Our correspondents and local news occupy so much space this week, that we have no room for editorials, and but little for general news; of the latter, however, nothing of interest, presents itself.

M. H. Cobb has disposed of the Toga Agitator to HENRY YOUNG, and in the last issue takes an eloquent and feeling leave of his readers. We part with Mr. Cobb, with unaffected regret. During the time he has published the Agitator, he has battled zealously and faithfully in the cause of Human Rights; his reward has not been a pecuniary one, but he has the satisfaction of knowing that Toga has a healthier state of public feeling than any other county in the State, much of which has been owing to his unwearied efforts, and steady persistence in the straightforward path. Such men as Cobb are the salt of the earth—and though their labors may be unappreciated and unacknowledged, yet the results will be felt in the sound state of popular feeling, long after they are forgotten. Wherever his lot may be cast in the "wide, wide world," we wish him abundance of success, pecuniarily and politically. We have his assurance that "this field is abandoned only that he may enter another where there is pioneers' work to be done."

Mr. YOUNG who takes the place of Mr. Cobb is not an untried soldier, nor without editorial experience. He has seen service during the Kansas difficulties, and was a correspondent of the Missouri Democrat and the N. Y. Tribune, and likewise for one year editorially connected with the Kansas Herald of Freedom. We welcome him as a neighbor, and trust his labors may meet with adequate reward.

FROM HARRISBURG.
(Correspondence of the Bradford Reporter.)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 28, 1859.

E. O. GOODRICH.—The committee in the case of the contested election from the 3d Representative District, of Philadelphia, has run down to the city taking evidence, and some very rich things indeed have already been developed. The "strikers" of that city having been trying to out-herod the "ruffians" of Kansas, and they have nearly succeeded. Unscrupulous politicians of the rural districts know nothing about carrying elections; the way it is done in the city will soon be known, and it must be onish the uninitiated.

The case from the 13th district of Philadelphia, was dismissed by the committee as unworthy of investigation, and Mr. EVANS, dem., retains his seat.

The contested case from Cambria county is progressing slowly. It already shows a state of political depravity rarely seen in the country. The Judge of the beard in Washington township, the contested precinct, was a postmaster, one Inspector was a German, who could neither speak, read nor understand a word of English, and could give testimony to the committee only through an interpreter. One of the Clerks was a P. M., and the clerk was so Dutch he could scarcely write a word. They were unworn, and beautifully drunk the entire day; the ballot boxes were cigar boxes without covers, not sealed up after election, but set in the back room of a store-house, open and exposed to the public, all of which would not have been very criminal had it not been for the fact, that with but 178 votes in the town, they contrived to poll 437 votes, over 400 of which were given for Mr. PORTER, the sitting member. There seems to have been a strike between the 4th Ward of Philadelphia, and Washington, Cambria Co., to see which should give the deepest, and come out the fittest in the pool of political depravity.

The bill to reduce the pay of members of the Legislature was reached on Tuesday last, Mr. THOMAS, of Philadelphia, said, inasmuch as the gentleman who introduced and had charge of the bill was absent on leave, as a matter of courtesy to him, he would move that the subject be postponed, which, of course, was almost unanimously agreed to. The knowing ones now, with thumb on nose, say it cannot be called up but by a two-thirds vote. If such be the case it stands the new members in hand to look out for man-traps and snakes. There may be a way of reaching it yet.

Efforts are continually being made to have printed additional thousands of copies of some worthless reports. They are very promptly voted down by the friends of retrenchment.

Yesterday another attempt was made to furnish one Mr. PICKLE, of Lancaster, with a place in the House as representative. The course of the Democrats in the winter was referred to, as a precedent and example for us to follow in this case. Mr. KIRKBY thought if the Republicans of the House attempted to follow in the footsteps of the illustrious Democratic party, they would find themselves in a glorious minority next winter. Mr. SARA said he did not know where they would go. Mr. SARA said the resolution should carry, for ever, and he would be glad to see the House filled with some subordinate officers, running things, but the resolution was voted down by a large majority.

The bill, introduced by Mr. KIRKBY, annulling the contract with R. J. HADENMAN for publishing the Legislative Record at $7 per page, has been up in the Senate, and after some debate was lost by a strict party vote. So the Democratic party takes the responsibility of paying off a partisan press at that exorbitant rate, when a responsible man proposes to do the same work at a saving to the State of over $13 per day.

The State printing has been let to A. BORN HAMILTON, the old contractor, at 76 1/2-16 per cent below the highest price fixed by law. What the exact price is, at which it has been let, I am not informed, but hear that it is very low indeed. This is a strange anomaly; when there is a sharp competition for the public printing and the law decides who the printer shall be, as in this case, the work is done incredibly low, but when political favoritism decides the question, as in the case of the Record, the most extravagant prices are regarded by partisans as "all right."

