THE VOICE OF THE PRESS.

We have already published extracts from the newspapers of some of the adjoining Counties which show the interest felt throughout the State in the Senatorial contest now going on this District. Below will be found an article from the Waverly Advocate, the editor of which is a late citizen of this County, and a candid and reliable man. We ask for his comments the thoughtful consideration of every Union ing Mr. LANDON.

We also give an article from the Lancaster Examiner, one of the most influential papers in the State, upon the same subject. The editor Mr. HIESTAND was a member of the Legislature with Mr. LANDON, and un- Wyoming Democrat of the 27th ult :derstands the position occupied by the lat-ter in the Senate, and the influence he weil-ded as a member of that body. BRADFORD COUNTY POLITICS.

(From the Waverly Advocate.) DRADFORD COUNTY FOLITICS. May we say a word? Of course we may. It is to be regreted that the real Republicans—the gen-uine Union men of Bradford county are still di-any of them feel inclined, from a sense of duty, or from personal considerations, to oppose any por-tion of the ticket recently put in nomination. If the Convention did not reflect the choice of the people, the fault lies away back at the primary meetings—there is the fountain of the wrong, if there be one, and there is the legitimate place to correct it. The ticket put in nomination will, be-yond all peradventure, be elected by a large ma-jority ; and we can see in the warfare made upon the candidate for State Senator, a manifest and permanent, though not intentional, injury to the Keystone State. Have not those, who were dis-statisfied with Mr. Landon's course on a certain measure while in the Senate three years ago, suf-ficiently expressed their condemnation of the ard wound him less than they do the great cause which he and they have deeply at heart? They certainly cannot have the slightest expectation of defeating him. Why then continue the warfare? Is not the success of the great Union cause in that state at this, its most critical time, of vasity more im-portance than warfare upon an individual for a vote cast some years ago upon a question now ob-solete? solete? No man, ever for a moment, doubted Geo. Landon's fidelity to his country and her dearest and most sacred principles of human liberty; and since, he is irrevocably before the people, and un-mistakably true on the questions of the day, we think it unwise, to say the least, to make a feeble fight upon him to the permanent injury of the cause which he represents.

(From the Lancaster Examiner.) HON. GEORGE LANDON.

The nomination of Mr. Landon for the State The nomination of Mr. Landom for the State Senate in the Bradford Senatorial District, is one which it was emineritly fit for the Republicans to make. Mr. Landon served a term of three years before, and we can bear testimony to his pure and exalted patriotism, unsullied integrity, and noble advocacy of the cause of right and progress on all occasions. A most able and accomplished orator, who never during his three years in the Senate, undertook to speak on any of the great questions which agitated the Councils of the State or Nation, at the commencement of the rebellion, that he did at the commencement of the rebellion, that he did not receive the undivided attention of all parties. side of the Republican organization, were And many a Copperhead Senator had cause
