

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Lost—A Fur Glove. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it at this office.

SLIGHTING AT LAST.—This vicinity is at length blessed with a plentiful fall of snow, which promises a season of excellent sleighing. It will add greatly to the business activity of the place, and to the means of enjoyment.

INDIAN DOCTOR.—All those wishing to be cured of any disease should call on Doctor BUTTERFIELD, who is at his office, in Towanda, and will remain until the first of February, to help all who call on him. Let the afflicted improve this opportunity and convenience.

A LONG WALK.—The champion pedestrian RIM MILNER, concluded, on Saturday last at Ely's Hall, the arduous task of walking one hundred and six consecutive hours without rest or sleep.

TOWANDA TELEGRAPH COMPANY.—A bill has been introduced in the Senate, by our Senator Mr. LANSPOS to incorporate a company with the above title.

A LARGE BUCK was run into the river, on Friday afternoon last, below the dam, and being in the condition of another well known "old Buck," pretty much used up, was easily captured alive. He was conducted to comfortable quarters in the Barclay engine house, and has been an object of great attraction.

THE LINTA BALL was a complete success. Though owing to the bad condition of the roads, not so many were in attendance from abroad as was expected, still there were enough to render it all that could be desired. Everybody was pleased with the party, and especially the supper, which was got up in the best style.

DR. JAMES BRYAN AND WILLIAM NICHOLSON, of Philadelphia, the former G. W. P., and the latter G. S. of Pennsylvania, Sons of Temperance, will address the citizens of this place on Wednesday evening, Jan. 23, 1861. All are very earnestly invited to attend this Temperance Rally. Both the gentlemen who will speak are reputed to be orators, and unquestionably the audience present on the occasion of their lecturing, will be entertained with very able addresses on that topic, which, much as ever, and very greatly needs advocating in our midst. The place of the meeting will be announced next week. Dr. Bryan will also speak Friday.

By order Com. of Arrangements.

THE BRADFORD COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION will hold its next meeting at Athens, the first Friday and Saturday in February. All friends to educational interests are very earnestly invited to attend. Lectures will be delivered by Mr. O. J. CHURCH and Mr. T. T. TOWN. Essays read by Misses M. T. PITCHER and L. V. CARVER, and selected articles by Miss Helen Adams and Mr. P. D. HARRING. A resolution regarding the necessity and propriety of Teachers detaching from school, pupils, for disorderly conduct or failure at recitation, will be acted upon. The Business Committee also will report questions that will be discussed.

Geo. D. Scott, R. Sec'y.

THE CHEMUNGO CANAL.—We are glad to see that, among the very first business of the session, the Hon. L. Truman and Hon. C. F. Barner have introduced a bill for the completion of the Chemungo. The opponents of this important addition to the public works of the State, last year endeavored to make it out to be one of the corrupt jobs of the session. If it had been pressed by money influence its success would likely have been better. It stood there as it stands now, on its merits only. It has more real merit than many of the public works already finished. We hope in a short time to give such a mass of statistics as will convince all unprejudiced men that it will be a lasting benefit to the State and an invaluable blessing to the whole Southern Tier, or even to Albany.—Overgo Times.

PATRIOTIC.—On Wednesday the citizens of Towanda voluntarily met together and hung to the breeze a flag (on Palmetto flag) bearing the inscription: "For President in 1864, Major Anderson, of Kentucky." Resolutions were also passed declaring that the Union could not be disrupted by the secessionists, and a volunteer company of minute men formed. South Carolina had better look to her laurels and the Palmetto flag now.

THE POWER OF MEDICINE OVER DISEASE.—We know of no better illustration of this fact than the wonderful effects of the Oxygenated Bitters, in eradicating from the human system dyspepsia and all functional diseases of the stomach, and restoring impaired digestion. It is now remedied. Ten years of trial by the public has established it as a standard medicine; and no family in the country should be without it as a safe and sure remedy with both sexes and all ages. In our large cities it has been much used by the regular physicians, and is endorsed by some of the strongest certificates from well known individuals. For sale by all the druggists.—Woolly Noctelle.

