Hints About Work-

Horses. - In November we expect to get all our stock into the barns, and should take good care of them. There are no animals, however, that with plenty to eat will hear the cold so well as horses -- full-grown "Weathering" stants colts shockingly. We have no doubt of the truth of the statement, that farmers in Vermont frequently winter their horses in the open meadows with barely a shed to run under giving them a little hay or straw only durng ice storms, when they cannot paw down through a foot or two of snow and get at the grass and clover aftermath, which was left for them. They are said to grow fat upon such treatment. Nothing is worse for horses than too much blanketing and tender care. Keep them clean-they can't be too well groomed-but let them have fresh air and cold air, plenty of it, but not in draughts through windows, floor cracks, When they are sweaty, rub them and blanket them until dry, and for an hour or two after they are cool. After grooming, a linen cover may be put on to keep the Colts ought to be accustomed to being handled very young, and may be kept in stalls or loose boxes. Never use the whip, but try the efficacy of a little sugar instead. (It will pay even at 16c. per pound.) Any young horse is much easier coaxed than Beeves should be pushed forward in fat-tening as fast as possible. Be careful not to over-feed, but judiciously increase and vary the feed so as to secure always good appetite and digestion. Water regularly; keep salt always before them ; feed ground or cooked grain; never let them worry for a meal, but be ready as soon as the time comes; also never prepare their food be-fore them, making them wait half an hour, restless and thrashing about, but prepare for the next meal while they are eating. See that cattle are fed uniformly the same amount of grain, roots, oil-cake, etc., daily, or increase with regularity. Variety and occasional changes of feed are well, and most economical.

Cows .- As the quantity of milk decreases, its richness in butter may be made to acrease by proper feeding, and it is worth while to take advantage of the very high price which butter brings. We heartily Home Insurance Company.

that the liquor which leaches from it naturally, or after being pumped on, may be returned and pumped over it again. Where this can not be done, it should be mixed with sods, dry peat, or muck, or even simple soil, and laid in a compost heap as fast as it accumulates. The manure harvest is from November to May.

Plowing.—By all means do as much plowing this fall as possible. Use a plow that will lay a furrow as flat as a floor. Plow in manure deep for corn, potatoes and root crops, but not for small grains. Leave no manure on the surface, except fine composts that may be harrowed in. Land is well prepared in this way for seeding in spring to clover or grass without an acompanying grain crop.

WENTY-FIVE YEARS EXPERIENCE IN DENTISTRY.—J. S. SMITH, M. D., would respectfully inform the inhabitants of Bradford County that he is permanantly located in Waverly, N.Y., where he has been in the practice of his profession for the past four years. He would say that from his long and successful practice of $25 years duration, he is familiar with all the different styles of work done in any and all Dental establishments in city or country, and is better prepared than any other Dental operator in the vicinity to do work the best adapted to the many and different cases that present themselves oftentimes to the Dentist, as he understands the art of making his own artificial teeth, and has facilities for doing the same. To those the processing the present themselves oftentimes to the Dentist, as he understands the art of making his own artificial teeth, and has facilities for doing the same. To those cases that present themselves oftentimes to the Dentist, as he understands the art of making his own artificial teeth, and has facilities for doing the same. To those requiring under sets of teeth he would call attention to his new kind of work which consists of porcelain for both plate and teeth, and forming a continuous gum. It is more durable, more natural in appearance, and much better adapted to the gum than any other kind of work. Those in need of the same are invited to call and examine specimens. Teeth filled to last for years and otten t mes for life. Chiloroform, ether, and "Nitrous oxide" administered with perfect safety, as over four hundred patients within the last four years can testify.

I will be in Towanda from the 16th to 30th of every month, at the office of W. K. TAYLOR. (formerly occupied by Dr. O. H. Woodruff.) Having made arrangements with Mr. Taylor, I am prepared to do all work in the very best style, at his office.
