THE LATEST WAR NEWS.

The news from the army of the Potomac, though brief, is significant. Our advance is driving the Rebels back, a portion of Gen Sumner's division forcing a large body of them to retreat across the Rappahannock, from Warrenton Junction, on Friday. Though our troops shelled them as they crossed, the latter succeeded in burning the bridge before we could prevent it. In their haste, the enemy left a number of cars, loaded with grain and other forage, which, with a lientenant and four privates, fell into our hands. Not a man was hurt on our side. The telegraph reports that we might have cut the Rebels terribly, while they were carrying off their sick and wounded; but that, in mercy, our victorious soldiers stayed their hands. Shipping Point was occupied by us on Friday, the Rebels having left. The reported attack by Rebel cavalry on Fairfax Court House is not confirmed. We have intelligence of important movements in Virginia, but the public interest will not permit its publication at present.

Van Dorn and Price, according to the telegraph, have gathered their shattered forces, and retreated entirely across the Boston Mountains. They are now at Van Buren and Fort Smith, 35,000 strong, receiving supplies from Memphis and Little Rock, via the Arkansas River. It is probable that Van Dorn will act in conjunction with Beauregard at Corinth, to hold the line of the Cotton States. Re-enforcements were slowly joining the Rebels. The Union army of Gen. Curtis had fallen back to Keitsville, to secure forage, and were camped at the head of Cross Hollow, where it is plenty.

From North Carolina we have Newbern dates to the 26th inst. and Hatteras Inlet to the 28th. The Nashville was reported to be safe at anchor at Beaufort. Another and later dispatch says that Beaufort had been taken by Gen. Burnside, and that no property whatever had been burned. Fort Macon had son. It is known that an agreement for the neither been blown up nor abandoned, but exchange of prisoners was made some weeks was still held by the Rebels, from 300 to 500 strong ; the place was invested, however, and War by General Wool with General Cobb. the garrison must soon surrender. It is a little singular that we have not yet received | ered to us the next day under a flag of truce any official report of the escape of the Nash. at Craney Island. A boat was [sent to reville, and it is possible, therefore, that the ceive them, but no prisoners were brought from story of her escape, like the evacuation and Norfolk. THE WINCHESTER FIGHT.-A telegram from Winchester informs us that a committee of citizens, Mayor and Provost Marshal have buried all the rebel dead, which have been brought to town ; eigthty five were buried on the battle field and one hundred and twentythree on the roadside, between Winchester and Strasburg. Two hundred and thirty five prisoners have been sent to Baltimore. Several are still at Winchester, and others on their way hither. A msssenger from Stras burg states that General Johnston was to join General Jackson at Strasburg, but he subse quently sent him word that he could not join him till Monday night. Their combined forces would have been twenty-five or thirty thousand. They were alone.

On Wednesday, our pickets went six miles beyond Strasburg. The fences, trees and battery is abandoned, but the others are being fect of our artillery on the retreating enemy.

Gen. Shields's arm has been reset and he is comfortable, and will probably be able to reon Wednesday :-- hang about the whereabouts and condition of Col. Corcoran, against whom the rebels seem to have a peculiar spite. Col. Wood and Col. Cogswell both are represented as saying that they had conversation with prisoners from several days previous to their quitting that place, and inferred therefrom that he had been either removed to another prison or sent further South. Though it is well understood that the President has made special exertions to procare the release of Col. Corcoran, yet it is equally well understood that the rebel authorities will consent to give him up only condition that Smith the condemned privateer or private, shall be surrendered to them.

Sr. Louis, Thursday, March 27.

A special dispatch to the Republican, dated near Island No. 10, evening of the 26th, says that only three shells were thrown by the mortars to-day, to which no response was made by the rebels. This morning Col. Buford sent arranging and intending to keep Banks from Twenty Seventh Illinois down the Missouri moving to another point, but Jackson being shore. They arrested three prominent resiimpressed with the belief that our troops had dents, who report that 2,000 negroes are emnearly all left, hazarded his fatal advance ployed on the island and at the batteries along the shore ; that sixty-five rebel troops, including two Lieutenants and forty negroes, have been killed by our shells ; that the upper shore ground along the route show the terrible ef. strengthened ; that the enemy is 15,000 strong, and that their encampment has been moved antirely out of range of our guns. The rebels are confident of success, and say they have a good road to Trenton and other points, by sume active duties in two weeks. The follow which they can escape whenever they choose. ing dispatch was telegraphed to Gen. Shields, They have plenty of provisious. Three rebel steamers, loaded with troops, were seen watching the shore to prevent communication from here. The total number of the enemy's transports is eleven. Two or three balloon ascensions have been made by Capt. Steimer, but the weather was too thick for favorable observation.

One of the partly-finished gunboats at Memphis was fired the other night, but the fire now concentrating at Corinth. was extinguished before much damage was done

The new Tennessee levies were disbanding and refusing to fight with the pikes, which were the only weapons offered them.

CHICACGO, Thursday, March 27. A special to the Chicago Tribune contains the following :-

"A gentleman arrived on the Conestoga this morning, with intelligence from Island No. 10 up to 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Col. Buford sent a force to make a recomoissance on the Kentucky shore on Tuesday Charleston, who said they had not seen him for night, which succeeded in capturing six pris oners belonging to a Tennessee cavalry regi ment. They report the strength of the rebels near the island at 15,000. Gen. Bragg is in command. Fifteen bundred reinforcements reached there from Humboldt, baving come by railroad to a point only fifteen miles distant Still larger reinforcements were expected by the same route last night, Measures have been taken to intercept this means of commu nication."

Sr. Louis, Saturday, March 29, 1862. The St. Louis Democrat has a dispatch from Cairo which says :

The steamer Dickey went down to the fleet yesterday, heavily laden with ordnance and commissary stores.

Four 50-pounders, navy cannon, were also taken down for the gunboat Benton ; also arrived, but without bringing an intelligence some hand grenades to repel boarding parties.

Pope's command from crossing to attack their rear. Sr. Louis, March 30, 1862. The army correspondent of The Republican silk. writing under date of Cairo, March 29, says the firing on Friday at Island No. 10 was quite heavy, the Rebels opening from a new battery, mounted, it is supposed, with 128pounders. The enemy could be seen cutting away trees and rapidly pushing forward other means of defense. They seem to have no idea of evacuating at present, and are daily getting more cannon in position. Word reached the fleet last night that four Rebel gunboats partly clad with railroad iron appeared below Point Pleasant, but as Gen. Pope's batteries extend in an almost continuous line for fitteen miles, it is not believed they can force a passage. CAIRO, Saturday, March 29, 1862. After a lull the bombardment at Island No. 10 was renewed vigorously yesterday. The Rebels appear to have received and and put in position new guns of longer range.
