farmer's Department.

Calender of Operation for July 1859.

Farm .- July offers little leisure to the farmer who must be " making hay while the sushines." The hay and grain fields remind him that he must push on his harvest, while the buckwheat and turnip patches are still to be manured, plowed and sown These will afford sufficient employment during fair weather, and the work-shop, barn, stables and manure cellars or sheds should be provided with work for rainy days. Care will be needful during this very hot weather not to overheat the system, and moderation and temperance are requisite in eating and drinking. Farmers, and particularly farmers boys are accustomed to bathe frequently at this season. They should not go from the hay fields and plunge into a cool stream while enervated by hard work, and dripping with perspiration. Morning is the best time for bathing.

Many of the directions of last month are applicable to the first weeks of July. Read them again and attend to any of the operations not yet completed.

Bark of Hemlock and Oak will "run " during most of July, and may be peeled for tanners, at any leisure time during dull weather. Pile up the former peelings.

Buckwheat .- Sow, just before or after a rain, if possible.

Buildings, Yards, &c .- Keep everything about them clean and neat. Leave nothing to ferment and breed distempers. Chloride of lime, or copperas dissolved in water will fix the noxious gases escaping from the privy and sinkdrain, or spout.

Butter and Cheese making are the heavy labors of indoor work.

Cabbages .- The late crop may still be plant ed, among early potatoes, peas or other crops ready to harvest.

Corn for soiling may be drilled in or sown broadcast. It will form a good succession with the earlier plantings. Hoeing and weeding may still be needful among the early plantings.

Fences should not be overlooked in the press of work.

Haying is the important work of July, but with a good mowing machine on smooth ground a boy and team of horses can perform the heaviest labor, and do it at the proper time, neither too early nor too late, or when wet with dews and rains. Use the hay caps when necessary, and do not burn the hay up with a hot sun.

Hoeing will be a secondary operation this month, but the cultivator or horse-hoe should be run through the corn in the morning while the dew is on the grass and grain.

Oats will require cuting. They should not the allowed to become over ripe.

Pastures .-- See that the grass is sufficient for the grazing stock. A scant feed now will soon he seen in a diminished supply of milk, and slow growth of young stock.

Positry require the same treatment as last month.

Potatees .- Early crops will be ready for harvesting and marketing during the month, and the ground may now be appropriated to late cabbages or turnips.

Rye .--- Thet serve last Fall is now ready to cut. Secure it from storms as soon as it will answer.

Seed Wheat, eye, and other grain should be allowed to fully ripen before cutting. If mixed, or containing foul staff, go over and pick out the foreign substances as soon as cut by the grain-cradle or machine.

Sheep are apt to be warried, and killed even by dogs, at this season. A few small bells placed upon the macks of several of the flock will usually help protect Give salt each week.

Sugar Cane .- Sow, in drills, or broadcast for cattle and hog feed, both green and cured.

As evidence of the unquestioned superiority of their Machines, the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Compa-ny beg leave to respectfully refer to the following TESTIMONIALS.

Keep the early crops for manufacturing well cultivated.

Timber, for fencing or building of any kind is much more durable when cut in July and August, than in the Winter season. This is particularly the case with the hard wood kinds abounding in sap. The sap has now parted with its watery portions and is forming au outer layer of new wood.

Tools .- Keep the scythes and mowing machine knives sharp, and the bearings well oiled. In short have all tools, machines, and farm gear in prime order. Repairs can be made during rainy days.

Wheat .- Do not delay the cutting a single day after it is sufficiently ripe. A storm may beat it down and materially injure it. Cut, dry, bind and " stook " it up as fast as possible

Young Stock .- Give them especial care at this season. A calf or colt whose growth is checked now, seldom does as well afterwards.

ORCHARD AND NURSERY .- Fruit growers are now rejoicing over some of the earlier fruits with a fair prospect of a good yield of later This is the more welcome from having kinds. had a short supply for several years past. Th most important work in the orchard for this month is pruning.

Budding also comes in for a large share of the tree grower's time. Plum, cherry, and pear stocks will be ready for the operation by the middle of July-even earlier in some localities.

Cherries .- The late varieties are now ready for picking and marketing, drying or putting up in cans and bottles. A good supply of the bottled fruit will not come amiss next Winter. Save pits of cherries for planting and put them in boxes of earth before they become dry.

Grafts .- Loosen any bandages which cut into the stock ; replace wax or cement that has fallen off, and rub superfluous shoots from the stock.

Hoe grounds often both to keep down weeds and promote moisture. Let neither grass nor weeds rob the newly planted trees of food or drink, Inarching, or grafting by approach may now be done on decidnous and evergreen trees.

Insects .- Destroy the late broods of cater pillars; hang up open bottles of sweetened water, and kindle bonfires for the apple worm miller ; pick up wormy plums and apples, and feed out, or cook to destroy the insects ; dust pear and cherry trees with lime, or syringe with whaleoil soap and water to destroy slugs.

The growth of the present season may now be laid down. Grape vines and flowering shrubs can also be layered now.
