mo-The tarrying of winter has been poetally represented by the figure of "lingering in the lap of Spring." We had hoped from the sudden leave he ook and the warm, bright days that followed, that old Winter had finally torn himself from the smiling Spring ; but he returned on the 5th and fairly overwhelmed the gentle damsel with his rude attentions,-not only lingerag in her lap but embracing her at a fearful advantage. But zero in March is not to be endured long, and at the resent writing the warm air and smiling skies give toen that his hyperborean majesty is fast relenting under the genial influence of the "violet crowned."

From what I had heard of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, I concluded to give that preparation a trial, which I did, and by its use obtained immediate and permanent relief. Again, about five years afterwards, I was taken with a severe hacking cough, accompanied with pain in the chest and side, tickling in the throat etc., which so reduced my health and strength as to unfit me for attend-ing to my ordinary business. I applied to well known physicians and used their proscriptions without any per-ceptible benefit; when, after having been confined to my room for several months, I again had recourse to Wis-tar's Balsam, and, to my great joy, found, as before, in-
