ed; but I am convinced there will be no difficulty in graining it if tried previous to frost. If it is planted by the middle of May, it will ripen by the end of August, and remain in good condition until frost, and if cut up and put in a shed (in apprehension of frost) it will keep well for a month or more.

I will give a statement of what may be made per acre, judging from the amount of water obtained from each stalk. One of my neighbors, Mr. A. Degan, obtained from seven choice stalks one gallon of water; and in another trial made by Mr. McCleary, Sen., and myself, we pressed from ten stalks one gallon and a quart. The number of stalks in a hill should be from four to six. In my calculations I only estimate one quart of water to the hill, allowing sixteen hills per square rood, which will make 2,560 hills to the acre; and this, at one quart per hill, will make 110 gallons of molasses. Valued at 75 cents per gallon, it would amount to $8,250 per acre, and I do not hesitate in saying that the amount may be doubled.

I would urge upon the farmers of the western country to try it. You will not only save, but make money in the operation. I am well convinced that in 1860 the southern planter will have no sale for his sugar in the State of Illinois. From present indications there will be one hundred acres raised in Wabash coun ty next year, which will save the county $10,-000. The time to commence working the cane is when the seeds have changed from green to a dark red hue, although it will remain good until fairly matured.

Should any person wish to make the experiment, I have some seed to spare-one quart will plant an acre. J. M. Khron, McCleary's Bluff, Wabash county, Illinois .- Graysville

Horses too Well Fed .- The following remarks of a skillful practitioner and close observer, are worthy of attention. Dr. Dac'd has been, however, more uniformly fortunate in the horses which have passed before his eyes, than some others. Horses are often overfed with grain, but we never knew one to eat too much hay or grass, when it was supplied regularly. They are rarely attacked with disease, when little or no grain is given them; or if given, when supplied in small and regular quantities. The most frequent causes of disease, are high and irregular working, and exposure and water when warm by exercise.

A great proportion of our horses are too well fed-obtain more food than they require. In this land of plenty most of our valuable horses are overfed, and more especially does this happen among animals owned by wealthy and liberal individuals. The impression we wish to convey to the mind of the reader is, that the food of such, is not proportioned to labor -in other words, there exists a disproportion between the amount of carbon taken in the form of food, and the oxygen received in the process of respiration. Now to illustrate this we will suppose that a man engaged in men cantile pursuits owns one or more horses; h one or the other the necessary amount of ex ercise; they stand up to a full crib, from da to day; enjoying, or rather, gorging them selves with a certain amount of fodder, over and above what they actually require, and much more than they really need; the surply is often stored up in the form of fat, and th induces acute diseases, and they die of too muc food and care. It is very rare that we hav occasion to recommend a man to feed his horse more liberally, but almost always the reverse. Starvation is said to be the cause for many equine diseases, but so far as our experience goes, such cases are, in this country, very rare. We conceive the term starcation to be a libel upon eivilization; and so infrequent is its ap plication among a nation of husbandmen, that it is omitted in our dictionaries. A man on a barren rock, or a horse in the deserts of Arabia, might probably starce, but the idea of the latter starring in the vicinity of a well-stocked barn or stable-within striking distance of a land of plenty—seems te us a very absurd conclusion There are enough horses to be found dressed up in the garb of starvation; having tight skins, prominent ribs, and a cadaverous countenance, living, yet half dead. But they know nothing of the "Famine in Egypt;" they get enough, but too much of the same kind .- Dadd's Veterinary Journal.

How MUCH SHOULD A Cow EAT ?—Cows, to give milk, require more food than most farmers imagine. J. W. Johnstone, writing from Munich to the Country Gentleman, gives an interesting report of some experiments which have been made in Baravia, from which the following is an extract : " Our trials have confirmed the view that cows, to give the greatest possible quantity of milk, must daily receive and consume one-thirtieth of their live weight in hay, or an equivalent therefor. If more food be given it goes to the formation of flesh and fat, without occasioning a corresponding increase in the yield of milk; but if, on the contrary, less food be furnished, the amount and value

The Chinese Sugar Cane.

