this unfortunate commander. Gen. Burnside has been three times offered the command of the Army of the Potomac .-He declined it twice, partly from a strong lan, and partly from thorough confidence in his military capacity, and his devotion to the Union cause. This confidence, we suspect, was somewhat shaken during and after the against the General's causeless suspension of the fight, has probably released him from the personal obligations on which he was previousthe war great military ability, and a thorough, unqualified, unquestioning devotion to the cause he serves. What he will be able to accomplish remains to be seen. It is now certain that, in consequence of the extraordinary delay in the movements of our army, the rebels have completely eluded them, and are now beyond their reach. The autumnal rains have commenced; the rivers and small streams of Virginia are no longer fordable; the reads all rapid and effective movement is nearly impossible. If it was any part of Gen. McClellan's purpose to prevent a decisive battle with the rebel army, he was probably left in com-

The President is employed day and night in devote many hours to their annual reports .-Our citizens, too, are keenly alive to the immaking many improvements, some of which are really indispensable. Merchants are laying in large stocks of everything needful for varieties and avowed determination to compete | men. nobly with other cities in reasonable prices .-Hotels have been enlarged and renovated; private boarding-houses are making ample arrangements for similar accommodations, and in this respect many of our experienced lady proprietors cannot be excelled; whilst those who have "furnished rooms to let" vie with each other in extending the greatest facilities. THE SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY AND THE got abroad that Mr. Chase intends to make war npon the banks. Nothing could be farther from the truth. He is in intimate relaways. Mr. Chase is so managing the affars of his department as to enable him to cease issuing paper currency at an early date, if this shall be possible. He is now getting clear of his remainders. When the seventhirties now put up are sold, the only remaining original stock will be the five-twenty-six per cents. This is to be made the great popular Government Loan. It is believed that Mr. Chase will not ask for authority to issue any more seven-thirties, or twenty year six per cents. Under these circumstances the few millions of seven-thirties soon to be sold will command current rates. It is all of this kind of stock the public will get from the Treasury Department.

The revenue of the government during 1863, it is expected, will be not far from $270,000. 000-$200,000,000 from taxes, $60,000,000 from duties, and $10,000,000 from postoffice revenues. It is said that Mr. Chase does not estimate the revenues from taxes higher than $150,000,000, but nearly all the financial men connected with the department put it at or about $200,000,009.

The national debt, with an income of $270, 000,000, will not one year from now, be one thousand millions, and some able financiers put the figures as low as eight hundred millions. It will not cost more to support an army of one million in 1863, than it did to support any army of 600,000 in 1862, for the reason that the most of the muskets and clothing and munitions of war and vessels are pro-

DEATH OF AN OFFICER .- Major General RICHARDSON died at Sharpsburg, Maryland, on Monday week from wounds received at the battle of Antietam while commanding a division in the corps of General Sumner. The deceased was a native of Vermont. He was educated at West Point, and served nearly twenty years in the army of the United States, which he left with the rank of major a short time ago. During the Mexican war he distinguished himself in nearly every important battle, and perhaps received more brevets than any other officer of his rank.

THE SURRENDER OF HARPER'S FERRY .- A military commission, consisting of Gen.'s Hugter, Cadwalader, Augur, Major Piatt, Capt. Ball, and Col. THE NEXT CONGRES S.

On Monday next, two weeks, the third session of the XXXVIIth Congress will convene documents of every kind, which can throw at the Capitol. A good deal of speculation is going on in regard to the political complexion of that body. From reliable data we sum Members, as follows: Administration, 75; proaching that point-our scouts reporting feeling of personal affection for Gen. McClel- Opposition, 69; Doubtful, 7. Elections are that he has passed through Winchester in that vet to be held in New Hampshier, Vermont. Rhode Island, Connecticut, Maryland, Western Virginia and Kentucky. THE DRAFTED MEN-A DIFFICULTY SET-TLED .- There has been dissatisfaction among the drafted men of this State, almost amounting to mutiny, because the Government had are becoming muddy and impracticable; and determined to assign them to duty in the old regiments, and not allow them to choose their officers. This difficulty is now, fortunately, removed, the Federal authorities having yieldmand just long enough to accomplish his ob. ed to the carnest appeals of the men. The drafted militia are to be allowed to select their own field and company officers, and the Congress .- On next Monday two weeks officers heretofore appointed to convey them the third session of the Thirty-seventh Con- to the old regiments are relieved from duty. > THE RETURN OF GEN. CAMERON. - The Hon. Simon Cameron, Minister to Russia, returned on Saturday from St. Petersburg, having received a short furlough. He has not resigned his position as yet, but will leave for Washington on Monday to consult with the Administration. He reports the friendly feeling of the Russian Government to be as steadfast as ever. The other European Government are still considering the question of intervention. Mr. Cameron states that three immense iron elad steam rams are being constructed in England, with which it is supposed an attack will be made upon our Northern cities.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

From the headquarters of the Army of the | To the Reverend Clergy of the State : Potomac we learn that a rebel brigade, which has for several days been reconnoitering in position on the Rappahannock, left the vicinity on Friday morning for Culpepper, barrassed on their retreat by Gen. Pleasanton's cavalry. There are indications that the rebels intend to evacuate Culpepper, probably with a view to concentrate at Gordonsville. The reports as to the whereabouts of Jackson and his command are contradictory. At headquarters he is reported to be still hovering about Chester Gap, with not more than forty thousand men under his command, while at up the result in the States which have elected Harper's Ferry it is believed that he is apdirection on Monday, followed by Gen. Hill on Tuesday. In either contingency our officers are believed to be fully prepared.

