The explosion occurred about 4 intense agony. The explosion occurred about 4 o'clock in the morning, while getting up steam, and the guages had but a moment previous been tested, and found all right. The boiler was a new one, and must have been defective. It is supposed that Mr. Webber was standing in front of the boiler, oiling the machinery, a bulkhead being between him and the boiler. The force of the explosion drove the bulkhead out of the mill, carrying him with it. Mr. W. was from Springfield township, aged about 36 years. He leaves a wife and three aged about 36 years.
