1. Dr. Dwight used to remark to his pupils at Yale, that the raising of fruit was the cheapest and pleasantest way of entertaining friends. We are creatures of society, and it is a very important object to make the social board attractive to all who honor us with their friendships. A dish of well grown apples is always wholesome and acceptable.

2. An orchard is always an ornament to the farm, beautiful blossoms, its summer drapery of green, and its autumn burden of yellow and ruby fruit. No farm is complete without it acres of orchard.

3. The cultivation of fruit is a very pleasant occupation, and has an important influence upon the mind and heart of the cultivator. It requires higher intelligence than the growing of the animal crops. It fosters forecast and hopefulness, and tends to a cheerful

4. It makes home attractive-children are universally fond of fruit, and the home where this luxury is always enjoyed, will be more loved on that account. It will be in pleasant contrast with many homes around him.

5. It will tend to guard children against vice and crime. So strong is the desire for fruit, that they may steal it if it be not provided for them at home. And the boy that grows up plundering his neighbor's fruit yard and erchard, is very likely to steal more valuable things when he becomes a man.

6. It is a very sure investment. An apple tree, if well planted, is about as hardy as an oak, and sure to bear fruit according to the labor bestowed upon it. When houses burn up, and banks fail, and rail road stocks de-preciate, the orchard will yield dividends. 7. It is not only a sure investment for yourself, but for your children. No real estate in their inheritance is likely to be so permanently valuable. An orchard in good soil will bear fruit for a hundred years.

8. It is a perpetual incitement to thanks-giving to a bountiful Creator. It yields its burden of precious fruit yearly, giving large returns for the labors of the husbandman, and calling him to behold the wisdom and goodness of Providence. Do not fail to plant that long deferred orchard, and while you are at it, select good marketable fruit. The best is the BREAKING COLTS .- A correspondent of the Country Gentlemen gives his method for imparting an education to colts, as follows: In the first place, never intrust him to the care of a person of ungovernable temper.

Secondly, he should be treated with kindness from the beginning until he is ready for labor.

Since Mr. Rarey laid his method of subdu-ing the horse before the public, I have made the horse and his disease my study.

The soit should be commenced with when quite young, and handled carefully, as he is quick to resent an injury. I begin as soon as he is able to run about -get him so that he will not run away at your approach—get his head in your hands—if he wants to get away, let him -you can easily get him again. After handling the head so that he is not afraid, pass on the side and limbs. The sooner he gets used to having his legs handled, the easier he will be to shoe when necessity requires it to be done. See that the dam gives plenty of milk. If she does not, teach the colt to drink cow's milk; there is nothing better to promote the growth.

Great care should be observed in not using the dam so as to heat the milk, as a great many colts are rendered worthless by so doing. I should in no case let the colt remain with the mother after it is five months old, as it gives her time to get in good condition for winter, and it is also the best time for him to shift for himself; do not let him remain out after the nights get cold and frosty, as it will do him no good, but much harm. There is a plenty of skimmed milk at that time of the year, give BLOAT IN CATTLE .- H. D. Court, of Bedford writes to the Michigan Farmer, that when cattle are bloated from eating wet clover, or horses from eating green clover, he has found a sure remedy in giving to the animals an ordinary charge of gunpowder, mixed with about tha same quantity of fine salt in the hand, and thrown on the tongue every 15 minutes, until two or three doses are given. He says :-In the summer of 1858, I had five head taken at the same time, two of which were severe cases, but this treatment saved them. The same week the hides of forty head were sent into Battle Creek, and all from animals that had been lost by early wet clover."

After he is weaned is the time to commence

MARROWFAT BEANS .- From observationsays a writer-I am forcibly impressed that there are but few farmers who realize the worth of marrowfat beans, compared with others that are generally raised. Some farmers think that if they plant a few beans they must occupy some odd corner, or some poor spot of ground.

My advice would be to procure the marrow, as they will yield on good ground from onthird to double more than I have tried. I will give my experience : Three years ago I plowed and planted, from the 13th to the 15th of June, eighty feet square in drills about thirtythree jaches apart and sixteen inches in the row, on land suitable to raise good corn; and I harvested six bushels of good beans. I would recommend planting as early as corn, because it give better weather to harvest them generally, which is very essential to keep them in good merchantable order.

ROASTING .- Roasting meat, in an oven, is goods at New York next to broiling, and generally preferable in the hands of a careless, or slow, or inexperienced cook. But a piece of meat to be roasted well, should be put into an oven already hot, so as to sear the surface, in order to retain the juices. The heat should afterwards be kept as high as possible without actual charring or burning the meat. The bigher the heat, and the more rapid the cooking, the tenderer will be the meat. A long slow roasting, is next door to "tanning."

HEAVES .- The Farmer and Gardener gives the following as a cure for the heaves in horses: "Take smart-weed, steep it in boiling water till the strength is all out; give one quart every day, mixed with bran or shorts, for eight or ten days. Give green or cut feed, wet with water, during the operation, and it will core."

The peach crop in the vicinity of Cindinnati has been entirely at of.

Aver's Sarsaparilla.

A COMPOUND REMEDY, designed to be the most effectual Allerauree that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the discases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted-by those who suffer from Strumons complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND EXPIPTIVE DISEASES, ULCRES, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILITS AND SYPHILITS AFFECTIONS, MERCHALD DISEASE, DROTSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBIGNY, DYSPERSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIFELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Bloop.

This compound will be found a great promoter of and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of emptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your teelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the grea machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug glone has not all the vitree that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the irtue of Sarsaparilla, or anything else.

During late years the public have been misled by large During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one collar. Most of these have been frands upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is jūstly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compount Sarsaparilla, and in tend to sapply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the lead of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete cradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
