THE LATEST WARNEWS.

A slight skirmish occurred on Saturday afand the Rebels, on the Strasburg road, four miles from Winchester, in which we lost one man. The despatches are very confused and conflicting, but from the latest intelligence, it appears that the conflict was renewed at 10 o'clock on Sanday morning, and continued till dark. The enemy were under Gen. Jackson, Smith, and Longstreet, 15,000' strong, while our forces numbered only 8,000. Our loss in killed and wounded is not ascertained-one report says 150; the Rebels losing 100 killed, and at least twice as many wounded. We have taken a large number of prisoners, several guns and caissons, and many small arms, the ground being strewn with the weapons which the Rebels threw away in their flight. The rout of the enemy appears to have been complete, and our cavalry was still in pursuit. Gen. Shields was slightly wounded in the arm from a fragment of shell.

THE REMAINS OF COL. CAMERON SENT HOME -The remains of Col Cameron, of the 79th New York Highlanders, who was killed at the battle of Bull Ran, have been recovered and were sent to Lewisburg via. Harrisburg. The party who started out in search of the remains immediately after the evacuation of Manassas, was composed of Major A. V. Elliot and Mr. John Keene, of the War Department, and the Orderly Sergeant of the late Col. Cameron. When they reached the old battle ground, they were led to the spot by a colored man in the neighborhood.

The body had been buried with five others without a coffin.