The greatest annoyances in the Philadelphia Passenger Railway hills, they are very numerous indeed, and are laid three or four deep over the streets. There will be some sharp practice, no doubt, in getting them through. The members are as yet kept in ignorance of their location and provisions, and an effort to get them printed and laid upon each members desk made the city members sit very uneasy indeed, and one of them talked out the hour of adjournment and prevented a vote. They must look out or there will be an avalanche of noses when their bills come up; the country members are bound not to vote in the dark on these bills.

Several petitions have been presented from Bradford and Wyoming counties, asking for a law for the assessment and recovery of damages along the line of the North Branch Canal. A bill in accordance with the prayer of the petitioners is being prepared in the Senate, its exact provisions have not yet transpired.

Yours, PETER KLAUS.

Visit to the Eastern Penitentiary.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 1859.

E. O. GOODRICH.—About seven years ago MOSES BRAMHALL was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary, for the murder of his wife. On Friday last Mr. MYER and myself visited him in his prison, with the view to learn his real condition there, and to inquire into the propriety of making an effort for his release. As you already probably understand he has served over seven years of his term. His bodily health is fair, but his mind is evidently yielding under his confinement. Mr. HOLLOWELL, the very intelligent and gentlemanly Warden says, that Mr. BRAMHALL works steadily and patiently, has never violated a rule of the prison, and by his uniform good conduct has won the esteem and respect of every person about the establishment, that "if there was ever a prisoner within these walls who was truly penitent, and who sincerely regretted the commission of crime, that man is MOSES BRAMHALL." He says he is an industrious, kind, inoffensive old man, has become childish, and is fast approaching idiocy. He thinks if he is not soon released by pardon or otherwise, the State will be compelled to remove him to the Insane Asylum.

With these facts before us, ought we to hesitate to make an effort for his pardon? Have not the ends of justice been already fully answered? Has he not received at the hands of the law enough to satisfy the most exacting friend of prison punishment? Can any earthly good result to BRAMHALL, or to society, by his longer confinement? In fact is it not due to Humanity that he should be released? These questions are worthy of consideration.

His pardon, I have no doubt, could be obtained upon certain conditions, viz: First, that the Warden, Mr. HOLLOWELL, certify the same facts to the Governor which he has already given to us, (and he informs us he would willingly do so), and secondly, that Mr. BRAMHALL's son, or some other of his friends, give the requisite assurance that he shall be taken home upon a farm, or other quiet rural place, looked after carefully, kept from becoming a charge upon the public, and especially kept from vice influences and associations.

We visited other prisoners from Bradford, and, as you are aware, they are numerous, and hold a prominent position among the delegations at that establishment. Most of them were earning their board. TOWNSHIP, recently arrived, was doing nothing except reflect upon that foolish career which suddenly brought him to his present degraded condition—a condition which he feels very keenly indeed. It is a melancholy reflection that a young man, who was once intelligent and respectable, and connected with some of the most respectable families of his vicinity, should by evil associations and intemperate habits, so soon find his way into a State's prison. He resolves to bear up under the discipline, to utilize it, and eventually to reform his character.

There is much connected with the working of the institution, which undoubtedly will be new and interesting to the public. There is some improvement needed to make the institution what it should be. I trust we shall at some future time be glad to find some of your readers.

Yours, K.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.
The general meeting of the Bradford County Medical Association, held at the Court House, on Tuesday evening, the 26th inst., in the evening, was attended by a large number of the members of the Association, and a number of friends of the cause of the Association.

Statements were made by the various Operators to the effect that the business conducted as it had been for several years past, was very successful, and that the Association was in a flourishing condition.

After considerable harmonious discussion, it was unanimously agreed to advance the price of Coal for the next season, to be nine cents a bushel, and to supply a healthy demand.

A Committee was appointed to report at the next meeting, a plan for an efficient and permanent organization.

The Cleghfield Riflemen.—"Our membership are at present 'as busy as bees.' We have been making inquiries in regard to the extent of the business season, and, although it is out of question to procure accurate information, yet we are satisfied that about the usual quantity of square timber will be made so far as sawed lumber is concerned, we do not know how it will compare with the products of former years; but one thing that we do know is, that a large number of our saw mills are standing idle. On the other hand, the 'clear men' have given out large contracts on the two Cleghfield creeks, Bushannon and Sinnamoning, which will aggregate from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 for the operations of saw this winter has, however, extended their operations considerably, and it is doubtful whether all their contracts will be filled."

