Farm .- November is the finishing month of the season. Indeed very little farm work, save digging and storing the late turnips, should be left until now. In some localities a pertion of the corn is still unbusked, and the grain not all threshed. Both of these need early attention, and then, having put all the tools away, so that no unlooked for snow shall bury one here and another there, and having repaired the buildings against the biting wind and frost, the farmer may rest quietly even if the slect comes driving against his window at night. He is prepared for Winter.

Buildings, including those for man and beast should be put in complete. Winter order at once. This is one of the best mouths for out side painting of buildings and fences.

Cattle are now almost solely dependent upon man for their food at the North : let it be given them with regularity, just sufficient for their wants, but none to waste. A good hay or straw cutter should be in every barn, and if capable of cutting corn stalks, so much the better. For twenty or thirty cattle and pigs a steaming apparatus will pay. Complete fattening the beeves as early as possible, before half the food is exhausted in keeping them warm. Give all animals a good bedding of some sort, both to promote comfort and increase the manure heap.

Cellars .- Keep ventilated as late in the season as can be done with safety. See that the water drain is perfect. Towards the close of the month, make everything secure against Cisterns and Wells for house and barn may well be built, if not already provided.

Corn.—If any is standing, cut it up. Finish husking as soon as possible, before cold weather and Winter rains set in. Save the foodder with care, and put away the husked corn where it will dry thoroughly. Seed should have been saved last month. If omitted, select it

Draining is always in season, when the ground is not frozen or wet, until all swales, swamps, or low grounds are made the most productive portions of the farm.

Forest Leaves .- Continue the gathering commenced last month until all that can be gathered, are stored for Winter bedding of stock, for which they are excellent, as well as for manure.

Fruit.-The late apples and pears must now be taken to the cellar, as a cold snap might freeze them. Keep dry and as cool as convenient without freezing.

Grain .- Thresh the remaining as fast as practicable, and save all the straw to feed or bed with through the Winter; it will be needed this year. Cut straw, moistened and mixed with Indian meal, forms excellent feed for cat tle and horses. See that the best grain is kept for seed.

Hedges .- Plant deciduous, if the soil is dry; otherwise leave till Spring.

Hogs.—As with beeves, complete their fat-tening early. This will be the killing month in many parts of the country; let the animals be fut when slaughtered. Provide for early pigs by turning a male among the breeding sows.

Horses and Mules .- Feed with cut hay and straw, adding a little meal or carrots. Have them well shod as icy weather approaches, at the North. Provide blankets and use them. Give a good bedding at night. If standing on a plank floor, cover with several inches of muck spent tan or sawdust both to absorb the moisture and make a soft standing place. Ventilate well, using plaster to take up the strong smelling ammonia.

Ice Houses .- See that they are all ready to receive the first thick ice of the season, which is usually the best. It is not too late to construct ice houses on rooms. struct ice-houses or rooms.

Indoor .- The long evening and stormy days give an opportunity to read and think. Get down the back numbers of the Agriculturist and re-read those articles which, a more hurried season caused to be lightly pondered at the time Sympathize with the children as they pore over their evening lessons, and lend them the assistance they require. A little interest in their studies will be of material benefit to them. Make home so attractive that they prefer it to going abroad where they may meet with vicious companions.

Manures .- Follow the directions of last month, adding large quantities of muck, tan, leaves, loam, saw-dust, ect., to the contents of the yards and stables.

Permanent improvements may now be made to good advantage, while waiting the approach of Winter. A few rocks need sinking or blasting ; stumps may be removed ; stones may be picked up and laid into permanent fences, hedges cleared up etc. These labors can profitably use up all the spare time.

Plow clayey lands just before the Winter sets in. Insects will be turned up to frost, and the freezing and thawing of the tops and sides of the furrows will pulverize the soil.

Poultry .- Provide them with warm quarters for Winter. A barn or other cellar where they can have gravel to scratch in, is desirable allowing them access to the sun. Give them animal food, refuse meat, with boiled potatoes and raw cabbage. Keep roots clean.

Pumpkins .- Feed out freely to fattening animals and milch cows. Put some of the best in a dry place and beyond the reach of frost, for Winter keeping.

Schools are about commencing for the Winter. in many places. Have the out door work in condition to spare the boys at the beginning. to take their places at once in classes. Nor should they be kept at home except on important occasions. Regularity is essential to pro-

Sheep still find some green food in the pastures, but will soon need a foddering at night in colder localities. Let them begin winter in good flesh. Where early lambs are desired, turn the buck with the ewes.

Stack Yards .- Instead of making them cattle vards, save time, labor, and your reputation for humanity, by carting the contents to the barn to be fed under cover.

Sugar Cane.-Complete the cutting and manufacturing. If it can not be evaporated sufficiently fast, put some of the stalks under cover, to be ground and boiled down as need A moderate freezing does little injury when syrup only is made.

Tools, Implements, Carriages, Harness, Sleighs, Sleds, ect .- Put away those no longer wanted, first repairing the broken ones. Do not leave a plow to freeze in the furrow, nor any tools to be covered by a premature snow.

TIOGA POINT AGRICULTURAL WORKS

TIOGA POINT IMP'VED RAILWAY HORSE POWERS.

WE are manufacturing the above unrivalled Powers for One and Two Horses, under Emory's Patent, which are warranted greatly superior to the common Rack and Pinion Power. Our Horse Power is unequalled for convenience by any other:—being adapted to a great variety of uses where power is needed; for the reason that it is double geared, and that both ends of the main and counter shafts have couplings all alike, permitting the converge gear wheel, pinion and hand-wheel to be shipped from shaft to shaft and from side to side of the Power at pleasure; by which arrangement five different degrees of motion are obtained without extra gearing; and also, any desirable length and velocity of crank motion for cross cut sawing. pumping and churning. These Powers run easily, are strong, well finished and made from good materials.

THRESHERS AND SEPARATORS.

These are made of various sizes. They are superior to those of any other manufacture, of which fact any person well acquainted with the heretofore leading machines, will be satisfied upon examination. Our FANNING MILLS, which are the very best in market, are fitted for power to be run in connection with the Tresher and Separator. THRESHERS AND CLEANERS.

THRESHERS AND CLEANERS.

We have succeeded beyond our most sanguine expectations in inventing and constructing a combined Thresher & Cleaner of our own, which, we believe, for two horse power, has not its superior nor equal. Brines easily and threshes and cleans fast, without wasting the grain, which is delivered in the measure cleaned fit for market.

These Winnowers are simple, easily managed, and are warranted to give entire satisfaction.
