Meadows and Pastures.

Grass is a favorite of nature, springing up fresh and green without our care almost every where, so that we have come often to neglect our meadows and pastures. We leave them to take care of themselves, when, with a share of the attention which we give to other crops, we might largely increase their value, and find that labor as well repaid as any performed up-on the farm. A large share of our landed capital is required to produce the one item of forage, and did we examine into the subject, we should find that many an acre in pasture or meadow gives but a meagre return of profit, or worse, perhaps, entails an annual loss upon the owner. It will scarcely answer to keep land worth from $40 to $80 per acre, in poor pasture, or in any condition but that which calls for its best results, whatever may be the crop to which it is devoted.

We do not give adequate attention to seed ing our grass land Many an acre is now mown or pastures, which never received a thimblefall of seed from the hand of man. It may produce grass, but many other plants-weeds, rather, occupy a portion of the space and pay no rent therefor. Had the good seed been sown there would have been few vacancies for the bad, and valuable forage would have covered the whole surface. In seeding new land, too little care is given to preparing for the seed-on new and old we sow too small a quantity-saving a dollar in seed to lose ten in hay or pasture. To carieties we also give too little heed-forgetting that the different grasses are in their prime for only a short part of the year, and that by a due mixture of varieties we may keep our pastures green from early spring until the snow covers them from our sight.

A still greater loss results from the want of drainage. Especially is this true of our permanent meadows and pastures, which are generally located on land unfitted for the plow -swampy or hilly, full of springs and low places, just fitted for holding stagnant water .-In low, swampy lands, where surface water stands late in spring, the cultivated grasses are destroyed, and flags and rushes soon take their place. If the grass "still lives " its value is much deteriorated, and a sickly growth is given, poor as pasture and worthless as hay. The remedy lies in proper surface drainage, where the situation is unfavorable to a more thorough course of procedure. A few days' work will often save largely in increase of grass, both in quality and quantity. On hilly, springy land, a ditch to collect the water at the fountain head, instead of allowing it to spread over a large space, will often prove of great benefit. Many cases might be cited, but every farmer can see, in a wet season, where drainage is of the first necessity, and where it would work wonders in the character and value of the crops produced.

Dry land in grass often suffers severely from poverty of the soil-want of manure-as well as from the shallow character of the previous culture. A deep, rich soil will stand drouth far better and longer than a hard and poor one. That culture which gives the best grain and root crops, best prepares the laud for the growth of clover and the grasses. Let such land be deeply cultivated and well manu ed and with or after the first crop liberally stockand with or after the first crop liberally stock-ed to grass, and the product will be all that can be desired. Upland pastures and mea-dows may be improved by a top-dressing of fine manure or ashes, plaster, bone-dust, guano, &c. Plaster, especially, should be sown on young clover—it will increase its growth and hid it materially in enduring the first winter. We must give this subject more thorough stituation. There is no need of strending our attention. There is no need of spreading our pastures and meadows so thin that they cover her for the Winter Term commences November 26, and continues 14 weeks, besides 10 days recess at Christmas. pastures and meadows so thin that they cover half our farms. DIRECT & TO-&-FROELECTR.O MAGNETIC MACHINE. JAMES HARRIS, ELECTRICIAN, of Towanda, respect-fully informs the public that he has lately procured from New York the celebrated Electro-Chemical Bath, which has proven to be one of the most important and wonderful discoveries of the age, from its ability to extract minerals from the human system. Some eight years ago, a physician of Cincinnati disco-vered the process of extracting minerals from the body, by galvanism ; more recently. M. Verges, of New York, an electro-gilder, having suffered from the introduction of poisonous minerals into his system in the prosecution of his art, conceived the idea of removing them by the same processes, he succeeded in doing so, and quickly recovered. He then applied the same means to others similarly af-fected, with like results. His success exceeded his most sanguine expectations, for not only did these Baths remove mineral poisous, but cured many discases, some of which were the result of minerals, and some were not. More recent experiments have fully confirmed the sin-gular power of this Bath to draw from the system all mi-nerals that may be lodged therein, to the great detriment of health. Very often persons are afflicted by discases which are beyond the comprehension of the most skillar physicians, and which are the effect of poisonous mine-rals accumulating in the system for years, taken in the shape of calomel, lead, &c. &c. The following are some of the diseases cured by these baths: Rheumatism, Paralysis, Palsy, Painter's Cholic, I Chronic Ucers, Glandular Swellings, Scrofula, Cancer, Neuralia in all its forms, Salt Rheum and Humors of all kinds. He has also S, B. Smith 'snewly invented DIRECT AND

Neurana in an its forms, said kneun and rithnors of an kinds. He has also S. B. Smith's newly invented DIRECT AND TO-AND-FRO ELECTRO MAGNETIC MACHINE, which is a great improvement on the Magnetic machines hereto-fore in use. With the aid of the Bath and Machine, we have at command all the available medical efficiency of Electricity. The medical power of the Machine is very great, in introducing medicines into the system through the pores of the skin—applying it directly to the parts af-fected, which gives an increase of medicinal power over that of taking it into the stomach, rendering it particular-ly efficacious in all local diseases. I am now prepared to apply these Baths, and also the Machines, at my house in the south part of the borough of Towanda, or I will visit patients at a distance, who are unable by reason of disease to come to this place, at mo-derate prices.

other crops. The more stock the more manure, the more manure the better grain, and the greater the product and profit of our farms. Improvement here begins at the very foundation of good husbandry and leads on to progress in the thorough culture of the whole farm-to better crops, better stock, and a better return for our labor. Let us begin the work at once. If we have any grass lands covered with water late in spring, now is the time to drain them. Let us level down and fill up, dig out stumps and stones, and give the ever ready grasses room to grow and flour ish. He has been called a benefactor of the race, who makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before, let us deserve the name an hundred fold.

THE AGE OF HORSES .- A few days ago we met a gentleman from Alabama, who gave us a piece of information in regard to ascertaining the age of a horse, after he or she has passed the ninth year, which was new to us, and will be, we are sure, to most of our readers It is this : After the horse is nine years old a wrinkle comes on the eye-lid, at the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well-defined wrinkle for each year over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkles, he is twelve ; if four, he is thirteen. Add the number of wrinkles to nine, and you will always get it. So says the gentleman, and he is confident it will never fail. As a good many people have horses over nine it is easily tried. If true, the horse dentist must give up his trade .- Southern Planter.

Cough in Horses .- We once had a horse that had caught a bad cold, and coughed so severely that he could be heard half a mile. All sorts of remedies were all rejected, although some might have proved useful, and the following course pursued. The horse was in the first place very carefully and moderately used so as to never produce perspiration. He was carefully blanketed when the weather was cold (it was about mid-autumn) or when he was in the least degree heated ; he was kept constantly on green and succulent food, clover, roots, &c., and was supplied with plenty of the best water at all times. In a few weeks he was perfectly well. It is an old saying that more depends on the nurse than on the physician, which was verified in this instance .- Ger. Telgraph.

" DRESSING " IN AMERICA .- A lady, during the past season writing from Newport, Rhode Island, says :- " We have to dress about nine times a day here. First, we put a dress on to dress in ; then we are ready for a breakfast. After that we dress for the beach, then for the bath, then for dinner, then for the drive, then for the ball, and then for the bed.
