The principal points brought out are that meadows and pastures will only yield the largest amount of valuable grasses when they are under careful eulture. Soar grasses usually disappear with thorough drainage, and the more natritious grasses take their places; but to enable the soil to produce these in abundance, it is often necessary to apply manure. To eradicate some of the inferior grasses, weed ing is necessary; and as the greater number of the 150 species of grasses which occupy meadows and pastures in this country are not relished by the domesticated animals, the expense always on hand and made to order. tailed by weeding and manuring will often be considerable; but this expense will generally be more than covered by the improved swathe of grass cut from the meadows, and the increased amount of succulent and nutritious herbage produced on the pasture lands.

Rolling and harrowing are often beneficial to certain descriptions of meadows and pastures-rolling by consolidating the soil, and harrowing by removing moss and other weeds. The trampling by the folding of sheep is only a way of improving a madow or pasture in bad condition by sheep being removed from the turnip field in the evening, and kept in the meadow or pasture during the night .-This system has not much to recommend it to general adoption, as it is not conductive to the health and general progress of the sheep being fattened on the turnips. A better plan is to cart food to the meadow or pasture to be improved; the sheep feed upon turnips and oleaginous cakes, corn, &c , will render the portions folded more productive. The Professor also recommends that in sowing out meadows and pastures care should be exercised to procare clean grass seeds. This is one of the conditions essential to obtain a valuable meadow or pasture field.

As the season advances, the owners and occupiers of meadows and pastures should study the character of the plants which occupy the soil. Draining, manuring and weeding will effect such decided changes as to render such lands much more profitable to all those directly interested in their productive capabilities

RECIPE EOR RHUBARB WINE.—Some time since we noticed a sample of Rhubarb Wine, AT PANIC PRICES. RECIPE EOR RHUBARB WINE .- Some time sent us by Mr. C. D. Stephens, of La Salle Co., Ill. It was pronounced a very fine article by all who tasted it. Mr. Stephens in his method of making wine as follows :-

"I strip the leaves from the stalks, and crush the latter in a sugar mill, and press them in a press having a three inch iron screw. For a 40 gallon barrel I put into a mixing tub 20 gellons of juice, 140 lbs. of best brown sugar, and water enough to make 40 gallons. Mix well, and pour into the barrel, leaving the bung open and keep the barrel full until it is done working, and then bung tight for six weeks. Then dissolve four oz, of isinglass in warm wine, pour it into the barrel and bung tight, leaving it so for a year; then rack off and it is fit for use, but will be much better at two years, and so on the older the better.

the Iowa Homestead, the following method of a correspondent to destroy caterpillers :

"I have found but one sure means of gettrees, carrying with me a pan or bucket of common soap, diluted with water to the consistency of the yolk of an egg. I make liberal application of the soap to limbs, above and below where the web is located, and am careful to have the web perfectly daubed, so as not to permit the escape of any insect. I easily apply the soap to the high limbs by fastening am offering at 'swab" of tow or rags to the end of a pole This must be attended to once a day, or the fruiting trees will be stripped of a vast amount of fruit. Their increase is beyond probable of fruit. Their increase is beyond probable conjecture, and they are more tenacions of life CLOTHING STORE than many would suppose. Soap appears to destroy the worm immediately. Many rub tar on the tree to prevent insects from crawling up; this I consider injurious to the bark of the tree, and only a poor means of prevention."

An exchange remarks that whale oil soap, about a pound to a bucket of water, is much stronger and more offensive as well a destructive to insects of all kinds, than the common soap. Where properly applied, it seems to kill and keep away all kinds of slugs, worms, bugs, &c.

CURRANT WINE .- Dissolve eight pounds of honey in fifteen gallons of boiling water to which when clarified, add the juice of eight pounds of red or white currants; then ferment for twenty-four hours; to every two gallons add two pounds of sugar, and clarify with whites of eggs.

RASPBERRY WINE .- Bruise the finest ripe Large Stock of raspherry with a back of a spoon; strain them quart of jvice; stir these well together, and cover the jar closely; let it stand three days, stirring the mixture up every day; then pour off the clear liquid, and put two quarts of sherry to each quart of inice or lipuid. through a flannel bag into a stone jar; allow one pound of fine powdered loaf sugar to one ry to each quart of juice or lipuid. Bottle it off, and it will be fit for use in a fortnight .--By adding Cognac brandy instead of sherry, the mixture will be raspberry brandy.

And opposing, end them."

THE proprietor of the Argus takes occasion in adver tising his Bindery to indulge in an uncalled for fling about a "sort of a concern," which is hoping "to delude the public." As I have opened a Bindery on my own account, the inference is that if the public bring their binding to me, they are in no danger of being defrauded. For two years I have worked for Mr. Parsons, and he has taken great painst satisfy the public I was the "best Binder in America," as the columns of the Argus wil testily. Has he been all that time "deluding the public?" If I have been engaged in a fraud, he has been th principal. But I refer to my work during that time a evidence that there has been no fraud practiced.

Having served a long apprenticeship at the Bindery business, I have resumed business here on my own account, as I know of nothing which prevents me from following a legitimate and bawful calling for my support. lowing a legitimate and bawful calling for my support.— I shall endeavor by good work and attention to my busi-ness to give public satisfaction.

Pupils boarding in the Hall will furnish their own toels, &c., and the table silver as their option. It is desirable that they also furnish their own bed and bedding when it is convenient, but when otherwise, these will be turnished at a slight charge.

It is strongly recommended that students from abroad should board in the Institution, as better opportunities for advancement in study are thereby secured.

Normal Department—Special exercises are arranged without extra charge for those preparing themselves as Teachers of Common Schools. Prof. C.R. COBUIN, the able and well known Superintendent of Common Schools in the county, has kindly consented to organize the Teacher's class, and direct the course to be pursued.

He will also be present to conduct its exercises as often as practicable, and will deliver frequent lectures on the Theory and Practice of Teaching, as also on other subjects connected with Normal training.

Those persons, therefore, intending to engage in teaching for the winter, will find it greatly to their advantage to be present during the Fall term.

Prof. Coburn's connection with the institution is not such as to in any way interfere with the discharge of the regular duties of his office.

No pains will be spared, on the part of the Faculty and Trustees in sustaining the high repulatation the institution has hitherto enjoyed, and in rendering it more worky of future patronage and support.
