THE STATE.

Official returns from 40 and unofficial from 26 of the 66 Counties in Pennsylvania place the majority for Geary at 16,261.

THE RESULT IN BRADFORD.

It is with no ordinary feelings of pride and gratification that we call attention to the official table of the vote cast in this County, at the late election. It will be seen that Gen. GEARY has a majority over CLYMER of 4043 votes; while Mr. MERCER's majority over Judge ELWELL is 3893 votes.

This gratifying result has been achieved in the face of the most extraordinary efforts on the part of the Copperheads to deceive the people and debauch public sentiment.

The candidate for Congress was selected with especial reference to the defeat of Mr. MERCER, by drawing off Republican votes. A long-time resident of this County, universally respected and esteemed, he had been long enough removed from us, and upon the bench, to be lost sight of politically, and consequently without an obnoxious political record.

Also is the case of Chas. O'Connor and W. B. Read, of Jeff. Davis' county, are reported in Washington, and it is believed are making arrangements to apply for a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf.

The safe of Adams' Express office in Elton N. Y., was blown open on the 9th, and was robbed of $4000 in revenue stamps, currency, &c.

The cattle plague, as well as the cholera, is devastating Hungary, Moravia and Galicia.

Large orders for grain have been sent to the United States from France.

Maj.-Gen. Miles, who has recently received the appointment of Colonel in the Regular Army, is now at his home in Roxbury, Mass. Five years ago he was a clerk in a store in Boston, and had never seen military service. He received a commission of Lieutenant in a volunteer regiment, and from that position has fought his way up to the full rank of Major-General.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal says the apple crop in that vicinity is very abundant this season, and a great deal of cider is being manufactured and brought to market. It is offered freely at prices ranging from $50 to $5 per barrel, according to quality.

It is Brevet Brig.-Gen. H. M. Whittlesey, of Detroit, and not Brevet Brig.-Gen. Elphlet Whittlesey, of Maine, who has recently been appointed Chief Quartermaster on the Staff of Major-General Oliver O. Howard.

SPEECH OF GEN. GEARY.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—When the returns announced the fact of Gen. John W. Geary's election as Governor of Pennsylvania, the "Boys in Blue" formed a procession and proceeded to the Jones House for the purpose of serenading him. When the band had ceased playing, Gen. Geary, who was loudly called for, appeared and responded to the compliment in the following address:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: As the candidate and representative of the triumphant Union Republican party of Pennsylvania, I reciprocate your congratulations, and return to you my sincere thanks for this greeting. It is indeed a noble victory we have achieved. We cannot too fervently and too repeatedly offer thanks to Almighty God for this new evidence of His presence in the midst of our national difficulties.

The same hand which guided us through the sufferings and death of a cancerous rebellion has led us safely through a new and even more tremendous peril. The intelligence of the terrible overthrow of treason in Pennsylvania—the sublime equality of the crowning victory of Gettysburg—the second and final surrender of the Rebel sympathizers, will forever and justly settle many disputed questions. It permanently establishes the fact that the Government of the United States is vested in the American people, and in their representatives in Congress assembled, and not in a corrupt Executive. And upon this strong and granite foundation we shall now proceed to fortify against the inroads of time and the attacks of treason, the following truths and covenants:

"That the Government of the people, by the people, and for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

"That cruel and revengeful traitors, defeated in battle, shall not be restored to ruin the country they attempted to destroy.

"That when our forefathers declared man capable of self-government, they rejected the heresy of human Slavery, and pledged equal political rights to all their posterity.

"That hereafter the citizens represented in the State and National Legislatures must be clothed with the rights of citizenship.

"That all the agencies of the Government, civil and military, must be perseveringly and sternly exercised to protect, vindicate, and if needs be, avenge our oppressed brothers in the South against the savage persecutions of Rebels who are still so impudent and defiant that even Andrew Johnson fears to pardon them?

"That this obligation is as sacred as that which made the Roman citizen strong and respected all over the world, and which stimulates the British Government to day to defend British subjects against oppression and persecution, however remote and however remorseless; that as we must choose between those who will not yield to the conquerors' terms in the recent insurgent States and those who have fought steadily for the Government and pray for its protection, we gladly prefer the men who offered their lives for the flag to those who continued to scorn and trample upon it."

