

Bradford Reporter.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Reporter is printed upon CAMPBELL'S COUNTRY and Job Press, Office No. 56 Gold St., New York. Thomas H. Senior, agent.

On the 11th inst., J. W. Irvine, of Monroe twp., killed a pig eight months and twenty days old, which weighed when dressed, 324 lbs.

JOHNSON AND THE HOLIDAYS.—Passing up Lake street this morning we chanced to drop in at the jewelry establishment of Thos. Johnson, and found a very pleasant hour noting the splendid, substantial, and almost unlimited stock of goods which this magnificent establishment contains. At the lake street entrance we met Mr. Johnson, who very kindly showed us through the different departments, which were complete in every particular. The most perfect system is observed. There is a place for everything and everything in its place. The assortment of Watches is complete from the highest to the lowest, Gold and Silver. The repairing of watches is entirely under the supervision of Mr. Wm. Hanson, who is well known as the great defender of the Workman's Union.—The adherents of Masonic goods is certainly at Johnson's; the assortment of Pins, Rings, and Gems in this, is the finest we ever saw in this city. Adjoining the case of Masonic goods, are gold and silver thimbles, near which is an elegant gold set of silver jewelry. Any young man who takes particular pride and pleasure in getting married should take a look at Johnson's assortment of Bridal Goods. One of the institutions of the establishment is Johnson's celebrated Gold Pens, and mighty good ones they are. We have one. A gold at the large glass case containing spectacles and eye glasses, convinced us of the indispensable articles. Near the case of spectacles may be found the Silver and Plated Ware, consisting of table ware of the well-known Rodgers & Brothers' make. Beautiful sets of individual salts, fruit knives, nut forks, fish knives, and something new which we particularly admire, the "Union" pattern of tea-spoons. Sewing Machines are the next in order, of Grover & Parker, and of Wilcox & Gibbs' make, which are endorsed by hundreds of its customers to be the most superior and ample of Machines. The background of the establishment is handsomely finished off with a magnificient Clock Room, the center containing a finely finished Regulator. The jewelry case contains rings, bracelets, sleeve buttons, and chains of every variety and style, unequalled in beauty, design and finish. Last but not least we speak of the Jobbing Department, under the superior management of Mr. A. Stevens Brown, who is just the man for the place. Johnson's, 28 Lake street, is a jewelry establishment, complete in every thing, and there is the place to go—Embrace Every Occasion.

OPERATION OF OVAROMYOTOMY.—Dr. T. S. Updegraff operated yesterday upon Mrs. Lanning, of Bathonea, for an ovarian tumor. Quite a number of the medical profession were present. He was aided by Drs. Aaron V. Rice and Frank Reynolds, of Elmira, and D. C. Patterson, of Philadelphia, and his office assistants. The usual abdominal incision was made, upon which the tumor was revealed. On cutting into it, one cist was opened, which discharged nearly a pint, patent full of pus. Upon manipulating the tumor, extensive adhesions were discovered with the stomach, omentum and bladder. To facilitate the extirpation, the abdominal incision was enlarged, and another cist was opened to still further decrease the size, which gave forth a very tenacious,ropy pus. Happily all the adhesions were at length severed, and nothing left to be done, but to ligate the attachments of the tumor, which proved to be of the double ovary variety. The tumor was then severed and placed in a large wash bowl, which it nearly filled, and together with the pus it contained weighed thirty-five pounds, and was made up of four cists. The amount of blood lost during the entire operation was trifling, only two small ligatures besides the principal one being required to staunch any oozing vessels. The remaining abdominal organs had the appearance of health, and gave the pleasantest encouragement for the recovery of the patient. The operation was thoroughly and carefully performed by Dr. Updegraff in forty-five minutes. This is the fourth operation of the kind he has engaged in, previous results successfully. The patient was kept insensible to any pain by chloroform, which was administered by Dr. A. V. Rice, with a commendable record of fortitude and effect.

The history of the case reveals a hereditary tendency towards the malady in the family, a sister of Mrs. Lanning having died of a similar disease. The development of the morbid growth has occupied more than two years. During that time the operation of tapping has been performed nine times, on the last occasion nearly two weeks ago, about fourteen quarts of pus having been removed.

The operation, yesterday, took place between 10 and 11 o'clock, a.m., and as soon as the external wound was dressed, and the patient disposed in bed, she expressed herself comfortable, free from pain, in excellent spirits, and partook freely of proper nourishment, and up to last evening no unusual symptoms had arisen. Surgical statistics give the following results after ovarotomy. Out of eighty-six cases, forty-nine recovered, and thirty-two died. Of sixty-one in which the tumor was extracted, thirty-five recovered and twenty-six died. The mortality is not greater than in many other surgical operations. Some operators have lost a single life in seven cases. Dr. Updegraff may take great praise for his successful skill, and we hope that the patient may make so good a recovery as to impart additional laurels to the Doctor's fame already so fully acquired.—Editor Advertiser.

