EXPLANATION .-- In the Reporter of April 11th, the Report of the Treasurer of the County S. S. Association covers one year Sept. 1865 to Sept. 1866.

In a few instances, collections, taken up previous to the latter date, were not sent in ntil several months afterward, and of course could not appear in that report but will be acknowledged in the next.

The contribution from Woodside School, Maj. E. W. Hale, Superintendent, is an example. Our friends may be assured that whatever is contributed to the S. S. Missionary work of the county will be faithfully credited as soon as received and uly acknowledged in the printed reports. If any omission or mistake should occur we shall be glad to have it pointed out and Mansfield is thoroughly alive on the subject of temperance. A correspon dent of the Northern Tier Gazette says : Our good people were favored Friday evening with a temperance address by M. H. Cobb of Wellsboro. A large audience assembled and much interest was manifested in the cause. Mr. Cobb has a happy faculty of speaking in a common sense way; he appealed to the reason more than to the passions of the people; he stated just what is true and inst. what no intemperate man, even, could take exception to. The reform is in good progress here : our citizens are not asleep, but have caught the spirit which s now felt in so many places. We hope to make it not only a dishonorable act to sell intoxicating liquors in this village without license, but to elevate a moral standard that all shall so regard it.

On Thursday last, Hiram Osborne and his two sons, Robert and Thomas, young men grown, and the Methodist minister at Ovid, and Prof. Locks of Lima drake, on Cayuga Lake, to go to Ithaca .-The wind was pretty high at the time, and when nearly opposite Kidder's Ferry a sudlen gust overset their boat. The persons in the boat all succeeded in clinging to it and finally, it is supposed, partially righted it, when another gust of wind again threw it over and this time throwing the elder Mr. Osborne, and his youngest son, clear into the Lake. Before assistance came they were drowned. In the mean time the ferry boat went to the assistance of the sail boat and saved the three remaining clinging to it. They were a good deal chilled and exhausted, and the young Mr. Osborne had eceived considerable water in his stomach and chest; but they have all recovered .-At the latest advices they had not found the odies of those drowned. The water is bout 60 fathoms deep where they were drowned which is about l of a mile from the shore. Mr. Osborne had about $5,000 in money on his person, which he was bring-

The debt of Pennsylvania does not exseed this twenty-three millions of dollars when the assets applicable to the sinking fund are deducted from the total indebtedness, and this is being paid off annually at It is calculated that in less than seventeen years, at the present rate of liquidation, we hall be entirely free from State debt.

What security can be better than this? har noble Commonwealth is probably the richest, as it is the keystone of the arch of he Union, and this debt is but a trifling mount compared to the immense resources of our people. When it is remem bered that within the borders of the State here are over $500,000,000 invested in roads and government bonds alone, and nany hundred millions more in manufacures, coal and iron mines, &c., &c., and hat the Legislature has supreme control ver all these sources of taxation (exceptag government bonds), no one can fail to PATTON. gree with us that our State loan is the afest of all investments.

It is calculated that at the present rate of daily sales, not a dollar of this loan will remain in sixty or ninety-days. Parties Pa. holding the past due loan can, if promptly presented, have it paid in, face and interest in payment of the new loan.