Being requested by many to publish a statement, through the columns of your paper, of my experience with, and the value of the Chinese Sugar Cane, I therefore send you the following statement, which you will please insert:

On the 25th of May I planted about half an acre of ground, one year old. A portion of the soil was low and wet in the spring—in fact I covered the seel with mud; the other part was high and sandy; the consequence was, when the dry season set in the wet part baked very hard, and the high burnt up for want of rain. I plowed it when about teninches high, and that was all the working it got, with the exception of a slight hocing previous to plowing; my object was to ascertain the amount of saccharine matter contained in the stalks, and supposed enough would grow to make the experiment. Many of the stalks grew from sixteen to twenty feet high, (in the low ground it only grew twelve feet.)

Having made a mill in which to grind it. I commenced on tho 24th of September. The cane then had received two or three frosts, which slightly injured the taste of the water. I am convinced that the amount of stalks I used can be grown on less than a quarter of an acre. The amount of water obtained from the piece was 270 gallons, from which I made 45 gallons, which, in flavor and beautiful bright red color, is far superior to any molasses obtained from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. I did not try to grain any of it, as it will not grain after being frost-indend from the South. The doctrine that no human being was ever created for the benefit or advantage of another—that all service between man and man should be free and reciprocal—that the laborer should not toil and sweat to pamper others pride or minister to others' luxury, but for the sustenance and comfort of those near and dear to him—is destined to certain triumph. It must prevail, for God reigns, and Earth was not created to be a theatre of injustice, oppression and misery for ever. It must triumph; for all true prophecy affirms and the vindication of the Divine benignity imperatively requires it. It must triumph; for Democratic America cannot always remain the scoff of aristocrats and the shame of reformers and liberals throught out the Old World. It must triumph; for Man's history is not a choos or a riddle, but everywhere instinct with meaning; and no heroic effort ever failed of its effect—no drop of martyr blood was ever shed in vain.

But even if we Republicans were disposed to fold our arms in slumber our adversaries would not permit it. They are hasy to-day in lengthening their cords and strengthening their stakes with a vigilance and activity which reveals a consciousness on their part that their dominion must be made sure forthwith or their sceptre will have forever departed. To-day, myrmidoms of the Slave Power threaten and harass Northern Mexico, are encamped in the heart of Central America and waging a war of extermination on the distracted inhabitants of its petty Reer threaten and harass Northern Mexico, are encamped in the heart of Central America and waging a war of extermination on the distracted inhabitants of its petty Republics, while it Ly turns leers and seowls at Cuba, while its most ruthless bands are precipitated on devoted Kansas, under the protection and smiles of the Federal Administration. Even as we write, the telegraph informs us that twenty Free-State men, guilty of attempting to defend their homes against the rapine and violence of Buford's and Titus' blood-thirsty bandits, have been convicted by Lecompte's Court of manslaughter! and sentenced to five years' imprisonment at hard labor as felons. This is but a fair specimen of what has long passed for 'justice' in Kansas—a justice which takes the criminals into pay and aids them in hunting down, plundering and "wiping out" the innocent, whom it consigns to the State prison if they are ever goaded into the madness of resisting their oppressors. Such crimes and wrongs as unhappy Kansas has for twelve months endured, even Hungary or Poland has never known; and the Power at whose instigation these villainies were and are perpetrated sits enthroned in the White House, and has just achieved another four years' ascendancy in the Federal Government. Who, in view of these facts, can say that Pentsicans may now pile their arms, even for an hour?

The Tribute will be, as it has been, a Political Journal—avowedly, though not exclusively so. It recognizes the truth that Fréciom and Slavery are here grappled in deadly conflict, and that in the result one of them must lose all control over the Federal Government. But, while tig gives prominence and emphasis to the discussion and elacidation of the great issue of the day, it sinks none of the characteristics of a Business and Family Newspaper. The proceedings of Congress, like those in Kansas, will be watched and reported by an able and fearless corps of Correspondents, while from London, Paris, Constanting-lip, Havana, San Francisco, Albany and other centres of interest, our special advices will be, as they have been, thesh and reliable. A member of our Editorial corps—Bayard Taylor—is now in Northern Europe, and will spend the Winter in Sweden, Lapland, Russia, thence making his way next season across Siberia and Tartary to the mouth of the Amour, and thence homeward by the Pacific and California, unless some change of route shall promise greater interest and profit to our readers, for whom alone he will write regularly throughout his adventurous journey, which is likely to require two years for its completion. Our reports of the most interesting Lectures, Public Meetings, &c., will be full and reliable, and our Foreign and Domestic News made up with a careful regard to the condensation into our ample columns of the greatest amount of intelligence that is consistent with the use of type of a generous size.
