BURNING OF A STEAMER.

Sixty Lives Reported Lost.

MILWAUKEE, Thursday, Sept. 25, 1856.

The steamer Niagara, of the Collingwood line was burned near Port Washington on Lake Michigan last evening.

One hundred lives are reported lost.

The Daily Sentinel Extra says: "The Niagara took fire 4 miles from Port Washington. In a short time she was consumed and sank.—The light was seen from her at 7 p. m.

The steamer Traveler, bound here, went to the assistance of the burning boat. The captain and officers exerted themselves to the utmost to save lives of those on board the burning boat.

The following is a list of those saved by the Traveler:

Harvey Ainsworth of Royalton, Vt.; J. B. Curtis of Steuben Co., N. Y.; Henry Lace of Washington, Vt.; Wm. Hoag of Buffalo; John Hill of Collingwood; H Chambers and lady of Hamilton: J. Locke of Waterbury, Vt. Henry Locke, do.; Lewis Hart Utica, N. Y.; J. P. Kennedy, do.; C. D. Westbrook of Green Bay, Wis.; Dr. S. H. Allen of Concord, N. H.; James Robinson of Knox Co., Ill.

Hugh Kennedy lost his wife and daughter. There are three dead bodies at Port Washington, all ladies. One had a ring marked Z. D. G.

The Niagara had a very heavy freight, and there was not a pound saved. Captain S. F. Miller and the crew saved. The propeller Illinois and several sail vesssels picked up a large number of the passengers. The Hon. John B. Macy is reported to have been on board the Niagara. The water was so cold that few could live in it.

CHICAGO, Thursday, Sept. 25, 1856.

There is no telegraph to Port Washington or Sheboygan, and we have consequently to wait for a full list of those lost by the burning of the Niagara. Indeed, we may not get it at all, as the passenger list was burned on board the boat.

The Niagara left Collingwood at 2 o'clock p. m. on Monday with between 150 and 175 passengers. Twenty-five left the boat at Sheboygan, where she arrived at 2 p. m. yesterday.

When two miles out from Sheboygan the passengers discovered fire issuing from the engine-room, and in a few minutes the whole cabin was in flames.

The wildest consternation followed. The boats were lowered, but all filled and capsized except one containing twenty passengers.—Numbers jumped overboard and were drowned.

The steamer Traveler was ten miles distant when the fire was discovered, but saved thirty persons.

The propeller Illinois, bound down, also picked up about thirty and landed them at Sheboygan.

A life-boat at Port Washington rescued twenty persons. Their names have not been received.

George Haley, clerk of the Niagara, is supposed to be lost. Probably fifty or sixty lives are lost in all.

There is a rumor in the city this afternoon that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

It is stated that immediately after the fire was discovered a keg of powder exploded, blowing the flames in every direction.

The first engineer was not on board.

☞ Mr. John C. Underwood, who was recently expelled from Virginia for being a Republican, writes to The Evening Post as follows:

A letter from my wife, who had been spending a Sabbath with her aunt a few miles from home, thus describes the first Republican flag which has been raised in the Old Dominion:

"I had a real laugh on Monday, when I came in sight of our house, to see fluttering in the breeze a Fremont flag on a high liberty pole, which Edward assisted by the men on the place, had raised in my absence. They had painted a piece of linen red and white, and put the letters on in a homely way, but still it was a Fremont flag. Some of the neighbors have threatened to cut it down, but the boys gave out that they slept with a loaded gun soaring upon the pole, and would certainly put a ball through the man that touched an ax to it; and so it has stood. I have promised to to make them a nice flag, and will send to morrow for the materials—red, white and blue.—Oh, how I wish I could get Fremont and Dayton put on it nicely, in large letters! If I choose to put up on our own land a Fremont flag, have I not the right? If not, do tell me and I will not do it; but if I can I am resolved to have the flag up let the consequences be what they may. Some gentleman have called and advised to have it taken down, said it was injuring us very much; but I said, No; it was up and it should stay up till I got a letter from you."

This I consider pretty good pluck in a woman, and boy only in his fourteenth year; and I reckon I shall not advise the striking of that flag.

☞ The report that Federal troops, under the direction of Gov. Geary, have arrested ninety of the Free-State volunteers in Lawrence and now hold them prisoners, requires confirmation. We are loth to believe that Gov. Geary has thus requited the confidence and trust reposed in him by the Free-State men. In no single instance, so far as we have evidence, have the Free-State men resisted the authority of the Federal Government or pointed a weapon at a Federal dragoon. Why, then, are they treated with such harshness while the Border Ruffians are allowed to glide out of the Territory unmolested and unharmed? Is this the impartial and just administration which Geary's rule was to insure?

That Col. Lane should retire from the Territory when his services at the head of its defenders were no longer necessary, is not unexpected. We do not believe, however, that Geary & Co. have any desire that he shall be overtaken and arrested. Having just rid themselves of the responsibility and odium of holding Gen. Robinson and his fellow-sufferers in durance, they are not likely to want another batch of political conscripts on their hands very soon.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ The following little item we clip from the Louisville Journal of the 18th:

HENRY CLAY'S OPINION OF JAS BUCHANAN.—"He (Cass) has quite as much ability, quite as much firmness, and, I think, perhaps much more honesty and sincerity" than Mr. Buchanan."—Private correspondence of Henry Clay, p. 629.