Two members of Gen. McClellan's staff-Lieutenant Cols. A. P. Colburn and J. C Duane, of the Engineer Corps-were on Friday morning sent to Washington, from Trenton, under an arrest. A report prevailed in to be arrested, but no further arrests have yet been made. No explanation is given of the cause of the arrest, but insubordinate language is probably at the bottom of it.

The Evening Post has the best authority for stating that Gen. Cass, in a communication to the President, he expressed the fullest approval of the removal of Gen. McClellan from the command of our army in Virginia.

The Memphis Bulletin, of November 8th, states that on evacuating Holly Springs, the rebel army went in different directions. Some are back of Hatchie, some have gone to Jackson, and others to Meridian.

Confederate Government, says that but 1,-500 Kentuckians joined him in his late raid into that State; that the people hesitated to ed three prices for supplies.

-five additional vessels having been chartered on Nov. 13, and by the 25th of the pres ent month it is expected that the fleet will be under way for its destination.

General McClernand is now at Columbus. Ky., organizing his expeditionary force. The following Indiana regiments have either arrived at or are on their way to join General open the Mississippi : Eighty third, Ninety | President Lorez, of Paraguay. His son prothird, Ninety-seventh, Ninety-ninth and One visionally fills the vacancy. The Liverpool hundreth. The Fifty fourth, Col. In addition to these there will be a in the Second Infantry. He was promoted in Corps of Reserve, consisting of the Eleventh 1846. Having displayed staff qualities of the Corps and such other troops as may hereafter highest order, he was chosen as regimental be assigned to it, under command of General Adjutant. In 1847 he was appointed Assis. Sigel. tant Adjutant General in the regular staff of the army. For gallant and meritorious conthe Nineteenth United States Infantry. His be. present commission as Brigadier-General of volunteers is dated the 31st of March, 1862.

We have dates from New Orleans to the 4th inst., furnishing details of the expedition under command of Gen. Weitzel. Our forces encountered the enemy in considerable strength at a place called Labadieville, and defeated them after a brisk fight, and a brilliant display of generalship on the part of Gen. Weitzel. Two hundred of the enemy were killed, wounded and taken prisoners, and one piece of artillery was captured. The Rebels were pursued in the direction of Berwick's Bay, where Gov. Moore was supposed to be. Gen. Butler had paid a visit of courtesy to the French war steamer Catinet, and the usual interchange of civilities took place on the occasion.

From Gen. Burnside's army we learn that on Friday morning, while the 2d Division of the 9th Corps, under Gen. Storgis, were passing from Sulphur Springs to Fayetteville, at a point about four miles from the latter place, a Rebel battery opened upon the column from an elevation on the opposite bank Rachel Seaman, on the 6th ult., captured, off of the river. The attack was sudden and rapid firing ensued from a 20-pound gun and several of lighter caliber. Capt. Durck's Penusylvania battery, which was passing at the time, was placed in position, and replied to the Rebels. The artillery duel lasted for more than two hours, when the Rebels withdrew, and the column continued its march to Fayetteville.

Attention of our readers is directed to an advertisement of a Public Sale of a few carriages in an other column.

Sermon on Education.

GENTLEMEN: The Educational State Convention, which was in session in Harrisburg last August, unanimously adopted a resolution, "That ministers of the Gospel throughout the State be requested to preach, on the first Sunday in December, 1862, a sermon on popular education."

As the Convention adopted no means to army were taken. make its wishes on the subject known to you, other than the publication of the minutes of its proceedings, I have taken the liberty, in this manner, to invite your attention to it.

At all times the due training of the young s of great importance, and the relation to it of the Christian ministers is plain and intimate. In the present unhappy juncture of our national affairs, regarding the future thro' the uncertain light of the present, this importance is vastly increased, and the relations of your body to it seems to become in the same proportion nearer.

The wishes of the Convention are therefore cordially commended to your favorable consideration, with the hope that you will simultaneously add your prayers to the Father of preme Court. Light that He will at this time especially bless the cause of general education, and so guide the efforts of all entrusted with its care, that the youths of the land may become Christian citizens of a united and prosperous Republic.

Very respectfully, Your obedient servant, THOMAS H. BURROWS, Supt. Com. Schools. DEPARTMENT OF COMMON SCHOOLS, HARRISBURG, Nov. 11, 1862.
