FATAL OCCURRENCE .- On Tuesday, 21st of the undorned beauty of the wild tributaries of inst., one of the most distressing occurrences we have ever been called upon to record, took place in Sheshequin township. The facts as we have received them from reliable persons are as follows: —In the forenoon of that day, Mr. JOIN KINOS-LAND, a respectable farmer, residing in the upper part of the Valley, came into his house from the field, and commenced changing his clothes. The field, and commenced changing his clothes. The servant girl, heard some words pass between Mr. servant girl, heard some words pass between Mr. K. and his wife, when the latter rushed from the room, pursued by her husband, who was evidently bent upon inflicting personal violence upon her. The girl alarmed, hurried out of the house, and The girl alarmed, hurried out of the house, and cried for assistance. Meanwhile KINOSLAND had caught his wife, knocked her down, and was stamp-ing upon her head with his feet, when her mother-an aged woman, entered the room and pushed him off the prostrate body.
