FOR SENATOR GENERAL. Gen. John F. Hartshorn, of Montgomery Co. FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL. Col. Jacob M. Campbell, of Chenango Co.

DEATH OF HON. DAVID WILMOT.

Hon. David Wilmot died at his residence in this borough, Monday last, at 12 M., after a short illness, in the 54th year of his age. He has been for several years afflicted with disease, but his death was sudden and unexpected. We shall next week give a sketch of his public career.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The proceedings of the Republican State Convention, which assembled in Philadelphia last week, will be found in this issue. It will be seen that General Grant has the unanimous endorsement of that body, as the Republican candidate for President, and that Gov. Curtin's friends were in the majority, as indicated by the resolutions of instruction. The present able and worthy incumbents of State offices, Gen. Hartshorn, Auditor General, and Jacob M. Campbell, Surveyor General, were unanimously nominated for re-election.

Upon all questions, excepting the Vice Presidency, there was a singular unanimity in the Convention. The preferences of the Convention, as the members were chosen and instructed were, as we understood, for Curtin 68; for Mr. Grover, 42; for Governor Geary 23—giving to Gov. Curtin the control of the Convention. This fact being ascertained, the two latter declined having their names presented to the Convention, and their friends were at liberty to follow their own preferences in the selection of a candidate. The matter of State pride controlled many of the delegates, whose first choice was not Gov. Curtin, whilst others, who thought that the times demanded a real, live, radical Republican upon the ticket with Gen. Grant, voted for Benjamin F. Wade, of Ohio.

The friends of Gov. Curtin having entire control of the Convention, proceeded to arrange matters so as to best subserve the personal interests of their candidate. In so doing we think they violated the usages of the Republican party of the State, and usurped powers which belong to the people, and to the people alone. It was decreed that the vote of the State should be cast as a unit by the Chairman of the delegation to the Chicago Convention. It is urged, and with some show of fairness that the vote of the State should be cast solidly, that it may carry with it the proper weight which the Keystone State is entitled to, in the Chicago Convention. This would be a good reason, if the people were a unit in their preferences for any man as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. Such is not the fact, and no action of any State Convention, can make it so, or make it appear to the country that the preferences of the people of the State are not divided. There is unquestionably a strong feeling in the State in favor of Gov. Curtin. But the proceedings of the State Convention show, that there is at least a respectable minority in the State who do not think him a proper person for the candidate of the Republican party for Vice President.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13, 1868. This being the day fixed by the court of impeachment upon which the President was required to make answer to its summons, the court assembled at one o'clock P. M., and the President appeared by his counsel and asked for forty days further time, to prepare for his defense. His counsel present to-day, are Messrs. Stanbery, Curtis and Nelson, each of whom spoke in favor of the motion for an extension of time; the motion was opposed, and argued by Messrs. Bingham and Wilson on the part of the managers appointed by the House; and at this writing, four o'clock P. M., the Senators have retired to deliberate upon the subject of the motion, and have not yet decided the question. It is generally believed that twenty days further time will be granted. The legislation of greatest importance for this session, is in such an advanced state of progress, that it may be very nearly completed in twenty days, and as it is not contemplated to send any bill to the President while his trial is progressing, the twenty days time will be granted him.

The system of issuing tickets to a limited number of persons, of admission to the Senate galleries during the trial, which has been adopted by the Senate, has not met with satisfaction. It enables a favored few to occupy the galleries to the entire exclusion of all others. Very many persons from a distance, have visited the Capitol to-day for the sole purpose of looking in upon the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment upon the trial of the great criminal, and are unable to get nearer the Senate Chamber than the Rotunda where they find the entrance to the Senate wing barred and guarded by a police force. The legislation of greatest importance to the tax payer since I last wrote you, is the passage by the House on Wednesday last of the bill taking off the tax upon nearly every species of manufactures, whisky, tobacco, cigars, and petroleum, which has no exceptions to the operation of the bill, which is now pending in the Senate and will be passed. This will have the effect to cheapen the cost of living, in which it is a class of necessities of life. The law will take effect from the first of May next.

The result in New Hampshire proves, conclusively, that the republicans are the gainers by an issue carried on under the name of the integrity of the people. The democratic party have committed a mass of material which they can hold as a plea for their defeat, and can command it as well in a silent canvass as an active one; and they lose a chance when they direct appeal to the understanding and good sense of men in made by their republican opponents.

Republican State Convention.

The Union Republican State Convention assembled Wednesday morning, March 11, at the Academy of Music. The doors were opened at 9 o'clock, and the attendance of visitors was quite large. A number of resolutions were adopted by the delegates.