We can testify from experience that the above medicine possesses all the merits claimed for it by our friend of the Noctelle.

A VISIT TO DR. PORTER'S NEW DRUG STORE, Corner of Main and Pine Streets, Towanda, Pa.

Twelve years ago Dr. PORTER commenced preparations for establishing in this vicinity a branch of the well known as the Drug Business. At that time the inhabitants were poorly supplied by parties having too little knowledge of the materials, with any regard for the laws of trade in selecting their purchases, their chief desire being to fill a demand, trusting to chance for quality. Regardless of such cheap competition, and trusting to time for his patrons to vindicate an effort to furnish the best articles in preference to those simply cheap, the Doctor has succeeded in establishing a reputation for reliability and a depot from whence can be procured with safety, and at all articles in the various departments of a country Drug Trade, which embraces in variety an almost endless selection, not only including all the combinations and preparations of Drugs for Medicines, but also for domestic and other uses, viz: for Artisans, Gentlemen, Housekeepers &c., as Painter's materials, Glazier's supplies, Dyers' stuffs and colors, Toilet and Fancy Goods, Perfumery, Brushes, Combs, Soaps, Sportmen's wares and commodities, Tobacco, Snuff, Cigars, &c. In obtaining the wants of life it should appear reasonable to every one that it is best to trust those understanding their several avocations—for instance, you seek the creditable Dry Goods dealer for his goods, the honest farmer for his produce &c., and the same logic is applicable to this business. It is not generally understood how many different things strictly belong to this trade, all of which can be seen by a visit to the Corner Drug Store, as shown by its description.

Dr. Porter's "Cash Drug Store" occupies the first, second and third stories, two cellars, also a fourth floor or room. The first floor, or sale room, is the dispensing department, where are kept, either in glass or drawers expressly designed for each separate article. Upon entering this room from the Show Windows on each side rivet your attention to a fine display of Toilet Goods, a broadside of the most approved Gents' and Ladies' Brushes, Supporters, Trusses, and samples of the various other mechanical contrivances intended to benefit the infirm and sick—as Shields, Syringes, Nipples, Breast-pumps, Nursing-bottles, Teeth rings, Bed-pans, &c. Continue your gaze and you behold a State of the Goddess Flora, with a modest crown of flowers, appearing to invite the beholder to seek the means of light by an acquisitive inspection of the revolving pyramid of New & Beautiful Lamps, with Shades and Lanterns, without which no home can flourish as a place of sweet repose, but would be instead a dark and cold abode. Turn again your eyes and lo! the Sea Serpents, and Two Statues—the Fisher Boy and Girl, turn ing from the brink of a splendid Italian Marble Aquarium, who having filled their laps to overflowing, and showing the happy countenances of successful anglers, seem to impress you with the importance of mixing business with pleasure, as in this case the routine of daily pursuits with some aquatic ones, and as the Gold Fish of China, the English Carp, the Western Catfish, the Susquehanna Bass, the South American Rock fish, the Triton, the Lobster and the Japanese Silver fish, dart about the waters, you are reminded of the satisfaction to be enjoyed, for you behold all around this fairy pond, Hooks, Lines, Snells, Flies, Reels and Rods, no longer shaped for boys' rude casts, but implements fit for all the subtlety and sagacity of man, with steady eye and expert bow to send out his cast to capture the dainty races, or with his traveling companion, powder, shot, wads and caps, to find in due season with his faithful dog—means at least to make him hungry and healthy.

Now observe the case of "Rich Perfumes" presided over by Canova's Statues of the Bacchantes, busy with tools of pleasure, holding out luxurious sights and fragrant waters, which diffuse the most grateful odors. If not satisfied with their exquisite fragrance, turn to the mirror and declare yourself infatuated!

