BIG STEER.-S. FELTON & Co., who have just opened a new Meat Market in this place, purchased, on Monday last, a steer, three years old which weighed 1,660 pounds, on foot.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.—No housekeeper or cook is fully prepared to enter successfully upon her culinary duties without 1). B. De Land & Co.'s Chemical Saleratus on hand. I relieves the mind of much of the care and anxiety experienced by the skillful cook. You can get it of most grocers and merchants in the country.

On Monday evening, about 6 o'clock, Mr. STEPHEN SHORES Was crossing the river on the ice, his team broke through and were in imminent danger of going under. The alarm was immediately given, when ample help arrived to his assistance, and his horses rescued from their perilous situation. The ice was considered perfectly safe, and teams had been crossing since SKATING .- On Seturday last the whole town seemed to be struck with the skating mania. The pool was alive with people, of every rank, color and position. Ministers, lawyers, bankers and merchants, young gentlemen and young ladies, old and young of every class and variety, were on their skates making the air ring with gleeful shouts. As we are not posted in the science we will not venture an opinion as to who performed best. We noticed, however, some very fair skaters in crinoline.

An exchange says : " Boys, be kind to your sisters. You may live to be old, and never find such a tender, loving friend as these sisters. Think of how many things they do for you; how patient they are with you; how they love you in spite of all your ill-temper or rudeness; how thoughtful they are for your comfort, and be you thoughtful for theirs. Be ever ready to oblige them, and if they express a wish, be ready to gratify it, if possible. You do not know how much happiness you will find in so doing."

Our devil-foolish fellow-says if you have no sister of your own to "be kind to" be kind to somebody else's sister. You will find it just as agreeable.

DR. FLESCHHUT'S STOMACH BITTERS .-It is gratifying to find, occasionally, among the world of humbugs and quacks, a medicine that is really good, and possesses those qualities which it is said to combine .--Such is Dr. Fleschhut's Stomach Bitters, which are maunactured only by himself, by extracting that part of the herb which is most healthful and beneficial. His bitters are purely vegetable, no narcotic or mineral being used. It is found to be an excellent medicine for purifying the blood and keeping the stomach and digestive organs in a vigorous state of health. It also an excellent remedy for oughs and colds-creates a good appetite, and operates upon the whole system with advantage.

Address, Dr. FREDERICK FLESCHHUT, Laporte, Sullivan

BRADFORD BOYS AT THE BATTLE OF DRAINESVILLE .- In another column will be found a list of the killed and wounded, together with fuller particulars of the Drainesville fight. The Bradford boys who were engaged, are said to have conducted themselves like " ve teran soldiers." Lieut. H. B. McKEAN, of this place, lead one column in the first charge, and is said to have exhibited much coolness and bravery. One Towanda boy, John Britton, took three rebel prisoners alone. It was done, however, by stratagem. They enquired of him the way to Centreville, and he put them on the road to Washington, and thus led them within our lines. No Bradford boys were killed.

We hope to receive letters from some of the boys giv ing full particulars, by the time of our next issue.

FIRE .- The Wellsborough Agitator of last reek gives the particulars of the most destructive confla ation which has ever occurred in that place. The fire oke out about 11 o'clock in the building occupied by C. Sears, Wm. Roberts and Clark Wilcox, on Main street. he flames spread with great rapidity and the whole line stores from Bowen & Co.'s down to Kimball's harness were in a few minutes beyond the hope of safety The sufferers by this conflagration are J. R. Bowen & dry goods, &c.; Richard Jenkins, Democrat print ng office; Wm. Roberts, hardware, &c.; C. L. Sears oots and shoes ; H. H. Wood, photographic gallery, &c A. Seats, shoe shop; C. L. Wilcox, stock of dry goods ad three store buildings ; E. K. Wright, feed, flour and ovisions; Judge Nichols, three story buildings; E. E. imball, harness shop; John A. Roy, harness shop build. ags; George Guernsey and Geo. Baker, blacksmith shop John J. Eaton, liquors and provisions. Estimated loss of property $23,000. Insurance on same estivated at $8,000. There are several theories as to the origin of the fire, but all that it was accidental.

WINTER -The chilling frost, the snow ered ground and the keen air of the last few days, convincing testimony that stern old Winter has in ty commenced his reign, and that we must now be ady to meet and endure the season of cold. But repule as the season is in many of its features it still has njoyments and its blessings. The social hearth inour presence, and about it may gather in the eventhe parent and child, and with joy, pleasure, love, sement and instruction muse away the time, while the d and storm reign without, and nature is shut up in by dungeon. The boy may find pastime enjoyment ose sports that are congenial to the season. His and skates become a deity which he worships with adoration of genuine enthusiasm. The sleigh-ride shes a measure of enjoyment that no other sport or ment excels. The evening party, the social gathg the ball, and the neighborly call supply ample for enjoyment. Just now, too, we are in the holiwith all their sports, vivacity benefactions and allowed memories. They bring with them associations, funions, gifts and recognitions of friendships, that last at alone through the passing year, but for all time .o, in view of all these things, shall say that winter. d, blustering, fretful and icy as he is, is not after all ta eld fellow with a warm heart and a genial nature, uner his frigid mantle, and one whose presence brings to s many a joyous and happy hour.

We clip the following from the Waver-Advocate, of the 27th ult. O. H. P. KINNEY, Esq., the r of that paper, will be remembered as the colleague Mr. SMEAD, from this county, on the floor of the House Epresentatives, during the sessions of 1859-60:

la looking through the Marble yard of F. H. BALD-Esq., a few days since, our eyes tell upon the follow-Scription: "THOMAS SMEAD, died Aug. 12, 1861, in he 30th year of his age."

The fine quality and proportion of the stone, together the artistic skill displayed thereon, necessarily attated our attention, and compelled admiration. We hi casually heard of the death of Mr. Smead before, but above inscription called up anew, many reminiscena both pleasant and unpleasant.

dr. Smead was a native of Bradford county—was bro't among its rugged hills, and necessarily partook of tr wild originality. He possessed more mind than his onal enemies were willing to admit, and more than ar of his friends had the courage to declare. His aphatic temperament seemed to require external exsement, and, as is too frequently the case with such or-Alzations, he resorted to artificial stimulents to bring a mental powers into full activity. This was the great of his life, and for which he early paid the penalty the inexorable laws of his being demanded. is 1850 he was elected prosecuting Attorney for Bradunty, which office he filled the succeeding three For two years (1859-60), he, in part, represent him more thoroughly and minutely than ever before .-We found him to be a shrewd and far-seeing politician. Some charge this to his account—we do not. We also found him a man of broad and unaffected benevolence hence he took the humane and benevolent side of political as well as all other questions. The intrinsic and unmitigated evil of Slavery led him early to set his face firmly against its extension. He was a man of energy— a worker of no mean capacity. Had he not wronged himself more than he wronged others, he would have worked himself into higher and more important public position. Although he had faults, he had virtues; and to every one of the former he had a score of the latter .--We learned to have charity for those faults, and the moral courage to admire, and even publicly mention some of his virtues-among which was that of never forsaking his friends."
