Lecompton in the House.

After repeated victories, in which the House majority has stood firm in opposition to the Lecompton swindle, they have at last experienced a reverse. The Senate's efforts to force the House into an endorsement of the Lecompton Constitution having been frustrated in eve-17 instance, they at last proposed a conference; and on Wednesday, contrary to the hope and expectation of Anti-Lecompton men everywhere, the House decided to grant a Committee of Conference. The following is a report against all appropriations for river and barbor of the proceedings :

CONGRESSIONAL ADJOURNMENT-THE DAY FIX-ED .- Both Houses of Congress have voted to close the present session on Monday, the 7th of June, the Senate having on Thursday concurred in a joint resolution to that effect previously adopted by the House of Representatives. This is an earlier day than has of late years been usual, and some will doubtless attribute it to the fact that members of Congress receive a fixed salary instead of eight dollars per diem as formerly. Their pay is now $3,000 per session, exclusive of mileage, as well for the short session, which terminates on the 4th of March, as for the long one which ends whenever Congress pleases. The present is the first session held under the salary regulation, and the day designated for adjournment will probably be in some sense a precedent. months is certainly long enough even for the long session; and if by any possible edict or rule the length and number of Buncombe essays read and spouted, could be materially curtailed, the country would have cause to re-

THE FUNERAL OF THE HON. THOMAS H. BEN-TON .- St Louis, Friday, April 16 .- At 10 o'clock this morning the remains of Mr. BENTON were taken from the hall of the Mercantile Library to the Second Presbyterian Church, where the funeral ceremonies were performed by the Rev. Mr. Cowan, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Anderson and the Rev. Mr. Brooks .-When the services were concluded the body was placed in the hearse and was followed to the Bellefontaine Cemetery by the most imposing procession ever formed in St. Louis. It consisted of the relations and friends of the family, all the military companies of the city, the Seventh Regiment of United States Infantry, under the command of Colonel Mor-RISON, the Judges of the Courts, the members of the Bar, the members of the City Government, a large majority of the Benevolent Societies of the City, the Turners Association, and an immense concourse of citizens in carriages and on foot. The cortege was forty five minutes in passing a given point. The body of McDowell Jones, a grandchild of Mr. Bex-Ton's, was conveyed to the tomb at the same

BAPTISM IN HOOPS .- At Chicago last week, a rather amusing scene took place during the baptism of a young lady by the pastor of the Tabernacle. The Union says: "The minister requested her to assume the dress peculiar to such an occasion, but she declined to take off her hooped skirt; the minister told her of the inconvenience that must result from her obstinacy, but she persisted. Her head was lost to the congregation, she was swallowed up in the swelling skirt, the minister tried to force her down into the bath, but she was kept above the surface by the floating properties of the crinoline, and was buoved up so successfully that it was not until after much difficulty and many forcible attempts to submerge the lady, the minister succeeded in baptizing the fair one. Finally it was effected, to the relief of the minister and the seriously inclined audience, who could not keep from laughing in their pocket-bandker-

MELANCHOLY DEATH .- Mr. Warren Johnson of Shepard's Creek, was killed on Wednesday, while running a quantity of logs down a rollway. The logs were blocked about mid-way down the hill, and while loosening them Mr Johnson attempted to clear himself as they started, by springing over the logs, up the hill, but seeing he could not effect this, turned and run for the creek, near the base of the runway, and was struck in the back while in the act of leaping over a log that was laving on the bank of the creek, crushing him so severely that he died in about six hours .- Waverly Ad-

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 19.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs this morning directed M. CLINGMAN, its chairman, to report a resolution abrogating the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, condemning it both in its American as well as its British construction, and authorizing the President to take immediate steps for its abrogation.

The report that the Senate Committee of Conference have unanimously agreed to report mprovements, is incorrect. Mr. Hamlin did not agree to the proposition. The Joint Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill met this morning, all the members being present. Mr. GREEN, on behalf of the Mr. English announced that if the previous majority of the Senate Committee, submitted several proposed modifications of the Senate bill, none of which proved acceptable to the House Committee. Propositions were then solicited from the House Committee. Mr. ENGLISH responded that at the next meeting be would submit a new bill, the precise character of which has not transpired, but it is understood to be a new line, proposing a substitute for the Lecompton ordinance, and that the question of admission under the Lecompton Conorder to the effect that the House, having stitution be referred to a fair vote of the peoonce adhered, could not retrace its steps. The ple of Kansas at an early day :-- if the majority vote for it, Kansas to come into the Union at once under the President's proclamation; if against it, then the bill provides for the formation of a new Constitution, whenever the population there equals the number required for a member in the United States House of Representatives.

