From the American Agriculturist. Hints on Fattening Pork.

It is usual with many farmers to put this off until cold weather sets in. The pigs run in woods, the road, or the pasture, picking up a scanty living, and come to the pens lean and hungry, when they ought to be fattened. In our practice we keep pigs in the sty the year round. We find them quite too valuable co-laborers in the manufacture of manure to allow them to waste their sweetness upon the desert air. A pig is worth ten dollars a year for this purpose alone, if you will give him the material to work with and plenty of food. Put possibly it may pay for a little time in the summer, to keep the sow and pigs in a good clover pasture where grass is more plenty than corn upon the farm. If this be done, all of them intended for the butcher by Christmas should be shut up immediately, and be fed with all they can eat. A squealing pig is worse for the owner's pocket than for his ears. It is much easier to make pork in September and October than in December and January. No extra amount of food is wasted in keeping up the animal heat. It all goes to fat and muscle. Variety of food is a matter of much importance in fattening swine. At this season a greater variety is easily commanded. The garden, if it is a good one, yields a great many refuse articles, squashes, beets, carrots, apples, melons, tomatoes, and corn, which will find a good market in the sty. One of the best articles of food for them is sweet corn, cut up by the roots and fed whole. They are very fond of it, and it makes them thrive very fast. A half acre near the sty may be profitably cultivated every year expressly for this purpose. If this be not on hand, corn from the field may be fed in the same way once a day. But swine need something more than green stuff however nutritious, to make them fatten rapidly. The cooking food is much more economical than is generally supposed, especially upon the farm, where fuel costs little but the labor of preparing it. We think about one third of the value of all the grain usually fed to swine, is saved by cooking. A boiler or box for steaming is indispensable in every well arranged swill house. In this the meal may be cooked and thoroughly mixed with the roots and other vegetables. The meal absorbs large quantities of water, is more highly digested by the pigs, and is more perfectly refused. Numerous experiments fully prove the economy of cooking the food under ordinary circumstances. Some claim that they can make pork for less than three cents a pound in this way. A dairy farmer of this State made one year 4,227 pounds of pork. The feed which he did it was 4,127 pounds of corn and out meal at $1.50 a hundred, 470 pounds of shorts at 75 cents, 147 bushels of potatoes at 16 cents, all of which were cooked, and half an acre of green peas worth $15; making the total cost of feed $103.95, or not quite two and a half cents per pound for the pork. The value of the whey and some milk was not reckoned. This and the labor of feeding, with the fuel for cooking, are very properly balanced against the manure they made. There can be no doubt that cooking the food pays well.

A dry, warm place for sleeping is another important item in keeping swine thrifty. They should have a good sty with roof and board floor, and plenty of straw so that they can keep themselves clean. With these conditions pork can be made very fast, and the sty will be found to pay as well as any part of the farm arrangements. CONNECTICUT. HOW TO FATTEN CHICKENS.—It is hopeless to attempt to fatten chickens while they are at liberty. They must be put in a proper coop; and this like most other poultry appendances need not be expensive. To fatten twelve fowls, a coop must be three feet long, eighteen inches high, and eighteen inches deep, made entirely of bars. No part of it solid—neither top, side bottom. Discretion must be used according to the sizes of the chickens, put up. They do not want room; indeed, the closer they are the better provided they can all stand up at the same time. Care must be taken to put up such as we have been accustomed to be together, or they will fight. If one is quarrelsome, it is better to remove it at once; as like other bad examples, it soon finds imitators. A diseased chicken should not be put up. The food should be ground oats, and may either be put on a trough or on a flat board running along the front of the coop. It may be mixed with water or milk; the latter is better. It should be well soaked, forming a pulp as loose as can be, provided it does not run off the boards. They must be well fed three or four times a day—the first time as soon after daybreak as possible or convenient, and then at intervals of four hours. Each meal should be as much and no more than they can eat up clean. When they have done feeding, the board should be wiped, and some gravel may be spread. It causes them then to feed and thrive. After a fortnight of this treatment, you will have good fat fowls. If, however, there are but four to six to be fattened, they must not have so much room as though there were twelve. Nothing is easier than to allow them the proper space; it is only necessary to have two or three pieces of wood to pass between the bars, and form a partition. This may also serve when fowls are put up at different degrees of fatness. This requires attention, or fowls will not keep fat and healthy. As soon as the fowl is sufficiently fattened it must be killed, otherwise it will still get fat, but it will lose flesh. If fowls are intended for the market of course they are or may be all fattened at once; but if for home consumption, it is better to put them up at such intervals as will suit the time when they are required for the table. When the time arrives for killing, whether they are meant for market or otherwise, they should be fasted, without food or water, for twelve or fifteen hours. This enables them to be kept some time after being killed, even in hot weather.—London Cottage Gardener.

