The heavy rains of April have retarded some of the farm operations, so that a portion of the directions given last month have necessarily been retarded until now,. Read the former calendar anew, and attend first to any work thus kept back

May is decidedly a working month, in which the husbandman must commit his seed to the earth in faith (not forgetting the "works") if he expects to reap a harvest in Autumn. In putting in seed, be it grain, corn, or roots, it is of the first importance that it be well done, for no after labor, however thoroughly per formed can wholly compensate for wrong planting. To do this properly prepare the ground by manuring well where needed, and with plow subsoiler, and harrow, or cultivator, loosen and pulverize the soil deeply and thoroughly. It good seed be properly put in now, and the weeds kept down, failures will be comparatively few. But for the particular operations of the farmer in addition to the work of last month, we Beans to plant, at the south, and in this latitude and further north. They are easily injured by the cold, and it is not best to plant very early. Cover lightly, say one-half to threefourths of an inch.

Broom Corn .- Plant, as common corn, or in drills, 4 feet apart and thin to 8 inches in the row.

Cattle still require feed in some localities .-In others, all but working teams have been turned out to graze. Have the cows regularly and deanly milked, if possible by the same person. Raise the likeliest calves and thus improve your stock. Confine working teams mainly to dry food until the heavy spring's work is over.

Cellars are supposed to be freed from all garbage and filth. Open the windows for ventilation.

Clover may still be sown, with Spring grain Corn .- Better let the ground be warm and dry before planting It will come up stronger and succeed better. In this latitude we prefer from middle of May to the first of June. Let the ground be well plowed and enriched. Test the seeds by sprouting before planting. Stretch white twine over the fields to scare the crows as soon as planted, and avoid leaving any corn uncovered to attract the birds. Twine strung around the field is very suggestive to them of snares, of which they are are shy. If very troublesome soak some corn in strychnine water and scatter over the field.

Draining .- Wet lands, is always in order until they are wholly reclaimed.

ECONOMY OF THE FARM .- "Witches work while singgards sleep," says the proverb, and the man who begins business late in the day, nsually finds witch work enough before night Be up then betimes. Lose no time in borrow ing tools that you should own, and have your own where they may be found when wanted. Remove the stumps and stones that have so long annoyed you when plowing. Out with BEAUTIFUL LAMPS FOR FLUID OR KEROSENE that old bedge row by the wall, and let grass or grain replace it.

FENCES .- Put them in complete order. Poor fences make breachy cattle.

GRAIN .- Complete sowing, any crops not put in last month. Keep stock of all kinds from feeding upon fields sown last month and and pull out cockle and other foul stuff which shows plainly at this season.

Grass seed of all kinds may still be sown both with Spring grain and upon the Fall ACIDS, BALSAMS, BARKS, ROOTS AND HERBS sown, although it should have been put in last

Hoeing will be in order during the latter part of the month, and even earlier at the south. Begin to work out the corn early, both to promote its growth and lighten future labor. Horse and Mule teams require good supplies of hard feed while going through the heavy Spring work. Treat them kindly and they will MANURES .- Do not omit the manufacture of them, although the yards have just been cleared. Cart in muck, saw dust, tan, loam, cct., for a bedding, and absorb all liquid or semiliquid droppings of animals.

Meadows .- Keep stock from tramping over or cating down. A top dressing of wood ashes, plaster or Peruvian guano sown ever the fields, will add materially to the crop of Prowing .- Torn up the soil thoroughly and deeply, or at least a little deeper than ever be-If it is not practicable to subsoil a whole field, try a portion of it and note the results.

POTATOES .- Plant, any omitted last month. Where seed is scarce and costly cut to one or two eyes. We prefer siz able potatoes cut in two or three pieces.

Poultry will require little care now if run ning at large. Where shut up it is well to let them cut for awhile about sundown, otherwise the quantity of eggs will diminish. Eggs may still be set for late chickens. Where practicable place chicken coops under plum or cherry trees. Their keen eyes will allow few insectto escape from the ground to sting the fruit. Swing.—The pens should now be well filled with young porkers. Give the sows a full sujply of food with plenty of drink, and a little salt occasionally. Keep from running at large Tools, Machines, etc. - Now that mowing machines and reapers are coming into such general use, see if you had not better add one this season. Have carts, wagons and other gear in order, and purchase whatever hay and harvest tools are wanted, early in the season.

ORCHARD AND NURSERY .- It is not likely that the good planting weather of last month was unimproved by either orchardist or nurser -Excepting with evergreen trees the planting should have been done in April, in this and southern latitudes. At the north it may still go on, although it is very desirable to set out fruit trees and decidnous shade trees also, as early in the spring as possible, before the buds have started.

The nurserymen have had a long and favorable season for their operations, and have doubt less so improved it as to be in readiness for the later labors of the present month. The cool weather of April cheeked the growth of trees and made a much longer season for transplanting and selling, than usual.

Apple Trees may still be transplanted, if done with care. Ev RGREENS .- We regard the middle of May as the best time for planting Hoe out nursery rows carefully Miscellaneous.
