Farmer's Departmeut.

Calender of Operations for Jan. 1859.

FARM .- With a good shelter for his household, and for his farm stock, provisions and fodder in abundance, and a mind in keeping with the quietude which reigns about him, the thrifty farmer may now sit contentedly before the fire while the wintry blasts sweep by his door. He has no need of going out every few hours, with shovel in hand, to see if the sheep are buried beneath a drift, or the calves perishing with cold. He has ample time for reading, and to nature plans for the year now commencing, and especially to close up all accounts of the past season.

Let New-Year's day be a new starting point, and, with the experience of former years fresh in memory, let a strong effort be made to render the acres doubly productive at a slightly increased expense of tillage.

Barns and stables require especial attention, for through them passes much of the Summer's toil. Remember "to save, is to earn," and suffer nothing to be wasted upon the floors, in the mangers, or yards. Chaff and coarse fodder with readily be eaten if run through a hay cutter and mixed with ground feed. Use dried muck or saw dust for absorbents in the stables which both benefit the stock and increase the manure heap Breeding Animals of all kinds require careful attention, but not over-feeding. Give them a good shelter in comfortable quarters.

Cattle thrive better on less food, when comfortably housed, than when so exposed as to ers to our fed out as to get the full benefit of it.

FENCING STUFF.-Secure a good supply of posts, rails, and board timber while the swamps are frozen. Posts may be holed or pluned together, and gates made during stormy days. HEMLOCK AND OAK BARK .- Market early, that which was peeled last summer for tanning purposes.

Hogs .- Warm, snug and dry quarters are now wanted for hogs. Keep the pens well coated with mnck, leaves, straw or saw-dust, for bedding and manure. Clean out often -Provide for Spring pigs by turning in the male, The Great Atlantic Telegraph ! if not already done.

Horses .- Take good care of these noble animals, since winter with its fine sleighing and sledding scarcely affords a season of rest. Through heat or cold, sun, frain, and snow, up- Intoign near of cond, sun, fain, and show, up on the road for a pleasure drive, or to market the surplus produce, in the wood: for lumber or fuel, or earting home the distant purchased manure, the horse has an almost daily task, and richly merits kind humane treatment and generous food. Cover with blankets when not using, give good bedding at night and aliberal allowance of grain, alternating with carrots where they can be had.
LUMBER — Many farmers have a surplus of pine, hemlo, k, cedar, and various kinds of hard wood lumber, which they can now get out for inailroad ties, ship-building, furniture, or car-penter work. Preserve the young and thrifty

TIOGA-POINT THRESHER AND CLEANER, THOUGA-POINT THIRSDER AND CLEANER, Just finished, will, we are confident, prove itself to be the BEST COMBISED THRESHER AND WINNOWER in market. It runs easily, is simple, strong, light and darable ; will not carry over, nor waste grain ; and will thresh and clean fit for market as much grain per day, with the same power, as any Thresher with Separator will thresh. It is admirably adapted for two and four horse powers. Job threshers will find it to be just the machine they have so long desired to find.

So bing desired to find. Our Horse Powers and Threshers are, to say the least, equal to any made in the Union : so that farmers in Sou-thern New-York and Northern Pennsylvania, will find it to their advantage to buy our Machines, on account of saving heavy expense in freights, as well as for their su-periority. periority tan, the refuse of almost any manufactory in your neighborhood. Road scrapings, sods, or your neighborhood. Road scrapings, sods, or even common soil carted into the yard as absorbents of liquid manure, will always pay richly for the trouble.

Plowing heavy soils in open winter weather will usually improve them by turning up the hard pan to the slaking influence of frost, besides killing burrowing insects and roots of pestiferous perennial plants.

POULTRY .- Keep in warm quarters, feeding well while the ground is frozen or covered with snow. Cellars under barns or other buildings, or an excavation made in the side of a hill with a roof over it affords good shelter during winter. Give meat, also pounded ovster shells or lime, to keep up the supply of eggs. Boiled potatoes and buck-wheat cakes, alternating with grain, are good food.

ROADS .- Keep them open to the public travel even if snow storms are frequent. It shows a lack of public spirit to see a community obliged to leave the highway 11 cked up by snow drifts until thawed out in the spring.

SALT .- All farm stock should have salt once a week at least. Salt hay will answer the same purpose.

SHEEP .- Provide suitable shelter separate from other stock, Give a few cut roots each day.

Tools .- Many of those wanted another sea son may be made or repaired during the stormy days of this month.

Vermin, such as rats and mice are unprofitable animals. Keep only a small stock about the premises. Terriers, ferrets, cats, traps, strychnine, and arsenic are the proper antidotes. A small bounty on their tails will usually set the children astir, and rats too.

Woon .- Cut and draw from the swamps while they are frozen and the sledding or carting good. Have a full years supply, not only at the door, but cut, split and piled away unat the door, but cut, split and piled away un-der cover if possible, before the Spring work commences upon the farm. Remember the annovance of having men called from the hay annoyance of having men called from the hay field to get oven wood, or the breakfast delayed on account of only green stuff for fuel.

ORCHARD AND NURSERY .- Little needs to be done here during this month, at the North .--In the Southern States ground may be dug and otherwise prepared, and both orchard and nursery trees set out. Pruning may also be commenced in mild latitudes, where there is no danger of hard freezing to crack the wounds. We dislike winter pruning at the North.

Keep all kinds of stock from orchard and nursery. Cattle are fond of the tender shoets H. A. BURBANK'S BAKERY which they seriously injure by browsing .-Large trees should not be used as rubbing posts. Allow no water to stand upon any of the grounds.

Clear off moss, rough bark, and scale, from orchard trees, also caterpillar or other eggs found on the branches.

Mice often girdle trees, especially along hedges and stone walls or fences. Trampling snow very compactly around the trees after each fresh fall will usually protect them.

Cut Scions when there is no frost in them, and bury in sand in the cellar, for spring use.