PROPER VESSELS FOR BOILING SAP.—Sap may be kept of a light good color when boiled in iron vessels, if the kettles are cleaned frequently, and no leaves or dirt are allowed in the liquid. A large shallow pan of galvanized iron is best. Brass or copper vessels will be kept some time after being killed, even in hot weather.—London Cottage Gardener.

BOOK BINDERY. THE subscriber having withdrawn from the Argus building would respectfully inform the public that he has removed his Plain and Fancy Bindery to the North East corner of the Ward House, occupied by the Post Office, where he is now prepared to bind all kinds of Books in the most approved and workmanlike manner.—Having to share my profits with no second person I flatter myself that my prices will meet the satisfaction of the public. Thankful for the confidence reposed in me and the public appreciation of my work, for the last two years, I shall endeavor in the future to merit the continuance of public support. Particular attention given to re-binding Books. All work will be warranted. Terms, Cash. JOHN H. BENDER, Bookbinder and Artist. Towanda, Jan. 11, 1869.

CAUTION. "To be, or not to be—hat is the question! Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous opposition, or to take arms against a sea of printing ink, And opposing, end them." THE proprietor of the Argus takes occasion in advertising his Bindery to induce in an undesired for fling about "sort of a concern," which is hoping "to delude the public." As I have opened a Bindery on my own account, the inference is that if the public bring their binding to me, they are in no danger of being defrauded. For two years I have worked for Mr. Parsons, and he has taken great pains to satisfy the public I was the "best Binder in America," as the columns of the Argus will testify. Has he been all that time "deluding the public," as he has been engaged in a fraud, he has been the principal. But I refer to my work during that time as evidence that there has been no fraud practiced. Having served a long apprenticeship in the Bindery business, I have resumed business here on my own account, as I know of nothing which prevents me from following a legitimate and lawful calling for my support.—I shall endeavor to give good work and attention to my business to give public satisfaction. March 15. JOHANN F. BENDER, Binder.

ESTRAY.—Came to the enclosure of the subscriber in Standing Stone township, about six weeks ago, a Two Year Old RED STEER, with two white stripes in the left hind quarter. The owner is requested to prove property, pay charges and take him away. Standing Stone, Aug. 20, 1869.

WAKEMAN'S CORNET BAND, LACEVILLE, PA. BENJ. E. WAKEMAN, Leader, and comprising a number of good musicians, announce to the public that they are prepared to furnish music for Parties, Excursions, Balls, &c., on reasonable terms. Address, Laceville, July 17, 1869. BENJ. E. WAKEMAN.

THE FRIEND OF WOMAN.

E. Clark's Revolving Loper

DOUBLE THREADED FAMILY SEWING MACHINE The Revolving Loper is a late improvement on Raymond's Latest Improved. Warranted the best in the world for Family Use! Price Within the Reach of Every Family. PRICE $35. Hemmer, Felier, Binder & Tucking gauge, combined, $5.