We observe by the Livingston Union. published at Mount Morris, N.Y., that our good townsman, Dr. J. MACINTOSH was announced to give a "highly pleasing Entertainment" at that place on Wednesday evening of last week, consisting of "Recitations and Songs Burns, Campbell, Scott, and others of the favorite Scotch poets."

The date of our paper, on the outside of the 2d of February, when it should be the 3d.

The next meeting of the Bradford County Teachers' Association will be held in Windham, on Friday and Saturday, February 11th and 12th. Teachers and friends of education are invited to attend, whether residing within the County limits or not.

The ice in the pool of the dam, at this place, moved off in grand style, on Sunday last, crushing and tearing and grinding itself to fragments.

The Pittston Free Press, is the title of a new paper just started at Pittston, by A. C. LAW, the first number of which has reached us. It is very neatly printed, is neutral in politics, and deserves better patronage than it will probably realize.

MASONIC.—Hon. H. M. PHILLIPS, Grand Master, has appointed George H. BULL, as his Deputy for the Masonic District composed of the counties of Bradford, Susquehanna, Tioga, and Sullivan.

BELLIGERENT.—The Owego Advertiser says: "A dame of the name Miss Young, of some celebrity here and in the neighboring villages, was walking around our streets on Tuesday morning last. In her route she called at the Washington Market, and there one of the employees ordered her in language she thought disrespectful. Whereupon she coolly drew a 'slang shot,' a lump of cast iron about the size of a large hen's egg, with a leather thong annexed to it, and attacked the man. He beat a hasty retreat after having defended as best he could. Police Constable Doty was soon round however, and led her off indignantly to Jenk's back parlor."

A YOUNG MAN SHOT.—On Tuesday afternoon, Geo. WILSON, aged 19 years, oldest son of J. S. Wilson, for many years past a barber in Honesdale, shot himself with a pistol while alone in the barber shop. He states that he had loaded the pistol with three small balls and was pressing down the cap with the pistol pointing towards him, when by some cause it went off, and the three balls entered his breast near the nipple—each ball making a separate wound of about a quarter of an inch apart. The best medical assistance has been rendered him, but owing to the nature of the wound it cannot do him much good.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MUSICAL CONVENTION.
The Bradford County Musical Association held its 5th Annual Convention in the Town of Towanda, commencing Tuesday, January 18, and continuing four days. The Convention was largely attended, embracing among its members a large amount of the best Musical talent in the County—a fact which gives great encouragement to the friends of the Association—that it has obtained a position permanent and beneficial. The exercises in the different departments of Musical training, throughout its sessions, were thorough, timely, and of manifest benefit, as was clearly evinced in the comparative performances of the class.

The music was chiefly selected from Mr. BRADLEY'S New Anthem Edition of the "Jubilee," a work of excellent excellence and merit. The Anthems and Choruses, especially, are gems of the choicest character. These were sung and performed by the class for the first time in this County, at the Concert on Friday evening, before a large, intelligent and appreciating audience. Perhaps no feature of this Convention gave more encouragement to the friends of the Association, than the readiness, excellence and success with which the class performed several of the more difficult of these beautiful compositions, and the satisfaction with which they were received by a large number of competent judges. The Concert, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was well attended by the citizens of the Town. Had it not been for the prevailing storm, there would have been one of the largest gatherings that ever convened upon a similar occasion in this County. Of the performance of the Anthems and Choruses, we have already spoken. The Solos, Quartets, Duets and Solos, were received with unusual satisfaction and applause—the audience thus indicating the most encouraging appreciation of the efforts of the Convention to please.

The interest of the Convention was most agreeably enhanced by the presence, during two days, of Prof. T. E. FRANKLIN, of the Normal Musical Institute, of North Reading, Mass. Prof. FRANKLIN conducted the class in several interesting and instructive exercises during his stay, and by request sang several beautiful solos, evincing a high order of attainment as a teacher, and a fine cultivated taste as a performer.

It is now five years since Mr. W. B. BRADLEY conducted the first Musical Convention ever held in this County. The holding of a Musical Convention in Bradford at that time, was looked upon as an almost hopeless experiment. Mr. B. met the friends of this undertaking with his usual sanguine and confident spirit. His indomitable energy and superior tact and qualifications as a conductor infused an entirely different feeling among those who were formerly the opponents of this undertaking, and who had considered it as a mere idle fancy. The result of the Convention signified that the cause of the Musical Institute was not dead, but that it was in a flourishing condition, and that it was in a position to be maintained and supported.

