Coffee is a native of Abyssinia, and not of Arabia, as many believe, and abounds in the province of Kaffa, whence it derives its name. The coffee tree was not transplanted from Abyssinia into Asia until the fifteenth century, when its culture was began in Arabia Felix, where, in the environs of Mocha, it grows to perfection. The Western world learned the use of coffee from the Orientals; but how the Orientals learned to use it is a difficult question to solve. An Arabian author of the fifteenth century records that it was a Mufti of Aden, who, in the ninth century, was the first to use coffee. At this epoch it was already known in Persia, where common tradition ascribes its discovery to one Mollah Chadelly, a pious Musselman, who was much troubled with drowsiness during his nocturnal meditations. He invoked Mahomet to come to his aid, who caused his faithful Mollah to meet with a goatherd, who led him to a coffee tree, and informed him that whenever his goats are of the berry of that tree, they passed the whole night wide awake, leaping and capering.

The devont Molleh prepared an infusion of the berry, which, after drinking, gave him for the whole night a most delectable state of sleeplessness. He made known his discovery, which was adopted by all the dervishes and doctors of the land, and the new beverage rapidly became popular over the whole Orient.

There are other versions of the discovery of the use of coffee as beverage. It is believed that the dervishes learned the means of overcoming sleep from the Cenobite Christians of Thebes and Ethiopis, who adopted the practice of drinking coffee. The Mohammedan priests soon became enemies of the new beverage, however, as it led the people to forsake the mosques and flock to the coffee-houses, and they harled the fiercest anathemas against it, but without avail.

Before the seventeenth century coffee was only known by name in France, and it did not become fashionable until Solomon Aga, the Turkish Ambassador to the Court of Louis XIV, gave an edat to coffee by offering it to the high-born dames of the realm. Curiosity and vanity led them to the Aga's residence, where he received them with oriental magnificence, and coffee was the rage. About the same time it became a favorite in Vienna, the method of its preparation having been learned from some Turks captured in battle. Twenty from some Turks captured in battle. Twenty years before, it was introduced into England by a British merchant, returned from Constantinople.

In France the coffee house became exceedingly popular, and notwithstanding the immense quantities of wine drank in France, there is probably no country, except Turkey and the United States, so thoroughly given to coffee. Tea is hardly known outside the great cities. A significant index of the universal use of coffee is the fact that, what we call a tea-spoon, the French invariably call a coffee-spoon.

Up to the 18th century all the coffee which was consumed in Europe came from Arabia, but in 1699 the Dutch introduced the plant in Third.

but in 1699 the Dutch introduced the plant in to Batavia, where it grew to perfection, and in 1710 a plant was sent to the botanical gardens of Amsterdam, where it flourished. offshoot was presented to Louis XIV, who sent it to the Jarden des Plants, and it became the ancester of all the coffee plantations in the West Indies : the French government succeeded, in 1820, in introducing it into Martinique. It is uncertain when the coffee plant was carried to Brazil, but nowhere has its growth and cultivation been so extensive and rapid. There are merchants living who saw the first small cargo shipped from Rio Janeiro, and now that port is the largest coffee mart in the world. The exports from that port, for the year ending June 30, 1855, were 2,352,284 bags, (of 160 lbs. Portuguese,) nearly one-half of which insmense amount came to the United States .-Good "old washed Rio" is said to be equal to the best Java.

THE EARTH AND THE SUN .- Some German papers are endeavoring to prove that the distance between the Earth and Sun is increasing annually, and argue from it that the increase ing humidity of some summers and the loss of fertility by the earth are to be attributed to this circumstance. In the course of six thousand years from the present time they asssume the distance will be so great that only an eighth part of the warmth we enjoy from the sun, will be communicated to the earth, and it will then be covered with eternal ice.

We like to see a woman tread the high and holy path of duty unblinded by sunshine and unsenttered by storm. There are hundreds who do so from the cradle to the grave, he roines, of whom the world has never heard, but whose names will be bright hereafter, even beside the greatest angels. So says some author: If this be true, how is it that so many great women are so hid from view? Because the bogus virtue of a bonnet or shawl has usurped the place of true virtue in the sex, and is more fushionable. That's the secret.

THE ELECTRO CHEMICAL BATH, DIRECT & TO-&-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE.

DIRECT & TO-&-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE.

JAMES HARRIS, ELECTRICIAN, of Towanda, respectfully informs the public that he has lately procured from New York the celebrated Electro-Chemical Bath, which has proven to be one of the most 'important and wonderful discoveries of the age, from its ability to extract minerals from the human system.

Some eight years ago, a physician of Cincinnati discovered the process of extracting minerals from the body, by galvanism; more recently, M. Verges, of New York, an electro-gilder, having suffered from the introduction of poisonous minerals into his system in the prosecution of his art, conceived the idea of removing them by the same processes, he succeeded in doing so, and quickly recovered. He then applied the same means to others similarly affected, with like results. His success exceeded his most sanguine expectations, for not only did these Baths remove mineral poisons, but cured many diseases, some of which were the result of minerals, and some were not.

More recent experiments have fully confirmed the singular power of this Bath to draw from the system all minerals that may be lodged therein, to the great detriment of health. Very often persons are afflicted by diseases which are beyond the comprehension of the most skilful physicians, and which are the effect of poisonous minerals accumulating in the system for years, taken in the shape of calomel, lead, &c. &c.

The following are some of the diseases cured by these baths: Rheumatism, Paralysis, Palsy, Painter's Cholic, Cifronic Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Scrofula, Cancer, Neuralia in all its forms, Salt Rheum and Humors of all kinds.

He has also S. B. Smith's newly invented DIRECT AND Minerals and the stream of the comprehence of KINDS.

He has also S. B. Smith's newly invented DIRECT AND TO-AND-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE, which TO-AND-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE, which is a great improvement on the Magnetic machines heretofore in use. With the aid of the Bath and Machine, we have at command all the available medical efficiency of Electricity. The medical power of the Machine is very great, in introducing medicines into the system through the pores of the skin—applying it directly to the parts affected, which gives an increase of medicinal power over that of taking it into the stomach, rendering it particularly efficatious in all local diseases.

I am now prepared to apply these Baths, and also the Machines, at my house in the south part of the borough of Towanda, or I will visit patients at a distance, who are unable by reason of disease to come to this place, at moderate prices.