THE reputation of this Machine is now fully established as the most reliable Machine in the market for family use, and has been attested to by thousands of the most respectable families in the Union. This Machine, which is celebrated as "Double Lock Stitch," the only one made by machinery that meets all the requirements of Family Sewing. Each stitch is held twice, so that every one is securely fastened and wholly independent of the hand, and will manage it, no matter how the seam is cut or every fourth stitch broken, the sewing must hold good while the fabric will wear. The machinery which makes this stitch is a marvel of simplicity, requiring but little skill to manage it, nor does it require adjustment more than the mere change of thread and needles to adapt it to the character of the work to be sewed—course or fine as the case may be. It will sew gause laces, and all varieties and kinds of fabrics between and including heavy leather cloth, without changing either needles or thread equally well, and return to either variety of work with perfect satisfaction. No other Machine ever offered to the public will do as much. A perfect Sewing Machine, one making a stitch answering all the requirements of the family, sewing course and fine, and all kinds of fabrics, and which is the home circle, previous to the invention of E. Clark's Revolving Loper. The stitch is beautiful, strong and elastic, and will not rip in wear or in accidental breaking. Every Machine is warranted to give satisfaction or the money returned. We have a large list of references but will give the names of only a few. MONROTON, Pa., Feb. 27, 1860. Mr. B. F. SHAW—Sir: I have used for the last three months in my Tailor-Shop, one of "Raymond's Latest Improved" Sewing Machines, and do think it the best in use for tailoring purposes, and would not do without it for One Hundred Dollars if I could not get another of the kind for less money. ANTHONY MULLON. Mrs. Wm. Elwell, Towanda, Pa. Mrs. Harriet Alloway, North Towanda. Miss Minerva Young, (tailor's) Burlington, Pa. Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, Asylum, Pa. Mrs. J. W. Alexander, Troy, Pa. A liberal discount given to Agents. Address March 5, 1860. B. F. SHAW, Towanda, Pa.

To Merchants and Dealers in Freight. THE Boat 13, U. S. Express Freight, will run from the "Tozer Bridge" to Towanda and Standing Stone, three days in each week. All Freight from Waverly and other places will be promptly delivered, and at the Captain's risk except staves, syrup and no lasses will be at the risk of the owners. But all care will be used by the Captain and proprietors. Freight will be taken at the lowest prices until the 1st of October, when Captain Stone will use his best endeavors to find a safe channel in Old Susquehanna, whose banks will not slide out. All orders directed to James Stone, at Athens, will be promptly attended to at all times. The Boat will start on Tuesday, August 21, 1869. JAMES STONE, Agent and Proprietor. Athens, Aug. 22, 1869.

Carriage Manufactory at Alba. REYNOLDS, FELLOWS & CO., respectfully inform the people of Western Bradford and the public generally, that their operations have not been in the least disturbed by the late war, and they are actually prosecuting their business in all its branches. They are manufacturing to order, and will keep on hand, Carriages, Sleighs, Buggies, Skeletons, Lumber and Democrat Wagons, &c. made of the very best materials, and in the most substantial and workmanlike manner. They use nothing but the best of their timber, and select wood from the East, and everything being selected with reference to its durability. As an evidence of the value of their work they point to the fact, that they received the first premium on their work, at the late Bradford County Fair, and at a previous Fair the first premium for Cutters. BLACKSMITHING done in all its branches, and particularly in the art of making Custom Work. Alba, April 4, 1869.

AMERICAN HOTEL, Near the Bridge, Towanda, Pa. JOHN LAUGHLIN respectfully informs the public that he has leased the new and commodious Hotel recently erected near the Bridge, and having furnished it thoroughly, is now prepared to accommodate such of the traveling public as may give him a call. He will endeavor by attention to the wants of his guests and by the reasonableness of his charges, to merit a portion of public patronage. The Bar will be kept, and will be supplied with the best Spirits and Malt Liquors. Good Stabling is attached, with careful attendance. May 23, 1869.

THE Argus Book bindery Again in Full Operation! WE have the gratification of announcing to our friends, customers, and the public, that we are now prepared to do BOOK BINDING, in all its branches in the latest and most approved styles, and on the most favorable terms. Having secured, permanently, the services of Mr. H. C. WYTHE, a finished workman from Philadelphia, and also every thing connected with it in a sort of concern—giving greater facility than formerly—we can present to the public the most positive assurance of our ability to perform all the work entrusted to us. Customers should be particular to remember that the "Argus Bindery" is in the Argus Building, as formerly, (first building north of the Ward House) and is connected with our Book and Stationery Store and Printing Office, where all work should be delivered. CAUTION.—We are compelled in justice to ourselves, and our old customers, as well as to prevent an imposition upon the public generally, to caution them against a sort of concern, that falsely holds out to the public that it is the Argus Bindery. This fraud is practiced no doubt, with a hope of deluding the Public. Against this bold and deliberate attempt to deceive, they are hereby cautioned. Particular attention paid to re-binding. All work guaranteed. Country Produce of all kinds taken in payment for work. Having made complete arrangements, we are prepared to take and bind BLANK BOOKS to any style or pattern, at prices as low as elsewhere. Sewanda, March 5, 1860. E. A. PARSONS.
