Hints on Farm Work for April.

Let the fences all be prepared as soon as possible, if any of that work is left over from last month.

Get out the manures and composts for the Spring and Summer crops. In this, better fertilize half the ground well than to go over the whole with a scant supply. If the meadows have not been already top-dressed with manure for the season, they had better be postponed till after having, as the raw portions of the dung will remain, and be in the way of the scythe, and mowing machine. Besides this, the soil will be badly cut up by the teams, and wagon, or cart wheels, doing more hurt than the dung will do it good. Let the loose stones be also picked off the mowing lots, and carried off altogether. Putting them lumber. Rake and pitch together the litter of the barn yards where it can rot down into for the young fibres that will strike from them in the next year or two. Put in the plows for the coming crops. Plow deep not while sluggards sleep only, but plow deep always. Recollect you have amost excellent farm right below the one you now occupy and only about six or eight inches under it, where the roots of your previous crops have seldom penetrated. Only work into this new farm thoroughly, say three to six inches. and let it see daylight by throwing its fresh soil up to the sun, and the effects, after the first year or two will surprise you. Don't mind the "hard plowing.". Put on an extra team or two; or if you have not that extra team of your own, change work with your neighbor, and you will be well compensated in the crops -next year, if not this. Don't be afraid of that "nasty yaller clay," or that "leachy gravel," or "poor sandy stuff," if it does come np. If not quite as good the first year, it will be the second, and soon you will have a deep rich soil a foot deep where you only had from two to six inches before. When well plowed, and the surface dry, put on the harrow, the teeth sharp, and thick, and tear it up as finely as possible for the young seeds.

Plant early potatoes as soon as the ground is warm enough. Let the peas, barley, Spring wheat, and oats be in as soon as possible .--One day of early Spring growth is worth a week of June or July in giving a thrifty stalk and well filled head.

Fix the ground for corn, and beans, the latter part of the month, and let it lie up to the sun to thoroughly warm, so as to be ready to plant in good season-the right time to plant you know better than we do, as we are ignorant of the exact place you live. Corn ought to come up quickly, and then grow right on, without stopping a day till it ripens. Stunted corn, be it either by cold in the ground after planting, or frost, or drought after it comes up, never gets forward like that which has no pull-And in a corn country, like ours, backs. where we rely largely on that crop to make meats as well as to sell, and eat it, it should receive the very best part of our attention.

Cut out the broken branches, if there be any ; put crutches under and straighten up the leaning trees ; throw the head into shape, and let them go on rejoicing in the protection of a good master who appreciates their value.

Get the tools all in order, and keep them so. When the field is plowed bring the plow in, and put it under cover ; so with the harrow, and other tools. Have a place for them, and let them be in their place, so you can put your hand on them in the dark. The same with shovels, hoes, axes-indeed everything that you work with on the farm, as sleds, wagons, carts, exclusive.

The cows are now bringing their calves. We have already told you how to manage them, as well as sheep with their lambs.

Young colts usually drop in this month, and May. Look well to the mares about this time. Don't work them hard for a few days before, and after dropping the foal. A sweated mare is more injured in the way of her milk for the young foal than is almost anything else. She may work constantly after the colt is a week old, but the work must be uniform, and not hurried. Her blood must be kept equable, and her feed generous. Chopped hay, or straw with meal of some kind is the best, being easy of digestion, and producing plenty of milk.

Let the cows be still stabled every night until the weather is warm enough for lying out. Cows are just as liable to catch cold by exposure as folks are, and as their coats are now coming off they are thinner haired than usual, for a month or more.

In short, look well to everything about the " Whatseover your eyes sees, or your place. hands find to do, do it with all your might, and in good time." "Eternal vigilance is the price of"-success in anything, except a windfall of good fortune ; but as we " common folks" have no especial expectations in that line we must trust to our own stout hands and willing minds for the achievements of what good fortune is to attend us in life, and as " April fool's" day is now past, we hope the balance of the month is going to be appropriated to the getting of wisdom, and understanding, as well as the getting in of our future crops, on which our success for the whole year is to rely. April, is perhaps, the most important month in | san the whole season .- American Agriculturist.
