It is an established fact that a large proportion of the Garden Seeds sold in the country are worthless or nearly so. The reason is obvious. Seeds are left by the owners with merchants to sell on commission, often but a small portion of them are sold, the remainder being returned, so the remainder being returned. So the remainder being returned to sell on commission, often but a small portion of them are sold, the remainder being returned, so continuing until as a matter of course many of the seeds are worthless. In order to get the best and most reliable seeds I have bought a large stock of Robert Buist, of Philadelphia, a house whose reputation for selling fresh and pure seeds is not surpassed by any in the country; and who never send out any seeds on commission, and consequently not liable to accumulate old stock.

HAGLEY.—At the residence of Andrew Moscript, in Herrick, April 2d, 1865, of Chronic Diarrhoea, Miles P. Hagley, of Co. H, 12th Conn. Vol., aged

James D. Humphrey departed this life a Towanda, April 26, 1865. Born in Massachusettes, his father removed to Orwell, where he was mown as a practising physician, and the son passed the first active years of early manhood. In 1855 the subject of our sketch came to Towanda, established himself in business which he prosecuted with assiduity and success. Returning to Orwell for a temporary sojurn in the fall of 1861, he was the past winter. On recovering, he resumed his place in the old circle of his friends in town, by whom he was most warmly welcomed, and the hope cherished, that his familiar face would long remain to greet them on the street and in the Sanctuary.

But He who doeth all things well, had ordained a better portion for this His servant. rest. "He is not for God took him."
On the following Sabbath—amid the balmy air of a spring morning—the bright sun overhead and the opening leaves of the woods around, all so suggestive of the "Resurrection of the Just," a long procession pursued its way to Orwell-Hill, where after religious service in the Presbyterian Church, we laid him down, on one of those pretty green slopes, beside the remains of his father. His Have made large addition to their stock of mother, truly "a mother in Israel," venerable in The Herrick Educational Club will age, was present, and still waits her appointed time. We bespeak a full trayed their sincere mourning for the dead and in their kindness to the living, by providing for the comfort of those who came from abroad, they showed a warm heart and a delicacy of feeling which are worthy of the highest praise.

Thus has passed away one whose sterling modesty would forbid a labored epitaph. But in all the relations of life as the honored head of a family, as marked by diligence and strict integrity in business, as the popular Superintendent of the Sabbath School, as the judicious and exemplary Ruling Elder in the house of God—but above all as the humble and lowly minded believer-who peacefully trusts, alone in the merits of the Redeemer, we find it in our hearts to pay this tribute to his memory. "Precious in the sight of the Lord, is the death of His lambs."