The Committee adjourned till to morrow. There is some reason to believe that Mr. En-GLISH's bill will be agreed to in conference, and passed by both Houses.

> Special Dispatch to the New York Times. WASHINGTON, Friday, April 16, 1858.

C. A. WOODWARD, a member of the Minneola or Leavenworth Constitutional Convention. arrived here to-day, bringing dispatches from the Convention, and a copy of the Constitution, which he delivered to Mr. PARROT. He says that the organization of the Militia by the Free State men is so complete that the exact number of voters and the political sentiments of each voter in the Territory are ascertained, and that the Pro-Slavery men are only two thousand. He further says that an important element of the dispute over the Lecompton Constitution has been overlooked-viz; the charters granted by that instrument to bridge companies, banks, &c .- all Lecompton concerns, which, if the Constitution is accepted. will have vested rights which cannot be taken from them except at their own price.

The Kansas Conference Committee did nothing to-day, but fixed a meeting at 10 o'clock to-morrow. Mr Stephens, was not present, but was confined to his house by serious indisposition. The suggestion was informally made by Mr. SEWARD that both the Senate and House il should be discarded, and action based on the Leavenworth Constitution. It is the belief of a member of the Committee that a new plan or none must be adopted.

SALE OF THE STATE CANALS.

The House bill for the sale of the State Ca na's to the Sunbury and Erie Company, pass ed the Senate on Friday morning last, and has probably received the signature of the Governor and become a law. The price fixed in the bill is $3,500,000, to be paid for in bonds of the Company bearing 5 per cent. interest, se cured by mortgage on the works.

We congratulate the people of the Commonwealth upon the fact that the State has by this measure got rid of the last rod of public improvements she possessed, for however much of wisdom there may have been in the State building the lines of public improvements which have accumulated her heavy indebtedness, there is no diversity of opinion that the time had arrived when a regard for the interests of the Treasury, and for public honesty and official morality demanded that the works should be

The public improvements of the Commonwealth have been for years the fruitful source of official malfeasance and political debauchery. It is a fact well known to all who have any knowledge of State politics, that the offices upon the improvements have been bestowed upon partizans, without regard to their fitness, but in consideration of past services, and present usefulness. It is folly to suppose that such men would look to the interests of the Commonwealth. On the contrary, the State has come to be regarded as a goose to be pluck ed by any one fortunate enough to be in a position to do so, until peculation and fraud and swindling are the rule, and honesty the excep-

By divesting the State of all her public improvements, the occupation of the public plunderers is gone. The politics of the State are no longer controlled by the desire of managing the public improvements, and politicians must look to other and more legitimate means of advancing party success. This fact alone would reconcile us to the present sale, even if it had not other and more substantial merits.

We look upon the present disposition of the Canals as calculated to increase their usefulness, and consequently to add to the value of the country through which they pass. In regard to the North Branch, in which we have a special interest, and in which the hopes of the North have been so long and anxiously centered, we have every reason to believe that its usefulness and efficiency will be greatly advanced, by going into the hands of a Company. We have the best authority for saying that the North Branch from Northumberland to the State line is to be purchased by a Company of North Branch men, residing along its line, who have the greatest possible interest in its success, and who have no end except to make it profitable, at the same time that they develope the great resources of the North, ng a new Judicial District out of the Coun- and add to her prosperity. If we are corties of Clearfield, Eik, Forrest and Jefferson, rectly informed, the people along the North having passed the House of Representatives, Branch will be more than satisfied, that the a motion was made in the Senate to refer the plans which have been laid to plunder, and agreed to. > The fears that the North Branch was to fall ed and controlled by business men and substantial farmers along the line, who will have no authority under the law, even if they had the disposition, to make a monopoly of the work. If the price paid for the works is sufficient, and if the North Branch is to be managed to the advantage and satisfaction of the public-we believe the people of the North will be gratified that the measure has been consummated. That both propositions are true, we firmly be-

> We observe in the Columbia Democrat a call for the meeting of the "Keystone Editorial Union," signed by LEVI L. TATE President, to be held at Pottsville, on the 11th of May next. On looking over the columns of the Democrat we find that it contains some half dozen advertisements of a character unfit who has a proper estimate of his responsibility would permit to fill his advertising space.

We consider these Editorial Conventions as humbugs, as far as any practical results are contemplated. All the resolves that could be written would not clean the columns of a sordid, avaricious publisher, of immoral advertisements, as long as they paid well, nor elevate in the least his standard of dignity and propriety. As social gatherings they may be pleasant; and our advice to those assembling at Pottsville is, to first pass a resolution that every publisher is competent (or should be) to conduct his own business, and then to employ the remainder of the session in those festivities for which the craft is proverbial.