The delegates from the several Congressional districts in attendance at Philadelphia were not even allowed to select the delegates to Chicago. They are virtually the creatures of the chairman of the Convention, and in whose appointment the people have had no voice.

The partisan and selfish purposes which dictated this outrage upon the usages of the party, and upon the rights of the people, will hardly be advanced by measures at which the masses will revolt. All ideas of fairness and justice are shocked by the taking away from the people the election of their delegates to Chicago, and particularly by the attempt to control the voice of the State, unitedly, for the most mercenary and selfish considerations. The Republican voters have the highest anxiety as to who shall be the standard bearers of the party in the coming contest.

With one accord, they are proclaiming that the first office in their gift shall be bestowed upon the patriot and warrior, Ulysses S. Grant. But remembering that the history of the past is darkened by the shadows of crime and violence, throwing the duties of President upon the Vice President, they are demanding with universal anxiety and earnestness that the candidate for Vice President shall be selected with great care. It is not seemly, after the action of the State Convention, for us to urge the most objections against the nomination of Gov. Curtin, entertained and expressed by a large body of reliable republicans in this State. They are willing that the vote of the State shall be cast unitedly for him. But they are not willing, that after him, the vote of the State shall be bartered away for corrupt purposes, in disregard of the interests of the party. To accomplish this, the action of the Convention was shaped, and the program fully carried out. Such a dangerous and disgraceful innovation should meet with an earnest and indignant protest from every Republican who values our principles and the integrity of our party above the advancement of men, and the personal aggrandizement of politicians.

Republican party, preserves and perpetuates the Republican creed.

Resolved, That no contrast so eloquent could be presented as that between the long professions of Abraham Lincoln and the silent patriotisms of U. S. Grant; that as one would profess to deceive, the other would be deceived; and that while the former would fall away from the voluntary covenant, Grant has accepted equal justice and Radical Republicanism as a part alike of conscience and duty.

Resolved, That the election of General Grant to the Presidency, all domestic discussions and factions, opposition to the complete reconstruction of the Union on the firm foundation laid by the wisdom and judgment of Congress will be immediately suppressed and harmony and good feeling restored, settled relations of business established, and the revival and improvement of all the disturbed sources of national wealth and prosperity will be secured when it is once made manifest that the people of this country are firmly fixed in their determination that the fruits of the late bloody and obnoxious struggle shall not be lost, and that the factions and rebellions resistance to the laws shall be as effectually overthrown as was the military hostility which attempted to subvert the Government by savage cruelty, rapine and murder.

Resolved, That Pennsylvania proudly tenders to the loyal people of the Union A. G. Curtin, the great war hero, the soldier's friend and the champion of the right of the patriot to the right of the people, the candidate for the Vice Presidency of the United States, and solemnly pledges her faith to maintain his nomination with that of the illustrious Grant by the suffrage of an overwhelming majority of her freemen at the polls; that Governor Curtin's untiring efforts to sustain the General Government at every crisis of the sanguinary struggle, his sagacity in providing a force for the regular corps of the Pennsylvania Reserves, which arrested the consequences of the prime great disaster and gained the first victory of the war—his effectual exertions, which placed more than 300,000 of the sons of Pennsylvania in the field to defend the nation's life and crush the poisoned serpent of treason; and his constant care for the comfort, relief and support of the soldiers in the field, their families at home, and the widows and orphans of those who gave their lives a sacrifice for the country, have made him the favorite of his native State, and most commend him to the love and admiration of the loyal people of the whole land.

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the Senate of the United States, to hold a sitting of impeachment, to proceed without fear favor or affection, and that the people of Pennsylvania will stand by and maintain the just judgment of the law.

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors of the Union, who fought and conquered armed rebellion in the field, and stand true to the principle which they vindicated and the flag which they carried, and led them to victory, are entitled to the undying gratitude of all loyal people, and they saved the country by their toil, suffering and sacrifice, they have incontestable claims to the highest honors of the nation.

Resolved, That we tender our most cordial thanks to Hon. Edwin M. Stanton for the firmness, courage and patriotism with which he has maintained the rights of the people against the attempted invasion of a faithless Executive and his purchased instruments.

Resolved, That the public debt incurred for the purpose of preserving the existence of the nation is a sacred obligation, binding the people to its payment in the utmost good faith, and to the full extent of its legal requirements; that the greatest prudence, judgment and care are to be exercised in the management of the public debt, so far as attainable, he employed at once to maintain the public faith and credit, and render the burden, of which no loyal citizen should complain, as light as practicable upon the productive industry of the country and the wages and proceeds of labor.

Resolved, That it is a dictate of the common sense and the wisdom of the greatest wisdom, that the domestic industry of the country should be sustained and protected against foreign competition by adequate tariff laws, and that whatever particulars the existing laws on the subject are defective, they should be amended and made efficient for that purpose, as well as for the purpose of raising revenue for the Government.

