Calender of Operations for Dec. 1858.

FARM .- Hard frosts and northern snows ar near at hand, for both of which the thrift farmer is about prepared, having his Autumnal work so done up that he sleeps sweetly at night undisturbed by fear of snow before morning, upon an acre of turnips still unharvested.

The close of the year is an appropriate season for balancing the accounts of the farm. It is well to make an inventory each seasen. Any permanent improvements should, of course, be considered as enhancing the value of the farm and placed to its credit. Live stock, hay, grain and other provisions on hand should be summer up, the outstanding debts taken account of, by comparing the statement with the previous year, one can readily conclude whether he makes his farming operations pay.

If the merchant takes an exact account of stock each year to ascertain his standing, why should not the farmer? It need take very little time except a few of the winter evenings.

Mature early all your plans for next season, deciding what fields to plant, what to sow, how many drains shall be dug, and where young orchards shall be planted.

Some of the surplus produce may now be marketed and the grocer's and outstanding accounts liquidated. Resolve that during the coming year you will "pay as-you-go," rather than run up lengthy accounts like those you now find it difficult to pay off. Keep a strict expense and cash account, taking and filing away receipts, which, besides saving many dis saving heavy expense in freights, as well as for their superiority.

We invite the particular attention of Farmers and Dealputes, and sometimes paying bills twice will enable you to discover where some of the leaks are, and if created by the purchases of those things you would be better off without, resolve to stop them at once. Remember that the apparently small sum of 'six cents per day for drink or tobacco, will, during the next ten years amount to over $300, to say nothing of the time spent in getting it and the constitution injured by its use. But moralizing aside, let us look over the farm, and especially at the.

Buildings for both man and beast, to see that they are as comfortable as possible. If not already storm proof make them so.

Cattle come for a large of attention now. Complete fattening the beeves as early as may be, keep up the flow of milk by giving cows the remaining pumpkins, turnip and cabbage tops, with cut feed and Indian meal, or shorts; supply full feed to young stock that they suffer no check, in their growth, have working oxen sharp shod where the ground is frozen or icy; and see that all the stock is sheltered at night well supplied with water and salt, or salt hay given them once a week.

Cellars may need additional protection to keep out frosts.

CHRISTMAS .- May it be a merry one to all, and a feast of fat things, in which the are not Drains may still be made where the ground is not too wet or frozen. FENCING .- Get material from the woods and swamps and split a full supply of rails, and prepare posts against the busy season of next Spring. FODDER .- Do not waste it about the barn, but run it through a straw or hay cutter and add some kind of ground feed. Use racks in the yards to keep it from being trodden under Forest Leaves .- Large quantities of these are still blowing about the roadsides and wood borders. They make excellent bedding manore and hot-bed materials. Shall a few loads be secured under cover, before it is too late? Hogs.—Complete fattening, those intended for killing. Keep their pens and yards well supplied with muck and other manure agents and absorbents. Have an eye to the increase of stock, and turn the male among your breedws, if early pigs are wanted.

A portion of carrots, and see that their stalls are warm and well bedded at night Ventilate their stables and use absorbents or deodorizers to take up the gasses which are unhealthy to breathe but valuable when fixed in the compost. breathe but valuable when fixed in the compost | net and Plush do.

continued on clayey soils when sufficiently dry. Poultry.—Give warm quarters, plenty o food and drink, with gravel, lime and meat, and you may expect eggs in the winter season Clean roots often, barreling the contents for an excellent home-made gnano.

Schools are now in session in most !districts. Let the children attend as steadily as possible, and show them, by frequent visits, that you take a lively interest in their success.

SHEEP .- Provide racks for, and feed under cover during storms, Keep horned cattle and horses from them. Give turnips or carrots, instead of all dry feed. See that they are supplied with salt, and provided with a good buck, of an improved breed, if possible.

Tools .- Look over, during the stormy days of this month, and if any need repairing you can better afford the time now than when they are wanted for use at a busy season New ones of domestic manufacture, such as harrows, ox yokes, bows, hoe, fork and ax handles, wood sleds, &c., may also be made. Don't let a snow storm bury the plow in one place, harrow in another, the ox-yokes here, and chains, axes, &c., somewhat else. They should be housed every night.

TURNIPS .- Harvest, any still in the ground Give pits an additional covering and close the ventilators at night if there is danger of freez-

WATER PIPES AND PUMPS .- See that they are sufficiently protected from frosts. WINTER GRAIN .-- Allow nothing to graze upon the fields during the present month .-Water should not be allowed to stand in little ponds upon them. Wood. -- Commence early to get up the winter supply. At the North where abundance of snow falls it is better to cut and draw together as much as possible before the deep winter snows fall. Eurly snows usually make the best sledding to draw it home upon. A year's supply should be brought to the house, cut and stored under cover some time during the winter,

The earlier the better.

Orchard and Nursery—There is comparatively little to do in the Orchard, nuless distorded last month. In the orchard, nuless distorded last month search out the borers which have ensconced themselves in winters quarters.

EMERY'S PATENT RAILROAD HORSE POWERS E are manufacturing these justly celebrated Endless Chain Powers, for one and two horses; to which we have added such improvements as to make them the best endless Chain Powers in the world. Our THRESHERS AND SEPARATORS

Are much improved over the Albany machines, and work admirably. Our new

TIOGA-POINT THRESHER AND CLEANER, Just finished, will, we are confident, prove itself to be the Best Combined Thresher and Winnower in market. Best Comeined Thresher and Winnower in market. It runs easily, is simple, strong, light and durable; will not carry over, nor waste grain; and will thresh and clean fit for market as much grain per day, with the same power, as any Thresher with Separator will thresh. It is admirably adapted for two and four horse powers. Job threshers will find it to be just the machine they have so long desired to find.

Our Horse Powers and Threshers are, to say the least, equal to any made in the Union; so that furmers in Southern New-York and Northern Pennsylvania, will find it to their advantage to buy our Machines, on account of saving heavy expense in freights, as well as for their superiority.

TIOGA-POINT FEED CUTTERS, GALE'S PATENT.
We can with confidence, recommend these Hay, Straw and stalk Cutters on account of simplicity, durability, strength, efficiency, ease of operation, rapid cutting, &c. They do away with the very serious objections heretofore urged by farmers and others, and justly too, against all patented feed cutters; namely—that they are too complicated, too many small castings and traps, consequently too liable to get out of repair; that they have too many wearing or friction places, therefore hard to operate. Our Feed Cutters have two simple straight knives which can easily be sharpened, or, if ever necessary, can be made by any blacksmith. All are warranted to give satisfaction. Ask your merchant to order one for you, and send for our Cataloure, which contains additional information concerning all of the above mentioned machines and many others of our manufacture and sale.
