The falling leaves reminds us that the cold and stormy months are near at hand-are even here. Silently, but steadily and surely the seasons revolve, each bringing its peculiar pleasures and duties. The boys through the country, we take it, are now enjoying themselves in gathering chestnuts, beechnuts, butternuts, walnuts, and the like, for their consumption during the iong Winter evenings .-Farmers and provident housekeepers generally are storing away in their cellars, apples, Winter pears and vegetables and supplying their barns and sheds with all things needful for the health and comfort of their stock.

Alas ! we fear we must recall the last statement, or modify it somewhat. There are farmers who neglect some of their duties at this season, and need occasional prompting from their neighbors or from the agricultural press. To such we say, Look out for Winter ! See that your barns are in complete repair. -It is economy to spend all needful time and labor in doing this. All domestic animals as you know, must keep up their vital heat by some means, to about 100 degs., and this can be done wholly by consuming food, or in part by food, and partly by shelter. If they are left out of doors, or kept in dilapidated stables, they will eat as much more to keep themselves warm than if they were comfortably housed. And besides, a uniform temperature is healthier for animals, as for men, than a changeable one. It is great folly to keep stock out of doors in Winter for the sake of " hardening them."

Our exhortation, then, is to give horses, cattle, sheep, and even pigs and poultry good Winter quarters. Those which are fitting for market, will of course need more shelter and care than others which are simply being Wintered over; but all should be made comfortable. Battens should be nailed over the cracks on the exposed sides of the barns, every loose board should be tightened, and double walls in the immediate neighborhood of the horsestalls would not be thrown labor away.

Then, as to fodder, see to it that you have enough. Short commons in Winter is no mark of good farming. Pinch yourself, rather than your stock. To make food go a great ways : provide yourself with a straw-cutter. Cornstalks cut fine will be eaten up to the bulbs by cattle; and straw, clover and coarse hay, will be eaten much cleaner than if fed out uncut. They will also be better digested. If grain or meal of any kind is mixed with the cut food it should always be moistened with water .-Apples, carrots, turnips, potatoes, &c., should be kept on hand, and fed out at intervals in the Winter. The dumb beasts relish these dishes exceedingly, and every true farmer can read their satisfaction in their expressive faces and such readings does him good.

SALTING PORK .- It is important to have the pork well cooled before salting. And it should never be allowed to freeze. It should always have a great supply of salt, and of the strongest quality, and brine should be made and poured into the barrel. For if nothing but water is put in with the salt the pork may be injured before the salt is melted enough to make good brine.

The meat should have a weight upon it, to keep it under the brine ; for if pieces of meat are permitted to rise above the brine, and remain there for any considerable time, they will be tainted, and will not taste sweet, as Ponds have impure water-and why ?-Ponds of small dimensions are not agitated enough. As a general rule, the larger the more free from scum. Running brooks have purer water than ponds, because in running the water mingles with the atmosphere-the grand purifier of all things.

Motion, in streams of water, birngs all the foul or riley matter in contact with the other matter on the bank that has as affinity for it so that a long brook may run itself pure though it may have been affected with filthy matter near its source. Agitation of the pork barrel daily will have the effect of preventing the accumulation of scum on the surface; but if this is not convenient, the white surface may be skimmed off as soon as it rises.

It is quite important to every family to have good salt pork. It is the very cheapest meat that we can procure, and for cooking vegetables it is the best that is used. It needs no butter to enrich it, but it enriches all with which it comes in contact. Farmers should not fail to have a supply of pork in the cellar. Then, if the butcher forgets to come, there will be something for dinner.—Exchange.

SAVE THE SOOT .-- This, though generally thrown into the streets and wasted is one England, and when only 15 or 20 bushels are applied to the acre, it induces the most luxuriant crops of wheat, and other grains. It contains in small compass, almost all the ingredients of the coal or wood used for fuel. It also contains several salts of ammonian, magnesia, lime and muriatic acid. Its components are the natural food or stimulents of plants, and it can used to great advantage as a concentrated fertilizer, to stimulate germinating seed in the drill. It is not only sown broadcast with the grain, but it is applied to the root crops with the best results. Potatoes and carrots, especially, are benefited by it.—Six quarts of soot to a hogshead of water of the best manures. It is extensively used in Six quarts of soot to a hogshead of water make an excellent liquid manure for the garden. It can be applied with safety to all garden crops, and will pay for saving. In putting the stoves, furnaces and fire places in order for Winter, bear it in mind, that soot is one, two, three or more barrels can be saved easily in most families, especially where wood is burned.

At a recent celebration of West India Emancipation, at Pittsburgh, Pa., a colored orator let slip the following :- "When a nation turns from God and humanity, then God catches that nation by the neck and twists it up and hur's it down there, futher than a sun's beam could eatch it in a thousand years."

CATHARTIC PILLS

Nr.W and singularly successful remedy for the cur-l of all Billious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion indice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Pevers, Gout, Humors rousness, Irritability, Inflanations, Headache, Pain the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints well-salted meat always will.

A wooden cover is often used to keep the meat under the brine, but a stone cover is better. A hole may be drilled in a stone cover and a handle inserted at a very small cost.

In regard to the scum that our correspondent speaks of we say that standing pools of water, either salt or fresh, will have a scum on them. Agitation is the remedy which nature provides. The ocean is agitated to keep it pure, and agitation, coupled with salt, is effectual.

Ponds have impure water—and why?—

in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c., &c. Indeed very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; seides it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Billious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the hearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing anything higher they have been effected beyond being, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted positions and character as to forbid sons of such exalted positions and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the eminent gentlemen who have testified in favor of these Pills, we may mention:

Doct. A. A. HAYES, Analytical Chemist of Boston, and State Assayer of Massachusetts, whose high Professional character is endorsed by the—

Hon. EDWARD EVERETT, Senator of the United

ROBERT C. WINTHROP, Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives.
ABBOTT LAWRENCE, Minister Plen. to England. +JOHN B. FITZPATRICK, Catholic Bishop of Boston

Dr. J. R. CHILTON, Practical Chemist of New York

M. B. ASTOR, the richest man in America.
EELAND & Co., Proprietors of the Metropolitan

S. EELAND & Co., Proprietors of the Metropolitan Hotel, and others.

Did space permit, we could give many hundred certificates from all parts where the Pills have been used, but evidence even more convincing than the experience of eminent public men, is found in their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford.—
They are compounded not of the drugs themselves, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies extracted by Chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of composition for medicines has been found in Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While by the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by this each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and obnoxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being-retained. Hence it is self evident the effects should prove as they have proved, more purely remedial, and the Pills a more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.