Will the Democrats come up to the requirements of law and honesty, and give the people the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? When the Democrats will have done this, I am confident that it will be made apparent in this, as in many kindred cases, that the party which has been raised by the party party, is a mere shadow, and that the party party is a mere shadow, and that the party party is a mere shadow.

WILKINS, in the goodness of God, we have been kept through another year, and permitted again to meet in Convention and enjoy His smiles, in the sunshine without and harmony within, therefore.

That it becomes us as a Convention, deeply to feel and heartily acknowledge our gratitude to Him.

That we congratulate ourselves on having had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of Prof. T. E. FRANKLIN, and receiving from him valuable lessons.

That we are indebted to the officers of the Bradford County Medical Association, and to the County of Towanda, for the accommodations that have condescended to render our brief stay among them so pleasant.

PETERSON'S LADIES' NATIONAL MAGAZINE.
We are in receipt of this valuable publication. The embellishments in this work are splendid; and must meet the wants fully of those who seek after a Ladies' Magazine. And, in a literary view, there are few publications surpass it. It is made up of original matter generally; short, interesting stories; and a good sprinkling of poetical contributions. This Magazine is published by CHAS. J. PETERSON, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

The Bradford County Medical Society met on Wednesday, January 5, at the Keystone House, in the village of Canton, and was called to order by the Vice President, Dr. PARSONS.

The following members were present: Dr. PARSONS, and Axtell, Troy; Bliss, LeRoy; Holmes, Canton; Moody, Frenchtown; Morgan, Monroeton; Horton, Terrytown; Mason, Towanda.

On motion, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

On motion of Dr. Holmes the following gentlemen were elected members of the society: Dr. Rockwell, Troy; Tracy, Sullivan; Smith, South Creek; Morse, Canton.

Dr. Horton reported a case of Suppurative Erysipelas inflammation of the hand and arm, which caused a discussion upon the diagnosis and treatment of the case, between Drs. Horton, Smith, Morgan, Holmes, Bliss, Rockwell and Mason.

Dr. Morgan reported a case of Ganglion of the wrist, cured by excision. Also a case of Umbilical Hernia cured by use of adhesive straps. Also a case of Gonorrhoea Extension successfully produced by adhesive straps. Interesting cases were presented by Drs. Holmes, Bliss and Mason.

Dr. Morgan offered the following resolution which was adopted: Resolved, That a committee of three members be appointed by the President to inquire into the prosecution commenced against Dr. Axtell for malpractice; and committee to report this evening.

The President appointed Drs. Morgan, Smith and Horton said committee. Society then adjourned till 9 P. M. Met pursuant to adjournment, and the committee in the case of Dr. Axtell submitted a report and resolutions which were read, discussed, and finally laid on the table.

THE TUNKHANNOCK ABDUCTION.—Mr. Editor—Permit me to record my appreciation of your brief comment on the statement, by the Tunkhannock Democrat, of the alleged abduction by the Catholics there, of the girl LASSON, and, to add a few ideas suggested by that story.

Whenever any occurrence, however local or purely personal, may be trifling in a late reflecting age, displayed upon the Catholic Church, it is very rare to find an editor courageous enough to remind his readers that there are "two sides to a story." Having been bold enough to do so, I assure you will not fear allowing me through your columns, to observe, that, although I know nothing of the outrage in question, except what I glean from the Democrat's report, I have no hesitation in pronouncing the whole thing a pure fabrication. The report is so evidently so, and exhibits such a glaring after-effect, so much effort to come up to the requirements of his highly exalted village, that the impressionable editor has doubtless mistaken fiction for fact, and thereby made the wrong report the righteous cause. But aside from the suspicious statement of the Democrat, and its obvious suppression of essential facts, the evidence and plea displayed in this "local and interesting" article, is so plain, and so self-evidently so, that it is highly improbable that the venerable editor of "Cathocon" would approve, much less abet, the abduction of a child from the jurisdiction of her natural or legal guardian, except for permanent purposes of immorality and of insult to the law.

Will the Democrat come up to the requirements of law and honesty, and give the people the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? When the Democrats will have done this, I am confident that it will be made apparent in this, as in many kindred cases, that the party which has been raised by the party party, is a mere shadow, and that the party party is a mere shadow, and that the party party is a mere shadow.

Just two hundred and fifty years ago, I am prepared to believe, the first of our forefathers came to this continent, and found too many who were not of his race, and who were not of his religion, and who were not of his language, and who were not of his customs, and who were not of his laws, and who were not of his God, and who were not of his King, and who were not of his Country, and who were not of his People, and who were not of his Faith, and who were not of his Hope, and who were not of his Charity, and who were not of his Love, and who were not of his Mercy, and who were not of his
