forming, will keep them clean; cover the ground with manure, and spread a small quantity of salt over it, to keep as much moisture as possible about the roots.

Mulching is undoubtedly a good thing as it keeps the roots in a more uniform state as regards heat and moisture and salt is recommended by several different writers at this time .-

Our experience goes to prove that if planted under the shade of trees somewhat, they escape mildew, although the fruit is small. The fine show vareties of England are much more subject to it than the small rough kind. The Whitesmith and Houghton, are perhaps the safest to plant .- Country Gentleman.

To DESTROY HOUSE FLIES .- Amongst the "miseries of human life," during the warm season of the year, may be reckoned the tickling, and buzzing, and obtrusive familiarities of the common house flies. A correspondent of a British newspaper, tells us how to destroy Pour a little simple oxymal (an article sold by the druggist into a emomon glass tumbler, & place in the glass a piece of cap paper, made into the shape of the upper part of a funnel with a hole at the bottom to admit the flies. Attracted by the smell they readily enter the trap in swarms, and by the thousands soon collected, prove that they have not the wit or disposition to return.

THE ELECTRO CHEMICAL BATH, DIRECT & TO-&-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE. which has proven to be one of the most important and wonderful discoveries of the age, from its ability to extract minerals from the human system.

Some eight years ago, a physician of Cincinnati discovered the process of extracting minerals from the body, by galvanism; more recently, M. Verges, of New York, an electro-gilder, having suffered from the introduction of poisonous minerals into his system in the prosecution of his art, conceived the idea of removing them by the same processes, he succeeded in doing so, and quickly recovered.

He then applied the same means to others similarly affected, with like results. His success exceeded his most sanguine expectations, for not only did these Baths remove mineral poisons, but cured many diseases, some of which were the result of minerals, and some were not.

More recent experiments have fully confirmed the singular power of this Bath to draw from the system all minerals that may be lodged therein, to the great detriment of health. Very often persons are afflicted by diseases which are beyond the comprehension of the most skilful physicians, and which are the effect of poisonous minerals accumulating in the system for years, taken in the shape of calomel, lead, &c. &c.

The following are some of the diseases cured by these baths: Rheumatism, Paralysis, Palsy, Palnter's Cholic, Chronic Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Serofula, Cancer, Neuralia in all its forms, Salt Rheum and Humors of all kinds.

He has also S. B. Smith's newly invented DIRECT AND

He has also S. B. Smith's newly invented DIRECT AND TO-AND-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE, which is a great improvement on the Magnetic machines hereto-fore in use. With the aid of the Bath and Machine, we fore in use. With the aid of the Bath and Machine, we have at command all the available medical efficiency of Electricity. The medical power of the Machine is very great, in introducing medicines into the system through the pores of the skim—applying it directly to the parts affected, which gives an increase of medicinal power over that of taking it into the stomach, rendering it particularly efficacious in all local diseases.

I am now prepared to apply these Baths, and also the Machines, at my house in the south part of the borough of Towanda, or I will visit patients at a distance, who are unable by reason of disease to come to this place, at moderate prices.

I am also sole agent for Bradford county, for the above Machines.
