First, a word of caution is needed. Though country life is desirable, it is not all a round of pleasure; though its gains are reasonably certain, they are yielded only to patient, continued hard work. The plowman sweating in the blazing sunshine, envies the mechanic in his shop; the economizing farmer sighs for the quick returns enjoyed by his fortunate city acquaintance, and the weary boy who follows the cart with his rake, would often gladly exchange his lot for that of the school-boy who wants to be a farmer. Hundreds are every year deluded with mistaken notions of the pleasures and profits of farming—they do not count the cost. We fully believe that the benefits are worth the cost, but we are certain that of every ten who leave other avocations for farming, without some previous practical experience of the realities of farm life, nine will meet with discouraging disappointment. The multitude of places for sale at a sacrifice in the neighborhood of all our large cities, by men who have tried the experiment, is proof of the assertion. They met with unforseen obstacles-the business of cultivation of itself difficult enough, was rendered doubly so to them from want of experience. Crops were put in at wrong seasons and in the wrong manner; the garden would yield weeds as well as flowers, and insects completed the destruction; good help was not obtainable, and the year, the accounts properly balanced, would read "Cr. by experience gained, many dollars out of pocket "--more or less according to the extent of the experiment. This too is in addition to the deprivation of many privileges which long habit had rendered necessary to enjoyment. Dark as this shading is, it need not have spoiled the final picture had it been seen in time and calculated upon. A few years, and steady perseverance even CENTRAL MEAT MARKET, under discouragement will bring all right, and he who would make the change proposed, should enter upon it expecting a period of hard times, then, he will not be disappointed, and many go on courageously to final success. If you can stand the "toughening" process, you can become a farmer, if not-and it will be severe

-don't attempt it. But we will suppose all this has been settled, and a young man knowing little or nothing of farming, has fully determined to go through thick and thin, and make soil culture his pr fession; how shall be best accomplish it? He needs first practical knowledge of the use of farming implements, and this he can gain by engaging to work as a "green hand" with some intelligent farmer, upon whom he can rely for kind treatment and judicious oversight. The first season, he must be content with ap prentice's wages, satisfied if he may receive him learn to bandle the plow, the hoe, the scyther, and make a business of "getting the hang" of every tool used in farming. Crane, from bariev, be able to plant and hoe corn, and dig potatoes, to cut a ragged furrow with the F. Tyler. Pres't. Bank. plow, and perhaps a raggeder swath with the scythe, in short, will have made a beginning; and if careful, will find his muscles better able to perform the increased labor of the following years. Having in one or more years as may be necessary, thus learned the first steps, let him begin to walk alone, by undertaking something on his own account; it would be well to hire a small field, and arrange for time to work it. Let him advise with others, and then decide for himself, as to the best crop and manner of cultivating, and expect but a small return, and he will, when the crop is harvest ed, have learned more of management, than years of merely working for another would have taught him. His progress after this will be easy, if he have studied rs well as worked. He may soon, with little aid from others, conduct a farm successfully, working it on shares, or hiring at a stipulated price, and by skill and economy begin to accumulate capital for the purchase of a few acres as a nucleus of his future farm. This is but a mere outline, but sufficient to indicate what may be done by a young man in earnest to become a farmerwith ordinay intelligence he can arrange the details, without it he need not try the experiment. We have not space to pursue the subject further, and illustrate how a man engaged in other business, and having a family, may secure a home in the country which shall give give him a livelihood, but may recur to the subject on another occasion.

PLANT CORN IN JUNE. - The weather has been so dry and favorable for field work, that most persons had ample time to put in all desirable crops. The indications are that the season will be more favorable for corn, than for grass and oats, which cannot bear the heat and drouth so well. It may therefore not come amiss, to get in an extra acre or two of corn, and this can be done well in the first week of June. We have seen many a good erop of this grain planted as late as June 6th to 10th. When the seed is put into a warm soil, it starts quickly and grows rapidly, and not unfrequently overtakes that planted a month earlier. The prospect ahead now appears favorable for "good times" again. Let every one help on the country, and himself, by planting "one acre" more this month.

This Machine makes the celebrated "Double Lock Stitch," the only one made by machinery that meets all the requirements of Family Scwing. Each stitch is tied twice, so that every one is securely fastened and wholly independent of all the other stitches for strength, so that if the seam is cut or every fourth stitch broken, the sewing must hold good while the fabric will wear. The machinery which makes this stitch is a marvel of simplicity, requiring no mechanical skill to manage it, nor does it require adjustment more than the mere change of thread and needles to adopt it to the character of the work to be sewed—coarse or fine as the case may be. It will sew gauze laces, and all varieties and kinds of fabrics between and including heavy beaver cloth, without changing either needles or thread equally well, and return to either variety of work with perfect satisfaction. No other Machine ever offered to the public will do as much.

CAUTION.

"To be, or not to be—hat is the question! Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer The slings and arrows of outrageous opposition, Or by taking up arms against a sea of printing ink, And opposing, end them."

THE proprietor of the Argus takes occasion in advertising his Bindery to indulge in an uncalled for fling about a 'sort of a concern,' which is hoping "to delude the public." As I have opened a Bindery on my own account, the inference is that if the public bring their binding to me, they are in no danger of being defrauded. For two years I have worked for Mr. Parsons, and has taken great pains to satisfy the public I was the 'best Binder in America,' as the columns of the Argus will testify. Has he been all that time "deluding the public?" If I have been all that time "deluding the public?" If I have been all that time 'deluding the public?" If I have been all paper to trand practiced.

Having served a long apprenticeship at the Bindery business, I have resumed business here on my own account, as I know of nothing which prevents me from following a legitimate and bawful calling for my support. I shall endeavor by good work and attention to my business to give public satisfaction.
