Important from Salt Lake.

St. Louis, Friday, March 12, 1858. The Council Blffs Bugle, of the 3d, says that Mr. WINGATE has just arrived, from Salt Lake Jan. 25, and reports that there was no snow in the Salt Lake Valley, and very little on the mountains. He came by a route known only to the Mormons, through the mountains, by which only horsemen in single file can pass. The army has not discovered any trace of it. The route passes through perpendicular rocks for thirteen miles, is in many places only three feet wide, and is completely covered by a roof of rock.

Mr WINGATE says that the Mormons are manufacturing small cannon with percussion locks, and telescopic sights, which will carry a two pound ball, with much more certainty than a common rifle, 120 yards. They are also making five hundred revolvers a week, and manufacturing a coarse kind of gunpowder for mining purposes.

A skirmish had occurred between a party of Mormons and a picket-guard of the Army, in which two of the former were killed, and it was reported that four of the latter were

Mr. WINGATE says that BRIGHAM YOUNG is willing that the Civil Officers shall come into the Territory, and enter upon their duties, but if the Army attempts to enter the Valley, it will be resisted. On the 24th of January, BRIGHAM YOUNG when Young asked, "all in favor of giving the troops Hell, rise."

SHOEMAKERS can find everything in March 10, 1858.

A letter from Captain Marcy, at Taos, Jan. 24, says that he was forty-seven days in making the trip from Fort Bridger. For two hundred miles the party encountered snow two and five feet deep. They made only thirty miles in ten days, and for eleven days lived on their starved mules. One man perished on the way and many were badly frozen. Fortyfour of the sixty-six mules with which he started died.

At Washington, a day or two since, a Cape Ann gentleman remarked that there were more Massachusetts Democrats seeking offices at the seat of Government, than there were left now of the Buchanan Democrats in the Bay State.
