The Elections.

The result of the October elections, has been everywhere the triumph of the Republican cause. In this State the Administration of JAMES BUCHANAN has the second time been signally rebuked, and the corruption and the want of principle of the Black Democracy repudiated.

The majority for the Republican State Ticket will probably be about 20,000. This result is the most significant and satisfactory because the Administration adherents had been quietly and actively at work, hoping to achieve a favorable result, while on the part of the Opposition, there has been no concert, no exertions put forth, relying for success upon the unpopularity of the National Administration.

In Philadelphia, W. B. MANS, Opp. was elected District Attorney. Sullivan County elects a Republican Sheriff.

MINNESOTA.—Full returns have not reached us from Minnesota, but enough to show decided gains for the Republicans. There is no doubt of the election of Republican Congressmen, Governor and State Ticket, and a majority in both branches of the Legislature.

OHIO.—The Republican majority for the State Ticket is about 17,000. The Senate will be composed of 25 Republicans and 19 Democrats, and the House of 64 Republicans and 40 Democrats.

The Legislature just chosen will have the privilege of electing a U. S. Senator in the place of PIER, and there is every reason to suppose that CHASE will again occupy the place he so ably filled in that body.

IOWA.—Nothing definite has been received from Iowa. Slight Republican gains are reported over the vote in 1857, when the State gave a small Republican majority. We have no doubt Iowa adheres to the cause of Freedom.

ADMISSION OF KANSAS.

Returns of the recent election in Kansas indicate the adoption of the Constitution framed at Wyandotte. It remains now to be seen what disposition Congress will make of the text application for admission. Topeka and Leecompton have become matters of history, and the policy by which their rejection was secured has so thoroughly demoralized the Democratic party that it is doubtful if the Administration will dare repeat the dose.

A majority of the next Congress, as Republicans or anti-Leecompton Democrats, are committed to the admission of Kansas, in spite of the provisions of the English Bill, and the settlement then made. As a question of prudence, the Democratic party may wish to exclude Kansas for another year. As a question of policy, they may feel compelled to admit her, lest the doubtful disadvantage of three votes in the electoral college against them may be changed into the certain effects that would be produced by any further factions or arbitrary opposition.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamer North Briton arrived at Quebec on Wednesday, 7th advices from England to the 5th inst. Among other tidings of interest, we have information that the Hon. JOHN Y. MASSON, the American Envoy Plenipotentiary at Paris, died in that city on the 31st inst. of apoplexy.

The King of Sardinia had caused a note to be addressed to the several friendly Courts of Europe, arguing strongly for a monarchy of Northern Italy, as the only barrier to the designs of Austria. Kossuth, having returned to England, had written a despairing note to the Press, deploring the peace of Villafranca, and looking hopelessly to the immediate future.

The prevalent impression that the voyage of the Great Eastern was postponed indefinitely, in consequence of the casualty off Hastings, proves to be incorrect. From the letter of the N. Y. Times Special Correspondent, who is in a situation to be thoroughly informed, the vessel will leave Great Britain on Thursday 20th, (to-day), and if the calculations of the projectors prove correct, will reach Portland in the course of next week.

The extension of her voyage to New York has been definitely decided upon, the route through the Sound and the East River having been selected as the safer approach. This intelligence will be received with general satisfaction. Not only will vague curiosity, which has so long been balked and disappointed, be now abundantly gratified; but our scientific and engineering scholars, who have waited so impatiently to explore the mechanical novelties and wonders of this consummation of marine architecture, will find themselves enabled to study the ship at their leisure, and at a point very much more convenient than Portland, England, or Portland, Maine. The Great Eastern will probably be in New York waters before the middle of November.

The large new stables attached to the United States Barracks, in Carlisle, were destroyed by fire Sunday night, together with 15 horses and a quantity of feed.

The action taken by the Episcopal Convention, now in session at Richmond, Va., relative to the restoration of Bishop O'DONOVAN, has not been officially made known. Contradictory rumors are in circulation, but those best informed say that a vote on the restoration of Bishop O'DONOVAN, taken by the House of Bishops, stood eight in favor of the restoration and twenty-five against it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE HELD AT BURLINGTON—September 26, 1859.—Institute held according to previous arrangement, forty-two students being present.

The former part of the evening was devoted to the discussion of a resolution relating to "boarding school," which was entered into with much interest by the members of the Institute. After the discussion, short addresses were made by Mrs. C. C. CONN and JAMES FORSTER, after which criticisms upon the language and pronunciation of members of the Institute was offered by WARNER CARBOCHAN. An extract from a piece entitled "Covey's Grave," was read by C. H. PHIPPS.

The evening of the 27th was devoted, in part, to the discussion of the resolution of the following evening—"The Old Man's Counsel," from Bryant, was read by Miss VICTORIA A. PHILLIPS, followed by an essay on "Happiness in a Maiden," by W. CARBOCHAN, Miss HARRIET B. LILEY, critic.

Wednesday evening the session was opened by singing. The Business Committee reported the following resolutions: Resolved, That teachers should not be expected to have the control of pupils out of school hours.

The exercises of Friday evening were opened by singing, under the direction of Prof. C. E. GLADWIN. Criticisms were read by J. H. HILL. A literary paper entitled the "Students Offering," from contributions by the members, was read by Mrs. G. W. VICTORIA PHILLIPS.