Turning round you are at the Soda stand, where Sparkling Water and Fruity Syrup minister to drive away the thirst of Summer and revive your faculties to appreciate the wondrous cures before you, all simplified in that long array of glass and deep tiers of drawers, ready for the skilful touch in divers combinations, all for your benefit in the hour of sickness. From whence come they? What their merits? How important is the trust connected with them! Before you are Plants, Roots, Herbs, and Minerals from all quarters of the globe, collected by all race of people, barbarous and civilized, and having passed through the various channels of commerce are now reposing in this vast emporium. If they were simply stone from many countries, then how great would be the curiosity to see them, and how little the trust for those having them in charge; but no they are agents to contend for Life and the Mastery of Death, and your curiosity is sunk in mystery, while your trust is too often placed in fearful ignorance, since the avocation "Druggist" painted outside will allay your fears! Or if the Dry Goods Merchant or Grocer sees fit to dispense cheap Opium, Paregoric, Godfrey's Cordial, Essences, rancid Castor Oil, Soda and Cream Tartar mixed with marble dust! Ignorance is bliss, for the effects are on their patrons and not on them! Passing these considerations, and before leaving this great room with all its fearful mixtures and hopeful compounds, notice the new and original contrivances & facilities for preparing Physicians' prescriptions, with the large Chemical Apparatus, recently invented and made only in Berlin, Europe, at a cost of over one thousand dollars including the block Tin Distiller and Condenser, the Porcelain Evaporating Pans, Filters, Presses and all the furniture thereof belonging, for the Manufacture of all Medicinal Compounds, as Syrups, Extracts, Perfumed Waters, &c., &c. Also a long row of immense cans neatly painted and lettered by KELLER, of Antwerp, with the names of their contents, which may be drawn readily, the drippings running into strainers below, the cans having been filled from casks in the rooms above by means of movable conductors passing through openings in the ceiling, answering another purpose, that of ventilation, thus economizing much room and avoiding the necessary dirt consequent upon handling Oils and Varnishes. Turn aside to an adjoining room (occupied by employees for dispensing medicines at all hours of night) in which there are two stairways, one leading above, the other below. Descend to the first cellar and you see the side and floor, the whole space all filled with articles requiring cellular temperature for their preservation, also casks of "Pure" for medicinal use, with lists of Imported Ales, Potatoes, Wines, Fine Table Oils, &c. The second cellar is filled and lined with another branch of the Drug Business, the great Paint and Oil trade, Huge casks of Linseed Oil, Barrels of the various Varnishes, Piles of Lead and Zinc, all the Colored Paints in Cans, of all sizes, Barrels of Lard Oil, Machine Oil, Tanner's Oil, Neats Foot Oil, Coal Oil or Kerosene, Lamp or Whale Oil, Camphene, Alcohol, Castor Oil, Olive Oil, Cans of the Finest Essential Oils, as Oils of Cinnamon, Peppermint, Bergamot, Orange, &c., &c., in packages and stored full in systematic order. Ascend to the second story, this floor is divided into sections and rooms—the front room contiguous to the Laboratory directly over the Store or Dispensing room is arranged for putting up Dr. Porter's Home Remedies and Family Wares, among which the celebrated Pectoral Syrup, the Electric Pills and Horse and Cattle Powder, &c., are here rapidly turned out by the busy operatives. Still ascending to the third story, you behold enormous shelves filled with boxes containing millions of Vials & Bottles of every shape and size, many Carboys of strong Acids, boxes of Window Glass in Piles, Barrels of Dye Stuffs and Dry Paints, as Copperas, Blue Vitrol Log, Cam. Sic. and Red Wood, Ochres, Vermilions, Venetians and Mineral Paints, Bins of Corks and Sponges, &c. Now up to the fourth floor, and stooping low on the fourth floor, beneath the rafters, you observe spread out with careful precision Leaves, Roots, &c., for exsiccation.

The whole building is protected from the risk of fire or explosion by water carried to every floor.

Ingenious fixtures and original designs are seen to fill the plans in every part of the concern, and every spot from cellar to garret placed in systematic order, easy of access, presenting a neat and clean appearance and handy for the transaction and call of every day wants, seeming as if no pains or expense had been spared to arrange and simplify this vast collection. Added to all these facilities for business, the experience of the Doctor himself as a Physician and Pharmacist of the highest excellence, warrant the public in the confidence reposed in the establishment, especially since all purchases and sales made, and all prescriptions compounded are under his immediate personal supervision.
