With many a sough and sigh, And here I sit alone,
Though the world is a full, and a broad, and a deep, With nothing but winds, to help me moan, And nothing but rains, to help me weep.

And lashing the lengths of rain, as they pass,

Like scourges, against my window-glass,

My heart like that strange Druidical stone That is poised on a desolate cliff of Wales, In its native midnight, unseen and unknown, Is rocked by passionate gales. But of all my sorrows, it is most sad To keep sighing still, in this dreary tone:

"I once had friends-I had-I had!" Ah, heart! to think that this dark old house Once echoed with voice and steps more glad Than those of the cricket and mouse! My eyes are tear-blinded, but full are my ears

On airy bridges I hear them cross,

Of a melancholy sound of rain— Of rain upon the roof; Till I dream that all moments which filled the train Of many and many departed years, Are hurried back, at my soul's behoof-

Those numberless little trampling feet— Above me they go with a rapid beat, And my heart is o'crflowed with a sudden sweet; Now-now-and I almost think to meet The old-time glances of laughing eyes,

Till the loud wind wakes, with its startling sighs, The thought which never dies ; That here I sit alone, Though the world is a full, and a broad, and a deep, With nothing but winds to help me to moan,

And nothing but rains, to help me weep. Buffalo, N. Y., June 1859.

YOUR LOCAL PAPER .-- Reader, did you ever reflect on the subject of supporting liberally the press, and first of all your own local news paper? If not, permit us to suggest to you your privilege and your duty in this respect.

Each city, town and village, in a country like the United States should be represented by a live local newspaper, and it would be well, both for the people and the place so represented, to have a paper which does cred/ct to both, but a paper which would be an honor and a credit to the State and to the nation,-Strangers from abroad judge us by our newspaper press, and hence the importance of making that instrument as perfect and as patent It is the daty of every citizen of each place to contribute something towards improving and strengthening the local press. He may do it by subscribing and paying for his paper, by advertising in it, by recommending it to others, or in all of these ways. Were the country press as liberally patronized and as well supported as it should be, the country would not be so flooded with the worthless would not be so flooded with the worthless. would not be so flooded with the worthless trash, in the shape of "love and murder stories," as it now is, which poison and vitiate the minds of the young. There is usually more moral integrity and circumspection manifested by editors of the country press than by those in the large cities, and a more healthy tone of mind and morals will generally be from the reports of degrading vices and crimes | public. | Thankful for the confidence reposed in me and the puband are never opened with that feeling of suspleion which attaches to the common "flash literature of the day.

The country press may be improved. Each individual residing within the limits of its sphere and circulation may aid in its improvement. He may be on the "look out" for interesting information, and when this is obtained, communicate it to the editor. He country press may be improved interesting information. may bring his own business before the public by an appropriate advertisement, or, if he has beef, pork, or grain to sell, he may announce it through his local press. He may give historical sketches of the past, and show the progress and changes going on at present .-of instruction to strangers, and of entertainment to his neighbors. Is he a manufacturer?

Let him invite capital and influence Let him invite capital and influence by setting forth such natural advantages as the place may possess, and indicate the routes by which it may be reached, its accessibilty to the mar kets, etc. There is no estimating the advantages to any town or village of a live local journal, and we doubt if there is to be found at the present time an editor who gets fully paid for the services he performs, and we put the responsibility where it belongs-namely on the people, whose business and duty it is, first of all, to support handsomely their own local paper .-- Life Illustrated.

"AXIN' FOR HER."-Col. Dick Nash tells a rich story about axing for her, in his earlier days. He was deeply smitten with the daugh ter of a wealthy old skinflint residing in Alabama. The Colonel, self-evident of success, arrayed himself in his best suit and proceeded to call on the parent, for the purpose of obtaining his consent to the consumation he devotedly wished. Matters had all gone on smoothly. Col. Nash had every ground to hope for success. Finally a convenient season arrived for him to approach the old 'un. Says the Colonel:

"Squire, my bussines to-day, is to ask for your daughter's hand."
"It is, is it? What! you marry my gal?

