In less than three weeks, the secand Tuesday of October will be at hand, bringing with it the day of election. Up to this time, a degree of apathy and indifference has been manifested, in regard to the result, in the highest degree alarming .-

It needs, but a small falling off, in each election district, the stay ing at home of a few indifferent or luke-warm Republicans, to reduce our vote so materially that the Dem ocratic candidate for Supreme Judge will be elected. And what then? The result of the recent elections in California and Maine, has been seized upon to inspirit the Democratic voters, and as a pretence to claim that re-action has or is taking place in the public mind, which forebodes the overthrow of the Republican organization and the dominance of the Democracy. Baseless as is this as sumption, it should not be concealed that it will have its effect, and favorable to the Democracy. There is in fact, nothing in the result in either State which is wonderful or disastrous, nor anything which proves that the people are willing to trust the Democracy with power. In Caliable for the temporary defeat of the Republicans. In Maine, the majority would ordinarily be looked upon as satisfactory, and the election if it proves anything, demonstrates that under the most unfavorable circumstances the State is reliably and radically Republican. If Pennsylvania should now give the Democracy a majority, it would give a force and plausibility to their assumptions, which would be dangerous and troublesome, looking to Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, the Presidential contest next year. The election of next month, then, becomes of the first importance. Our voters should not rest in security. because there is our great danger of Goods, Coin, Bank-Notes, Jewelry because the office to be filled is of small importance, politically. The highest welfare of the country is centered in the result in Pennsylvania. The election of Sharswood would be heralded as a triumph of the Presidential policy, and a rebuke to Congress. If by apathy and indifference on the part of the people, President Jourson can be made to believe that his usurpations are sustained by the people, the country stands upon the brink of a peril more dangerous than ever vet threatened its peace and se-

THE TEMPER OF THE SOUTH. The New York Observer has always been reliable orthodox Presbyterian journal but it has not always been considered poleaned to the Conservative side of all questions connected with "the institution". In the issue of the Observer of the 12th inst. the editor gives the result of his experience and observation as to the temper of South JOS. FOULKE, OF WEST BURLT'N orn christians. We extract a few paragraphs :-"We say, then, deliberately, as the re sult of our experience and correspondence and personal observation in the South, and as the summing up of all the information that we can gathen from every source, that me consider the Christian people of the South generally—clergymen, laymen, laywonici, and especially the religious editors to be as hostile in feeling to the Governnent of the United States and the people of the North, especially to the Christian peo-ole of the North; as eyer before. There are ple of the North; as ever before. There are exceptions to this remark, and we would cheerfully make them, but, according to the old maxim, the exceptions prove the general rule. We will go farther and say that we regard those who are known as Christian people in the South as having been, and as being how, even more opposed to the restoration of good feeling between the two sections than the politicians and the men of the world; for while the latter classes have furnished many hoble instances. furnished many noble instances, amon their leaders, of men who have frankly an publicly advocated the burying of past dif-terences, we do not now recall a single case in which a leading minister of the South of any denomination, has accepted the blive branch of peace and reconciliation, which, in numberless instances, has been extended to them by men in corresponding positions at the North; or who has publicly taken the same ground in promoting reconciliaat the North; or who has publicly taken the same ground in promoting reconciliation which politicians have taken in their sphere. We have travelled in the South since the war; we have read the religious papers of the South; we have conversed with all classes of persons who have visited the South; and the above is the result of our observation and experience.".

This remarkable evidence from an unwilling but competent witness, is entitled to the gravest consideration. Of its correct ness there can be no question. It supplies one of the strongest arguments we have yet seen in favor of the Congressional plan of Reconstruction, or in fact, against any Reconstruction whatever. If the Christians of the South entertain views so inimical to the Union, if they are imbued with feelings of bitterness and hostility to the North and to free institutions, if they permit re venge and hatred to rankle in their heartswhere shall we look with confidence, for any class which is truly and heartily The truth is, that every occurrence which delays Reconstruction, except upon a just There is nothing in the importance of basis is a God-send; the Southern people need to feel the chastening hand which will reconcile them to the new order of things.

Mr. JAMES H. WEBB-Dear, Sir: We the undersigned were appointed a committee by a meeting of citizens of Springfield, to ascertain your views upon the subject of passing a law to authorize the raising of a boun ty tax to pay such persons as have been drafted, and put in substitutes. You will please answer as soon as convenient, that the same may be made public. WILLIAM HUBBARD,

Sept. 12, 1867. DAVID FANNING. SMITHELD, Sept. 12, 1867. GENTLEMEN-Your note of to-day is be fore me, asking my views about the pass-age of a law to authorize the payment of bounty tax in certain cases. In reply I would say that while I have been the advocate of paying the men who went in the service, and still think they ought to be paid to the full extent, I have never been, and am not now, in favor of levying any additional burdens upon the people to pay those who were so fortunate as to be able to stay at home with their families and friends, I was myself drafted and paid quite a sum to another to go in my place, and think my-self well off by having been able to avoid the hardships of the field. You are at lib-erty to use this as you may see proper. Very Respectfully,

JAMES H. WEED.

Canton, Sept. 16, 1867. Mn Eprron I notice among the Union Republican nominations of our county for Auditor, the name of our neighboring townsman O. D. Firmo. This, I think, is as it should be. For having been intimately associated with Mr. F. through years of privation and peril, I think I know the man and can say, a truer Patriol and Soldier never graced the Union Army. His business qualifications and habits, too, are such as to enable him to fill the position with honor. Let all who hold to Republican principles verify Republican declarations by electing him to office, thus showing our appre-ciation of his past services as a soldier. Vours, &c., A. D. F. New Advertisements.
