(For the Reporter.) The Colonel and the Candidate.

Fame is so busy just now in embalming heroes, and really great men, that we have been led to fear, unless we take up her trumpet. tertain personages in Bradford county may soffer under neglect in the pages of current history. To be sure, the Wysox Colonel generally blows a sonorous trumpet in his own bebalf, and one, too, that has more brass in it than either good taste or good sense allowsstill, to guard against all possible dereliction, we propose to chronicle a few leading events of the last few weeks.

The proclamation of Gov. CURTIN aroused our populace : of course, the gallant Wysoxian was astir, and being determined not to be commanded by, or share a command with any one else, he burried together a Spartan band of some ten or twelve in number, and moved of to Harrisburg-encamping there in an empty house, but not, as far as we know, ever reporting his band to the Governor, or the miliary authorities of the State. When the other levies of the County reached Harrisburg, and promptly placed themselves at the Governor's order, the Colonel suddenly became impressed with a fear that " a cat was in the meal tub " -that there was danger of carrying this business of soldiering too far ; that the troops might be illegally ordered to Maryland, where the red clouds of battle were then gathering. These fears impressed few besides himself.

At length, most of his men joined the new regiment in which the Bradford levies were enrolled, and moved onward toward the bloody foray in Maryland ; while the valiant Colonel took the back track up the river to Tunkhannock to attend the Democratic Congressional Conference. Candidate TRACY, of course, must pot back out, at least must not seem to do so. Bot apparently,

"Remembering the perils which environ The man who meddles with cold iron "- he left his rifle (hitherto a constant companion) at Harrisburg, going unarmed toward the truggling battle field !

The encampment within hearing of the enemy's artillery ; the sudden call at midnight to mm in line of battle ;- the hurrying to and 16th o, and the hot haste of the hour which folwed-we leave to be recorded elsewhere.office it to say, that Candidate TRACY, like all the others, came safely out of it, and two Bur r three days afterwards, was gladly greeted ar three days arter wards, here the Congression of ional contest at Tunkhannock. The gallant Colonel now (at Greencastle) took his place among the returning troops ; fed and foraged with them back to Harrisburg, where he and Mo TRACY resumed their formidable rifles once more, and bore them manfully and gracefully back to Towanda 1

The boys did ask-for boys will be boys. ou know-whether TRACY and PIOLLET really spected to shoot anything this side of Harsburg-since they didn't carry their rifles be yond that point ? We think the boys were unnecessarily inquisitive. The reader may form his own conclusions.

touching Gen. McClellan and the organization of the army are hurtfully and strangely false. We have the most positive assurance from the highest authority that only such measures were discussed by the loyal Governors as tend to strengthen the arm of the National Govern ment in carrying on the war ith great vigor and in favor of the President's policy of emancipation.

Gen. NELSON, whose name has become famous during the war, in connection with the operations of our armies in the Southwest, was shot and almost instantly killed Monday morning at the Galt House in Louisville by Jeff. C. Davis, also famous in the same connection. There has been a personal difficulty between the two Generals for some time, and the immediate provocation to the homicide is under-

for Our most reliable information from the Upper Potomac indicates that the bulk of the for settlement. rebel force is at Winchester, which place is designed both as a base and a nucleus of operation ; and the statement to the effect that the rebels are still in force on the south bank of the Potomae probably arise from the fact that they are keeping sufficient men in the vicinity to dispute the crossing of the forcesthey undoubtedly wishing to detain our army on the north back of the river, while fearing a movement to cut off their communications with Richmond.

MEDICINES THAT CURE.-One of the Regs" MEDICINES THAT CURE.—One of the special peculiarities of Dr. Ayer's preparations is, that they accomplish what is promised for them. Who, in this community, does not know that of all the cough remedies the Cherry Pectoral is by far the best? Who that ever uses pills but will tell you Ayers Pills are at once the mildest and most searching most effectual of all? Did anybody ever hear of his Ague Cure failing in a single case? Not an instance has been found where Fover and Ague has resisted the faithful trial of it. This may seem a bold assertion, but we are assured it is true. This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul hu-mors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disor-ders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can by the ald of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of toul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not as-sisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores ; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you whene. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well ; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Booner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.
Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation, of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the vir-tue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.
During late years the public have been misled by large battles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsa-parilla tor one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointhment has followed the use COLLINS' If you wish to get the worth of your money, and buy new fresh Goods and fair dealing, call on us and you will be satisfied. ### They are Making a Fool of You."

When I was quite young, I made my first ip down the river on a raft. As we aproached the celebrated Buttermilk falls, we were told by those acquainted with the river. that while running the falls, one of us must climb o the top of the cabin and hold a brand of fire in order to save it from being extinguished y the rough and foaming waters. I was se ected for this important duty. Accordingly, with a firebrand in my hand, I seated myself on the top of the cabin, and holding it aloft, stened to the ; oaring waters, which I suppos ed would soon sweep over the raft. While thus engaged and expecting every moment to come o the falls, I discovered a stream of water falling down the side of the mountain, which swakened in my mind some apprehension that had been sold. At this moment, I saw a person on the shore who seemed to be observing with some interest the movements on the raft and paaticularly my uncomfortable and embarrassed situation ; said he to me, " young man, come down ; they are making a fool of

It was enough, all easily understood. But the lesson was not lost. In after life I have many times profited by the lesson taught me by the kind hearted person on the shore.

When I have seen men who are honest and apright persuaded to vote for men in office who ave failed to receive a regular nomination, and whose aim is to break up and distract and lestroy, I would say "they are making a fool you." When I see candidates go into Coun-Convention and ask for nomination by the Republican party, and are defeated-and when these men are told by the Democrats that if they will bolt the regular ticket and come before the people the Democrats will assist to elect them, I would say, "Mistaken men, they are making fools of you." When I see men holding important offices in the coungoing in with the Democrats to break up e party that elected them, forgetting their ends and betraying their party into the hands of their enemies, "Ungrateful men," say I, " they are making fools of you."

When I see men who claim to be Republicans, and to love freedom and hate slavery, and desire the welfare and prosperity of their country, uniting with Democrats to defeat the election of the Republican candidate for Congress in this disttiet, thereby accomplishing precisely what JEFF. DAVIS would have them do, and carrying joy and gladness to the heart of Rebeldom-" Misguided men," I say, " they are making fools of you."