Look here, young man, leave my premises instanter, and if you ever set foot here again I'll out b make my niggers skin you. Marry my daughter, indeed ! You-"

The Colonel had left. He saw that the old the gentleman was angry. After getting off to a safe place, he thought he would turn and take a last fond look at the home of his lost idolwhen he spied the old man busy, with spade al in hand, shoveling up his tracks from the yard and throwing them over the fence! Col. Nash imagined he was an unwelcome visitor at that house.

WELL CHAR CTERIZED .- The Evening Post's

Washington correspondence says: The Message was playfuly but quiet happily hit off by Mr. Seward, just after the reading, when some friends of the president asked him what he thought of it. 'I think,' said the New York Senitor, 'the President has conclusively proved two, things: 1. That no State has the right to secede unless it wishes 'to; and 2. That it is the President's duty to enforce the laws, unless somebody opposes about a "sort of a concern," which is hoping "to delude the public." As I have opened a Bindery on my own account, the inference is that if the public bring their binding to me, they are in no danger of being defrauded. For two years I have worked for Mr. Parsons, and he has taken great pains t satisfy the public I was the "best Binder in America," as the columns of the Argus will testify. Has he been all that time "deluding the public?" If I have been engaged in a fraud, he has been the principal. But I refer to my work during that time as evidence that there has been no fraud practiced.

Having served a long apprenticeship at the Bindery business, I have resumed business here on my own account, as I know of nothing which prevents me from fellowing a legitimate and bawful calling for my support.—I shall endeavor by good work and attention to my business to give public satisfaction.

THE reputation of this Machine is now fully established as the most reliable Machine in the market for family use, and has been attested too by thousands of the most respectable families in the Union.

This Machine makes the celebrated "Double Lock Stitch," the only one made by machinery that meets all the requirements of Family Sewing. Each stitch is tied twice, so that every one is securely fastened and wholly independent of all the other stitches for strength, so that if the seam is cut or every fourth stitch broken the sewindependent of all the other stitches for strength, so that if the seam is cut or every fourth stitch broken, the sewing must hold good while the fabric will wear. The machinery which makes this stitch is a marvel of simplicity, requiring no mechanical skill to manage it, nor does it require adjustment more than the mere change of thread and needes to adopt it to the character of the work to be sewed—course or fine as the case may be. It will sew gauze laces, and all varieties and kinds of fabrics between and including heavy beaver cloth, without changing either needles or thread equally well, and return to either variety of work with perfect satisfaction. No other Machine ever offered to the public will do as much.

made of the very best materials, and in the most substantial and workmanlike manner. They use nothing but the best of stock, their timber being mostly from the East, and everything being selected with reference to its durability.

As an evidence of the value of their work they point to the fact, that they received the first premium at the last Bradford County Fair, and at a previous Fair the first premium for Cutters.

BLACKSMITHING done in all its branches, and particular attention paid to Custom Work.

A perfect Sewing Machine, one making a stitch answering all the requirements of the family, sewing coarse and fine work equally well, was the great desideratum of the home circle, previous to the invention of Edwin Clark's Revolving Loopen. The stitch is beautiful, trong, and elastic, and will not rip in wear or in accidental breaking a thread.

Every Machine is warranted to give satisfaction or the macrosyretunded.

BOOK BINDING, in all its Branches in the latest and most approved styles, and on the most favorable terms.

Having secured, permanently, the services of Mr. H. C. Whitekar, a linished workman from Philadelphia, and having added extensively to the fixtures of the concern—giving greater facility than formerly—we can present to the public the most positive assurance of our ability to please our patrons.

BY Customers should be particular to remember that the "Argus Bindery," is in the Argus-Building, as formerly, thus to miding north of the Ward House) and is connected with our Book and Stationery Store and Printing Office, where all work should be delivered.

CAUTION.—We are compelled in justice to ourselves, and our old customers, as well as to prevent an imposition upon the public generally, to caution them against a sort a concern, that falsely holds out to the public that it is the Argus Bindery. This fraud is practiced no doubt, with a lape of deluding the Public, Against this bold and deliberate attempt to deceive, they are hereby cautioned.