Query.—How much honesty can a man have who has a great deal less than Cass?

Who Conquered California.

There arrived by the last steamer, a certified copy of the evidence for the defence, in the case of Gibbs vs. Fremont, being the copy of depositions taken before Commissioners, under the authority of the Court of Common Pleas, London, in 1852. It will be remembered that Col. Fremont was arrested in London on account of debts contracted in California. The defence was that those debts were contracted on account of the United States government. Col Fremont drew bills of exchange to the amount of nineteen thousand, five hundred dollars, upon the Secretary of State of the United States, the liabilities having been incurred on government account, while Col. Fremont was Governor of California. The bills fell into the hauds of persons in London, and being protested for non-acceptance, the holders sought to hold Col. Fremont personally liable. Among the testimony taken on the trial, was that of JAMES BUCHANAN. We subjoin a portion of of Mr. Buchanan's testimony, enough to show the falsity of a lying pamphlet sent abroad under the frank of Wm Bigler, depreciating Col. Fremont's services in California:

Question.—Do you know who was the person in actual command of the land forces of the government of the United States in California, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty seven, and in the month of March in that year?

Answer.—Col. Fremont the defendant, was in California at the commencement of hostilities between the United States and the Republic of Mexico. He there raised and commanded a battalion of California Volunteers, consisting of abount 450 men; his services were very valuable; and he bore a conspicuous part in the conquest of California, and in my opinion is better entitled to be called the "Conquerer of California" than any other man.

I cannot undertake to decide the dispute between Col Fremont and Gen. Kearney, but as long as the California Battalion existed they were under the separate and independent command of Col. Fremont, whilst Gen. Kearney commanded the other troops of the United States Congress could not have anticipated that Col. Fremont would raise a California battalion by his own personal exertions, and with out previous instructions.

I should have accepted and paid these bills from general knowledge of things in California, had Congress appropriated any money and placed it at my disposal which could be applied to their payment, though it would have been more correct to have drawn these bills on the Secretary of War. I should have accepted paid these bills and had them charged in account against Col. Fremont, to be settled for at the general settlement of his accounts as Commander of the California battallion, had any such appropriation been made.

JAMES BUCHANAN.

☞ Mr. Buchanan thus spikes a number of the guns of his supporters!

☞ A meeting of some of the most wealthy New-York bankers and dry goods jobbers in the Southern trade was held by special invitation on the 25th Sept., at the New-York Hotel to take measures to remedy, if possible, the present desperate position of the Border Ruffian Democracy. Some fifty magnates of finance and cotton were present, representing a capital of not less than twenty millions of dollars. Some of the merchants, who took part in the proceedings, are slaveholders. The tone of the meeting was one of great despondency and almost of despair. One venerable gentleman who addressed the wealthy audience told them that it was necessary to take instant and powerful measures to prevent the defeat of the Buchanan ticket at the approaching State election in Pennsylvania. Such a defeat, he said, would be almost conclusive in favor of the election of Fremont. It would dishearten and break down the Democracy, inspire new courage and energy in the Republicans of other States, and in fact leave little hope of resisting the triumph of the Free-State party.—Money must be raised, and raised in liberal quantities.

With regard to the sums subscribed we have no means of knowing precisely, except that they were large. Long before the meeting was brought to a close, the list stood at not less than $20,000, and we presume it far surpassed that sum at the end. At a former meeting of the same kind, at the same place, it is understood that $50,000 was raised—all to carry the election in Pennsylvania. The true Democrats of that State have a fearful power to contend with in their efforts to carry the State in favor of Free Labor. When the great capitalists of the country thus make common cause with those who employ murder, robbery and arson as the means of subduing the free people of the Territories and forcing Slavery upon them, it becomes more than ever necessary for the honest masses who live by their own labor, to rise against this combined power of money and barbarous brutality. There is, however, one encouraging fact to be remembered in view of this combination; and that is that the lords of the money-bag and the cotton-bale have never yet carried an election against the Democratic masses when they were thoroughly aroused. Let us then see to it that they are now called into action. Farmers, workingmen, men who wish to leave your children free and independent! It is for you to save the country from the combination which threatens to exclude white laborers from the Territories and hand them over to the sole occupancy of slaves and slave breeders.—New-York Tribune.

WHO RESPECT THE CONSTITUTION—WHO VIOLATE IT?—Mr. UNDERWOOD, now of New York, cannot go to Virginia, save on pain of death or personal outrage and mutilation. No citizen of a northern state, opposed to slave labor, can remain one hour in Kansas, where there are Missourians enough to expel him at the point of the knife and the mouth of the pistol. He will have to fly, and have to leave behind him for pillage and appropriation, every dollar of his property. Throughout the slave states, gibbets would hang thick with the orators of republicanism, if they should go there to advocate the claims of FREMONT to the Presidency. On the other hand, HOWELL COBB, of Georgia, Senator TOOMBS, and BRECKENRIDGE, of Kentucky, and a battalion of the orators of slavery extension, traverse, without let or hindrance, every northern state, and urge Buchananism from the stump, and sanction of border ruffian policy towards Kansas.

A SOUTHERN CONTEMPLATION.—A Washington correspondent of the South Carolinian, a Buchanan paper, says:—"The news recently from the Northern States is very discouraging to the Democratic party. I should not be surprised if Fremont swept the North."
