PRESIDENT JOHNSON,

It was said of the Bourbons, that they never learned anything. might with equal propriety be asserted of President Jounson that if he learns anything of the wishes and desires of the people, he deliberately and wickedly sets at work to thwart their desires, and to disappoint the in the Isle of Candia. expectations of those who have faith enough in him to suppose him capable of any good. From the day he assumed the responsibilities of the high place he now occupies to the esent time, there seems to have been a wilful and insane purpose or his part, to incur odium, and to bring down on his own head the displeasure and indignation of the American people. The Representatives of the people have applied themselves to the task of Reconstructing a Union, shattered by the Treason of the Southern leaders. The greatest obstacle they have had to encounter has been the President elected by Republican votes. They adopted a plan, which was eminently liberal in all its details, and which, while meeting the almost unquietly and successfully. But President Johnson was not content that this result should be peacefully and the content that this result should be peacefully and the content that the president properties of the next meeting of Congress, Very respectfully. satisfactorily attained. He set at work to render its provisions ineffecments which were necessary for the peace and welfare of the Nation. The President is sworn to "execute the laws." It was hoped that ham, who was convicted and sent to the pententiary for perjury in the assassination people; sufficiently to perform the sions of the law, and in every possible manner to embarcass the progress of Reconstruction. This is to be be interpretations of the law contract to the meaning and inten-of its masters by removing suc-men as manner, first and course of and by assuming powers which have been expressly taken from him.

We have hitherto opposed the imment of the President, for the reasons elleged, but we confess we cannot now see any other remedy for the evils which we suffer, nor any safety for the country, short of the impeachment of a man who shows himself so utterly and wickedly determined to prostitute his high position to the basest and most danger ous purposes who disregards the plain and positive requirements, of laws he is sworn to execute-and who deliberately sets at work to disappoint the popular expectations. The people, North and South, are anxious that the work of Reconstruction shall go on. The material interests of the country demand that it shall not be delayed on frivolous pretexts. The President has mischiev ously attempted to prevent this end. by means alike unwarranted and unlawful, and the people demand that he shall be taught that he is but their servant, and answerable to them for his folly and his misdeeds. His duty s to execute the laws, not to prevent their execution, and if his mad policy is to continue, the sooner he is called to an account the better. Washington News .- The Tribune's Washnaton correspondent, under date of Aug. 18, says: The President has prepared and sent to Gen. Grant instructions to issue ar order assigning Gen. Sheridan to the command of the department of Mississouri Gen. Hancock to the command of the De partment of Cumberland, and Gen. Thomas to the command of the Fifth (Sheridan's) Military District. The order will probably be promulgated to-morrow or next day, unless in the mean time, Gen. Grant shall suggest the substitution of some other names, in place of Hancock and Thomas In that case, Sheridan may be assigned to some other command than that of Missouri. But certain it is, however, that the order relieves Sheridan from the command of the Fifth Military District. It is understood that until Friday last it was the purpose of the President to assign Gen. Hancock to the command of the Fifth District, but he concluded yesterday to give that position to Gen. Thomas. It is announced in trustworthy source n New-Orleans that, if Gen. Sheridan is not removed, a prominent New-York banking firm has promised to take all the levee bonds at a small discount. If, however, Sheridan is removed the firm will not have anything to do with them. This statement is used as a more potent argument than any eding Judge-Advocate-General Holt it believed will be issued during the presen

Foreign News .-- Advices received rom Shanghai via London give accounts of conflict between two steamers of the American squadron in Chinese waters and the pirates of the Island of Formosa. As the United States authorities had received no satisfaction for the murder of the crew of the American bark Rover, the men-of-war Hartford and Wyoming shelled the island until an attacking party landed and engaged in a sharp fight with the natives. The combat lasted over five hours, during which the heat was so intense that fifteen officers and men are reported to have been sunstruck.—
At nightfall the fighting party was withdrawn, and the ships continued to shell the island until the natives had all dispersed tenced to ten years' imprisonment. The difference between Prussia and Denmark in regard to North Schleswig and the execution of the sttipulations of the treaty of Prague are likely to be adjusted amicably and without delay.

THE POSITION OF SECRETARY STANTON. The correspondence between President Johnson and Secretary Stanton, regarding the resignation of the latter, is exceeding ly brief and pointed. Mr. Johnson, under date of yesterday, wrote to Mr. Stanton as

WASHINGTON D. C., EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 5. 1867. Sm: Considerations of a high character constrain me to say that your resignation as Secretary of War will be accepted. Very respectfully yours. To the Hon. E. M. Stanton, Sec'y of War. Mr. Stanton replied as follows:
