SUMMARY OF NEWS.

The Rebel advance in Mississippi is said to be at Okolona, trying to repair the railroad destroyed by Gen. Grant. By the way of to Wicksburg, and also taken all the garrison of Mobile except 4,000 for police duty. The railroad from Selma to Meridian is completed, thus enabling the Rebels to rapidly concentrate their forces at Vicksburg.

Maj. Gen. Fremont has, for the second time has no political pilgrimage on hand, he has his place is in the field. There is not much danger of the disease becoming epidemic.

A dispatch from Cairo states that the lethe west bank opposite Lake Providence.

The War Department has ordered a special court to inquire into the charges that Union meet at once in Cairo.

Washington dispatches characterize the Rebel stories of disaffection in Gen. Banks's army as weak inventions of the enemy. The truth proves the exact reverse.

The official account of the recent attack on our fleet in Charlestion harbor, from Admiral Dupont, establishes the fact pretty clearly that the blockade of that port was never broken. The statements of the officers of blockading vessels, which Admiral Dopont encloses, deny absolutely nearly all the facts promulgated by General Beauregard and Commodore Ingraham, and endorsed by the foreign consuls-the latter officials receiving a severe rebuke for their agency in the propagation of the original report. From the official despatch, we learn that not half the fleet slipped their cables during the action on the morning of the 31st ult., nor moved from their anchorage during the day. Even the Stono river, where the Issac Smith was lost, is again reoccupied, and Union sailors and soldiers are constantly on shore at James

Among the interesting items of news from the South are the proceedings of the rebel Congress with reference to the navigation of the Mississippi river, which was declared free to all friendly States by the Confederate provisional government in 1861, and relating to the confiscation of property belonging to alien enemies (Unionists.) A bill authorizing the impressment of slaves and property for the use of the rebel army was passed in the House of Representatives, and a resolution was adopted providing for the sale of all negroes found in arms against the rebel government, the proceeds to be divided among the captors. A vote of thanks to the guerilla chief Morgan for his services in the West was also adopted.

The London Telegraph of the 31st of January says the Hon. Mr. Mason, the Commissioner from the Confederate States, has been one of the distinguised circle of visitors entertained by the Marquis and Marchioness of Bath, at Longleat, during the past week.

Some difficulty occurred at Port Royal as to the right of command to the troops of General Foster's expedition to that place, the latter officer presuming that, although within the jurisdiction of General Hunter's military department, the supreme command of his own men still rested in himself, as being a portion of the Eighth Army corps. But Gen. Hunter has settled the question by assuming command of Gen. Foster's troops, regarding them as re-enforcements to the Tenth Army corps, of which he is chief, and requiring Generals Naglee and Ferry to report to him.

General Hooker, accompanied by Generals Butterfield and Sickles, reviewed the corps of General Sigel on Monday, and expressed him self greatly pleased with the appearance and discipline of the men. There is nothing of importance regarding military movements reported from the Army of the Potomac.

The official account of the destruction of the United States steamer Hatteras by the privateer Alabama was received at the Navy Department yesterday from Lieutenant Commanding Blake and Surgeon Matthews, dated from the United States consulate at Kingston, Jamaica. The loss suffered by the crew of the Hatterass was two killed and five wounded. The latter are being well cared for in hospital at Kingston.

Some "patriotic" individuals have formed an association known as the "S. B." in Illinois. The Chicago Post vouches for its patrictic designs, and that it is extensively introduced into the army, the initials signifying "Strong Band" or "Strong Brotherhood."-If such an organization exists, it is probably a branch of the K. G. C. and the initials are more likely to signify "Secession Blowers" ly interpreted "Slow Boys." Honest patriotism needs no such secret political machinery. was passed.

General Burnside was before the Committee on the Conduct of the War, to testify in res ponse to the resolution of the Senate inquiring of his having been interfered with in his plans for the taking of Richmond. His testimony revealed some startling facts; none of the committee doubted his word, and yet they were slow to believe that more than one General has been guilty of treason. Charges now bang over the heads of several officers which, if true, any other Government save our own would order them to a military execution forth-Tuscumbia it is reported that the enemy have with. His testimony will probably not all be moved a large part of the Army of Virginia reported to the Senate at present. Perhaps it will not be published to the world until after the war is over.

The difficulties that General Burnside has had thrown in his way since his taking command, from the day the pontoons were not forthcoming, as per agreement with Generals we believe, urged the Government to give him Halleck and Meigs, to the day he resigned' something to do-some active service. As he were of all kinds. Imbecility, cowardice, apathy and treason met him at every turn .-come to the rather singular conclusion that His orders were not always obeyed just when they should be; officers from whom more should have been expected shirked their duty; treason in our own camps exposed his plans vees on the east side of the Mississippi at Ya to the enemy as rapidly as they were formed, 200 Pass, have been cut by the Union forces. and jealous officers succeeded in more than They have also been cut at Greenville, and on once preventing a forward movement at the opportune moment.

It is believed that the Court-martial of General Franklin will bring many facts to light, officers have been concerned in traffic in cot- and show to the country why we have again ton, &c., on the Mississippi. The court will failed to take Richmond and destroy the Rebel Army of the Potomac.

General Burnside has again demanded that a command be given him where he can be of some service in suppressing the Rebellion, or that he has said 'General McClellan is the only man who is competent to lead the Army of the Potomac is entirely false. Men claiming to be the especial friends of General McClel Government resorted to the system of military ian have proved to be the worst enemies of arrests of dangerous persons, and having thus General Burnside and of the country.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 12, 1863. To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN : - I desire to call your attenon to a subject of moment.

When the present infamous and God conemned rebellion broke out, Congress was not of things not having been foreseen in former steam chest, and killing twenty-one men in all. times, no adequate legislation had been had to The Union gunboat Honsatonic by this time meet it. At the same time the life of the got into action and drove off the rams, which, he will resign his commission. The pression was erroneous, I deem it my duty now

The contest in which we are engaged is one for the preservation of our own liberty and welfare. The traitors at the south hate the great body of our people who are loyal, as on the circulation of the banks, so as to make hate and bitterly despise the few who are ready it 1 per cent. for two years, and 2 per cent. for submission. Unless the rebellion be effectafter that. It was adopted, 23 to 15. On ually suppressed we must lose our pride of country, the larger portion of our territory, and the elements not only of greatness, but of prosthe four nays were the very malignant copper- perity and even of security to life, liberty and property. Notwithstanding all this, it is, I fear, an undoubted truth that a few wretches among us, false to all our free and loval traditionsfalse to the memory of their fathers and to the rights of their children -false to the country which has given them birth and protected House agreed to the amendment striking out them-only stopping short of the technical of an appropriation of $463,000 for the New. fence of treason-in the very madness of mis chief, are actively plotting to betray us-to poison and mislead the minds of our people by treacherous misrepresentations, and to so aid and comfort the rebels that our fate may be ei now built. The Affair in Charleston Harbor-The Rebel Story Totally False.

As we anticipated, the rebel report to the affair in Charleston harbor was not only exaggerated, but almost entirely untrue. Union and true version of the affair, received by the arrival of the Princess Royal at Philadelphia yesterday, shows that none of our vessels were sunk, none of them were set on fire, none of them were seriously disabled; that the fleet was not scattered, nor was the blockade raised or broken in any particular. The real facts are briefly these:

The Princess Royal, a new and valuable contraband blockade running steamship from The message was ordered to be printed in England, was captured by our gunboat Mercedita on the 29th, but the pilot and another officer got ashere in a small bot. The rebels, annoyed at the mishap, undertook to recenture the Princess. On a forgy morning, at one o'clock, they got out two rams, one of which ran against the Mercedita (a light draught vessel lying close in shore), and at the same time fired a shot which went into her boiler, whereby four men were killed. Captain Stell wagen of the Mercedita sent a boat to the ram, representing that he was in a sinking condition, but not surrendered. The ram could not or would not take anybody on board but demanded a surrender : the Mercedita's Lieutenant did finally surrender bimself, was paroled, and went back to his ship. take one day to repair her; the Keystone plete muchinery for the construction of an iron-clad ram; also as a passenger, an intelligent English mechanic, who is well versed in the process of making and hardening projectridge papers, is now receiving their fulmina Her possession by the rebels would have been worth the effort they made to obtain her by he attack on the blockading squadron .- Eve

work of putting down the rebellion. We beieve that we shall achieve the task. What troubles we may have to overcome, what thorized to make any representations of any sufferings to endure, what sacrifices to make, kind, on any subject, to the rebel authorities how many years we may have to suffer, how many lives and how much treasure may be spent we cannot conjecture. But we have journed sine die on Saturday, having been in they are defending, that we have no sort of 67 working days. The finding will not be doubt of our ultimate success. We know that made public until it has been submitted to the the rebels are strong, but we believe that we President. are mightier than they. We see how much has been accomplished in a year, and we are convinced that before the first of May, their take refuge at Kingston, Jamaica, where she domain will be much more restricted than it is now. We know that there is scattered hrough every State in the north a party of mpromisers, peace democrats, men willing to great anything to the south that she wishes, provided only that they can regain those places of power from which a patriotic people, indignant at their iniquities, hurled hem to the ground. But we believe that their number and influnce is overrated by many .-By blowing hot and cold, by talking a little patriotism and artfully disguising their treason by shams and tricks, by noise and newspapers, they may do much mischief. They are doing much to-day. But they are not the people nor the majority. Only let their masks be stripped, let their intentions be stated in plain English, let it be really felt that the control of affairs is passing into their hands, and that this nation is to be delivered over, bound hand and foot, to Jeff. Davis, and you will see a rally like that which followed the fall of Sumter. Men may be weary of the war, may become despondent, may sigh for peace, but when the crisis comes, and the acknowledge ment that the rebellion has succeeded is to be made and all the direful consequences of yielding to it, stares us in the face, the nation will gather up again its trembling energies, and with a mightier blow than has yet been struck dash down to rain the rebellion at the south and the meaner conspiracy at the north. Such is our unshaken, abiding and sacred coavie

REVISED REVENUE CODE .- The next important State business likely to come before our Legislature this year, says an exchange, is the bill matured by three competent men during the last season for the equalizing and remodel ing of our State Tax System. Eight to ten thousand copies of the bill, in pamphlet form, have been sent over the State, for the examination of the system. It now becomes the people, without distinction of party, to give their Representatives their views on the subject. It is no party-it is no transient, or trifling affair : it concerns the fruits of all your toils and possessions, as the basis of taxation not only for State but for all other purposes except that of putting down the slaveholders' insurrection. It is very important, then, that Amount of orders outstanding Jan. 1. '03.

The main features of the Revenue Code are a great decrease of the real estate tax; an crease of the railway and other taxes of cororations; and more direct and simple and effective mode of laying and collecting taxes. The details of these measures are too numerous or a newspaper article. The Code should be read for that purpose. One or more copies have been sent to every Post Office in the country, for general examination.

The Act to make the Bill a Law comes properly before the House, first-and to it the people should send their petitions in favor, or remonstrances against, the proposed important changes. And let it be done speedily, that those intrusted with decisive action may have time to understand your views, and to mature
