February has been called a month of leis-There is nothing especially driving, but for the provident farmer, anxious to relieve a more busy season from every possible care, there is plenty of work that may appropriately be done now. The chief employment will be the daily care of stock of all kinds, and that nothing is suffered to waste about the buildings. Too many farmers look upon the Winter season as a time when little can be earned, without sufficiently bearing in mind that to husband is to earn. The barn, the work-shop the wood-shed, the cellar, the forest or woodpile will admit a variety of labor in clear or stormy weather. The Southern planter will now be actively at work manuring, plowing and putting in early crops.

Cattle require a large amount of care dur ing this month, both on their own, and their owners account. They should not fall away in flesh as Spring approaches, nor should a lavish, wasteful method of feeding be pursued, thus exhausting the fodder before grazing time. Use the straw cutter daily, and if there is much coarse feed, a steaming appa-yet unfinished FODDER-Cut and steam as much of the coarse as possible, feeding with Indian meal, bran, and cut roots. Use in the racks in the yard, rather than scatter the fodder where it will be trampled by stock. We trust the practice of feeding in a distant stack yard has been discarded Fowls-See directions of last month, and give cooked potatoes or other vegetables in addition to their grain feed. Select and set eggs during the latter part of the month for early chickens.

GRAIN-If any remains unthreshed, leave it no longer a prey to rats and mice. See that vermin are kept from the granaries, and cattle and sheep from the growing fields. Eating Fairbank's Platform Scales, and Welch & Griffith's Circuoff at this season will be very injurious. Look out for early spring seed.

Hogs-With a full supply of warmed cooked food, give charcoal and salt occasionally, especially to breeding sows. Keep their pens well supplied with manurial agents, and a good bed of straw or leaves.

Horses and Mules-Give grain or carrots with cut feed. See that working horses are well shod, during icy weather. Keep blanketed when not in use, and well bedded at night. ICE Houses-Watch for the first opportunity to fill with thick clear ice, if not already done. Pack close, filling crevises with broken pieces. All this, if you get any ice this Win-We have seen none to this date (Jan.

The particular period must be governed by the season. Provide the necessary troughs or buckets and spouts. Have the boilers arranged and everything in readiness for operation.

Tools—Employ the stormy days in putting them in order, and making any new ones wanted in the Spring or Summer. Waggons, carts, barnesses and furm gear of all kinds should be looked to.

Turnips and other Roots—Feed daily, giving after rather than before milking. Use the root cutter to reduce them fine enough for sheep even.

Wood-If the supply of last year is now exhausted, get up a larger pile this Winter .-Improve the sledding at the north, and good wheeling elsewhere to the best advantage while they last. But, split and store under cover enough to last till April, at least of next year. There will be economy in it, in more ways than one.

ORCHARD AND NURSERY.

Where grounds are frozen or covered with snow, little now can be done among the trees. save scraping of moss and rough bark, pruning and clearing the snow from the branches of small tress. In some localities the ground is open and transplanting may be done, lands manured and plowed, nursery trees taken up, packed and sent away.

The comparative leisure of this month will afford a good opportunity to go through both Orchard and Nursery and cleanse old and young trees from moss, rough bark and insects using soap suds freely. The moss can readily be washed from the branches of large trees immediately after a rain, by a brush broom, tied to a pole. If a little potash or soap be added to the water, so much the better.