Resolved, That economy in the public expenditures is a duty specially incumbent at this time upon all departments of the Government, both State and National.

Resolved, That in Gen. John F. Hartshorn and Col. Jacob M. Campbell, our nominees for re-election to the important State offices of Auditor General and Surveyor General, we should with our all heart and soul, in the sanguinary strife against rebels in the army, and who have since proved themselves to be competent, faithful and upright officers in times of peace, and we confidently commend them to the suffrage of a people who have not forgotten to be grateful to the defenders of the life of the nation, and who have by their own example and their own blood and treasure, have not only been in vain but were simply contributions for the restoration of treason under the influence of a man, who clothed with the confidence of his country, is prevented from overturning the government solely by the wise and the patriotic policy taken by a loyal Congress.

Resolved, That we add our voice to the loud acclaim in favor of U. S. Grant as the Republican candidate for President of the United States, and in so doing we feel that we are not simply responding to the wishes of our constituents, or helping to pay our portion of the debt; we are preparing the way for that substantial triumph which, while perpetuating the to protect us from the astounding frauds which have heretofore been perpetrated.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the administration of State Affairs by John W. Geary, in which he has proved himself an efficient in the cabinet in the field; an able and successful administrator of the law, as he was an able and successful soldier during the war; and he merits the confidence of the people of Pennsylvania, and we pledge him the continued support of the Republican party of the State.

Resolved, That every American citizen, whether by birth or adoption, is entitled to the protection of the nation and the flag; and while it is in the power of the Government to initiate negotiations for the establishment of international law, of expatriation, recognizing naturalization of one nation as terminating the allegiance due to another, and conferring all rights of citizenship, it is no less its duty to vindicate its people of all classes from oppression or interference at home and abroad, when in the legitimate and peaceable exercise of their legal or personal rights.

Resolved, That the delegates from Pennsylvania to the National Republican Convention, to be held in Chicago, May next, be, and they are hereby instructed to cast their vote as a unit, through their Chairman, in favor of Gen. U. S. Grant for President, and A. G. Curtin for Vice President, they being the distinctly declared choice of the people of this State for those positions, and the right of substitution for absent delegates shall rest solely with the delegation from the State.

John S. Mann objected to the adoption of the last resolution, and said that it took from the hands of the people the right of instructing their delegates. A delegate considered it usurpation of power for this Convention to instruct delegates. After speaking by Wm. B. Mann, A. K. McClure, H. C. Swope, Russell Errett, and others, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 89 yeas to 40 nays.

The Convention then adjourned until seven o'clock. The Convention re-assembled at 7 o'clock, at the Academy of Music. In front of the stage and suspended from the ceiling were gas jets, forming the names of Lincoln, Farragut, Grant and Sheridan. Col. McClure submitted the following resolution: That a committee of one from each Congressional District be appointed by the Chair, to report, for the approval of this Convention, delegates to the Republican National Convention and Electors for the State; and that said committee be instructed to accept district delegates already chosen by action of the districts, who will in good faith carry out the instruction of the Republican people of Pennsylvania at Chicago, as expressed so overwhelmingly by this Convention.

After speeches by Mr. Braum, of Schuylkill county; Mr. Jessup, of Susquehanna; Lloyd Jones, of Montgomery county; Thos. M. Bayne, of York county; and J. B. Mather, of others, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 84 yeas to 48 nays. The chair appointed a committee of one from each Congressional district in accordance with the resolution. The committee made the following report:

Adjourned.

DEMOCRATS' MOON. MONTHLY.—Ladies never weary of prating this Magazine for its beauty and usefulness. Its patterns are worth more than the price of each number, and with the admirable models furnished by its illustrations, are invaluable to ladies living in the country. We do not know much about the "Household" and other exclusively feminine departments, except that housewives think everything of them, but we do know that the leading matter is varied and unimpeachable, and that, as well as a welcome visitor as can be found in a periodical of any class. THE IMPROVEMENT CASE. Payment to notice, the High Court of Impeachment again opened in the Senate Chamber at Washington Friday, and the Sergeant at Arms made notice that he had personally all served on the President the notice of the Court ordering him to appear and answer. Thereupon proclamation was made directing the accused to appear and answer; to which his counsel, headed by Mr. Stanbery, responded by the President's formal pleading in answer to the writ, and asked for forty days to prepare himself. The managers from the House demanded strict adherence by the Court to the rules prepared by the Senate and adopted by the tribunal for the regulation of the proceedings, and thereupon opposed such delay as unnecessary. They asked that the trial should proceed.