The defeat of the sympathizers with treason, and the overthrow of an abandoned and ungrateful Executive in Pennsylvania, opens the whole Southern country to the progressive people of the North, with their thousands of intellectual and educating agencies, and better than this it secures to the resident loyalists, white and black, those natural and civil rights pledged in the Declaration of Independence and secured by the laws of the land. What Pennsylvania, who contributed to the resplendent majority we contemplate with such gratitude and joy to-night will not feel proud that his vote and to his energy mankind is indebted for these priceless blessings. Having fortified these great truths against all future dangers, it is for the Pennsylvania to maintain the forward position we have so proudly won. The result proves that an intelligent people cannot be driven away from principle by appeals to prejudice. But it fixes the fact that more than all that prodigal and prescription in high places serve to arouse popular indignation, and to strengthen popular convictions. No tyrant in any age—not even that of Nero, whose infamy is written in the immortal pages of Senatus, ever descended so low in efforts to debauch or reach so high in his efforts to destroy, as Andrew Johnson. Strong in the stolen power of a betrayed people, he stretched forth his arm, paralysing where he could not subdue. Our State was converted into a market-places where the offices of the people were proffered to themselves as the price of their own degradation, and where honest opinion was ostracized and craven sycophancy disgustingly rewarded. But this attempt to restore the traitors of the South and to revive the Copperhead of the North has proved to be a galvanism so brief that his fulgure has consigned both to a deeper death and to a darker grave than that they occupied before. The Commonwealth that has resisted and defied such bribes and such temptations may well claim the proud title of being the fortress of American freedom. But as I speak to you I feel that we are not alone entitled to the honors of transcendent triumph. Indiana and Ohio complete the triumvirate as they compete for the palm. Let us share it with them as those who won the immortal battles against rebellion shared equally the dangers and the honors of the conflict. Now that we have done our duty, it will be easy for others to follow—easy, let us hope, for Maryland to hold the position so bravely and so bloodily won during the war, and for Tennessee to retain and protect the pledge she has captured from her betrayers; easy for Delaware to ent lose from the prejudices under which she has groined so long; easy for Missouri to adopt another page for her crimsoned yet immortal record; and, above all, easy for the patriots of the South to compel obedience to the last generous proffer of the American people in the new amendment of the National Constitution.

At the shameful riot in Cairo, which broke up the Union meeting addressed by the Southern loyalists, the streets were noisy long after midnight with hurrahs for Andrew Johnson, and cheers for Jeff. Davis. During the disturbance in front of the theater, cries came from a crowd, "Take down that Yankee flag." In a like spirit in a riot last Saturday in Indiana the Rebel flag was raised and the Union men driven out of the county.

A horse thief, who was arrested a few days since at the railroad depot in Ed-dysville, Iowa, after handcuffs were placed on his wrists, obtained permission to take what he called acute medicine, which he had in his pocket. It proved to be strychnine, but he refused remedies and died in about half an hour in the greatest agony. He stated to the officer that he had served one term in the Penitentiary and was determined not to serve another.

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING—PROCLAMATION OF THE PRESIDENT.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, has been pleased to vouchsafe to us as a people another year of that national life, peace, and progress. That year, moreover, has been crowned with many peculiar blessings. The civil war that has recently opened, foreign intervention has ceased to excite alarm or apprehension. Intensive pestilence has been benignly mitigated. Domestic tranquility has improved, sentiments of conciliation have largely prevailed, and affections of loyalty and patriotism have been widely renewed. Our fields have yielded quite abundantly; our mining interests have been richly rewarded; and we have been allowed to extend our railroad system far into the interior recesses of the country, while our commerce has resumed its customary activity on foreign seas. These great national blessings demand a national acknowledgment.

Now, therefore, I, ANDREW JOHNSON, President of the United States, do hereby recommend that THURSDAY, the 29th day of November next, be set apart and be observed everywhere in the several States and Territories of the United States by the people thereof as a day of thanksgiving and praise to Almighty God, with due remembrance that in His temple doth every man speak of His honor.

I recommend, also, that on the same solemn occasion we do humbly and devoutly implore Him to grant to our national Councils and to our whole people that divine wisdom which alone can lead any nation into the ways of all good.

In offering these national thanksgivings, praises and supplications, we have the Divine assurance that the Lord remaineth a King forever; that those that are meek shall be guided in judgment, and such as are gentle shall learn His way. The Lord shall give strength to His people, and the Lord shall give to His people the blessing of peace.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-first.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President: WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

A SNOW-STORM IN COLORADO.—The Blackhawk (Colorado) Mining Journal says the second snow-storm of the season commenced on the 19th ult., at daylight. The Journal adds: "It would seem strange to our friends in other parts of America, after being blessed with two or three storms at this time of the year, to see green corn, tomatoes, green peas, &c., for sale in the stores and on the streets; and last, but not least, we to-day saw a gentle youth, over whose precious head scarce a dozen summers had gently passed, seated in quiet and conscious dignity (on the ground) eating a chunk of water-melon, undisturbed by snow, showers, or any other man. Such is life—in Colorado!"

YOUTHFUL INFAMOUS.—A man, accompanied by his wife and child, was riding on the road between Columbus and Fall River, Wisconsin, one day last week, when two boys, aged twelve and fourteen, demanded his "money or his life," and no attention being paid to their demand, grasped the bridle of their horses. The eldest then drew a revolver and fired, the ball coming in close proximity to the gentleman's head. The report of the weapon startled the team, which left the procreant urethra standing by the roadside. The boys have been arrested.

LOSS OF THE STEAMSHIP EVENING STAR.—The mail steamer Evening Star, Capt. Knapp, of the New York Steamship Company's Star Line, sailed from New York for New Orleans, Sept. 3, at 3 o'clock, p. m. She encountered a severe gale at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the 2d inst., 180 miles east of Tybee Island. After weathering the storm some seventeen hours, she foundered at 6 o'clock on the morning of the 3d inst., with two hundred and seventy souls on board, only seventeen of whom are known to have been saved.

Gonzales and Pellicier, the two Spaniards who murdered Senator Otter, also a Spaniard, in the City Park, Brooklyn, about a year ago, were executed at Raymond street jail, Brooklyn. The execution passed off quietly in the presence of about four hundred persons, without any specially noteworthy incident. A full confession of guilt was made by Pellicier, a day or two since, in which he implicates Gonzales and a man named Weiss. The latter was a principal witness against the two men who were executed.
