Convention met at 12 o'clock, and opened with prayer. On the roll being called, 26 members answered to their names. On motion of R. King Cutler, the Sergeant-atarms was directed to arrest and bring in absent members. A colored procession bearing a flag was fired into by a Rebel mob and one man killed. A terrible riot is imminent. There is intense excitement, all the stores are closing up. The Governor has called on the military to protect the Convention and loyal citizens from the Rebel mob.

1:30 p. m.-A terrible and bloody riot is progressing. Pistols are firing all round, and, from where I am writing, I saw two negroes shot. The Mechanics' Institute, where the Convention is in session, has been stormed by the mob, and several negroes killed. The riot is progressing with frightful results.

1:30 p. m.—The President and other members of the Convention have been arrested by the police.

TERRIFIC GALE AT HAVRE-DE-GRACE.

HAVRE-DE-GRACE, July 26, 1866. A terrible tornado visited this vicinity about 6 o'clock last evening. The threat ening masses of clouds, which hung around the horizon from north-east to west during the afternoon, rapidly concentrated north of this point, and at the above-named hour the storm burst upon us with irresistible fury, uprooting trees, prostrating houses and doing much other damage.

The magnificent new bridge of the Philadelphia, Wilminton, and Baltimore Railroad Company, spanning the river at this point, some twenty-five feet above tide-water, encountered the violence of the storm. It trembled for a moment, and then was hurled down from its piers into the river with a terrific crash. Ten spans of the bridge, each 250 feet long, the labor of months, were rendered a complete wreck, the river and bay being strewed with its debris for miles. Only one span on the Cecil side remains.

The loss cannot fall short of $200,000, and is perhaps much greater. Several workmen were carried into the river with the falling spans, but were res-Without this disaster the company confidently expected to have the bridge ready

Heister Clymer said in his speech in Reading, on Wednesday, that "his history as a politician was the history of the State for the last six years, and he would not to-day alter a line or blot out a particle of it." (We quote from the Age.) We are glad to notice the the is so frank. Let us see what he did for the soldiers and sailors on one or more occasions while he was in the State Senate. During the session of 1864 Senator Graham, of Alleghany, offered a resolution that the Senate of Pennsylvania urge upon Congress the propriety of increasing the pay of officers of the army and navy twenty-five per cent., and of privates one hundred per cent. On a motion to proceed to a second reading, the Democrats, with their leader, Mr. Clymer, voted in the negative, thus causing a tie vote, and the motion was lost. The gnatures are engraved in the counterfeit. nd in the genuine, they are written. ightning, grasped by the hand of Liberty, barely perceptible in the genuine, while the counterfeit it is broadly defined on a ark, coarse back ground, which in the gennine is light. The general appearance is fair, but is very coarse on examination. On the back of the note the followers of De-Soto appear as if engaged in a terrible battle, and appear mixed up, while in the fore-ground, that which is designated for a priest, bears the exact image of a monkey. These notes may be altered to represent any National Bank."