A SAD ACCIDENT.—A sad accident happened at the Milian Hotel on Friday evening, Dec. 15th, while the people were gathered together to enjoy the pleasures of one of their Grand Dancing schools. A young man named Horace J. Hall of Athens, accompanied by his friend Charles Spaulding came for the purpose of taking supper and entertainment. After looking on, as he was no dancer. At about 9 o'clock he came down stairs walking out of the room. It is supposed he stepped off backward over a chair, knocking him senseless, as he was impossible when he was found and remained so 22 hours before we could perceive any hope for recovery. He now seems rational and improving finely. He is a young man of good habits, and beloved by all of his acquaintances. Cox.

NEW YEAR'S BALL.—A New Year's ball will be given at the Central Hotel, in Burlington, on Monday eve., January 1st, 1863. The company of yourself and lady is solicited. Come one, come all. Music, Kendall's Full Band. Bill, $3.00. Geo. C. Hill, Prop.

PERFUMERY AND HAIR OIL, IN GREAT VARIETY.—The friends of Rev. R. L. Silliman propose making him a donation visit at his present residence, in the borough of Monroe, Wednesday evening, Dec. 27th, 1863. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—Bibles, Testaments and other books of various styles, sizes and prices can be had of the Co. S. S. Missionary at Wickes & Black's. He has just the book that should be presented to every S. S. Superintendent. Teachers and Scholars please take notice.

REV. J. G. CARNACHAN.—Rev. J. G. Carnachan of Troy, delivered the Third Lecture of the course before the Y. M. C. A., on Friday evening last. Subject, "Burns and his Poetry."

It is very seldom indeed that we have an opportunity of listening to a lecture possessed of such real merit. Those of our citizens who were not present lost a rich intellectual treat. We trust that the Lecture committee will invite Mr. C. to favor us with another lecture at some future time.

The next lecture of the course will come off on Friday evening, Dec. 29th, by Mr. McEwan, one of the most celebrated Lecturers in the country. His subject "Every Tudor stands on its own bottom," is an interesting one.

THE CARRIER.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

THE WARD HOUSE.—The Ward House has been sold by C. L. Ward Esq., to Mr. O. Ward formerly of East Troy for the sum of $15,000. Mr. Ward takes immediate possession, and we understand it is his intention to repair the House, and furnish it throughout. He has had considerable experience in keeping a Hotel, and we have no doubt but that at his hands the previous reputation of the Ward House will be fully sustained.

THE WHEELER & WILSON SEWING MACHINE.—The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine has no rival.—Scientific American.

FOR RENT.—The 3d story of Union Block Towanda. Inquire at the office of G. D. Montague.

FARM FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale a farm situated in Franklin township, about 12 miles from Towanda, containing 120 acres, well improved, of fine land and two or three houses, one of which is partly cleared. The improvements are good, stone walls, fence posts, etc., with little expense, the dam can run by water, one good barn, and several dwellings around the mill. The prop- paling power on the North Branch Creek, and a spacious river, to a capital this would be a valuable investment. For further particulars apply to J. W. BROWN, Monroe, Dec. 12, 1863.

TELEGRAPH.—Agent, Sparta, Susquehanna Co., N. J.

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale a farm situated in Franklin township, about 12 miles from Towanda, containing 120 acres, well improved, of fine land and two or three houses, one of which is partly cleared. The improvements are good, stone walls, fence posts, etc., with little expense, the dam can run by water, one good barn, and several dwellings around the mill. The proppling power on the North Branch Creek, and a spacious river, to a capital this would be a valuable investment. For further particulars address J. W. BROWN, Monroe, Dec. 12, 1863.

FARM FOR SALE.—The subscriber offers for sale a farm situated in Springville, about 12 miles from Towanda, containing 120 acres, well improved, of fine land and two or three houses, one of which is partly cleared. The improvements are good, stone walls, fence posts, etc., with little expense, the dam can run by water, one good barn, and several dwellings around the mill. The prop-

pling power on the North Branch Creek, and a spacious river, to a capital this would be a valuable investment. For further particulars address J. W. BROWN, Monroe, Dec. 12, 1863.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DEARLY LOVED.—The Carrier of the Reporter presents his compliments to those he has weekly served, and will pay them a New Year's visit with an address of great literary merit, printed in the highest style of the art. He hopes to find a liberal and appreciative feeling on the part of the public.

DE