Curculio.

Experiments made by Benj. D. Walsh, Acting State Entomologist of Illinois, have led to the conclusion that there are two distinct broods of the plum curculic every year, the first of which comes out in the beetle state in the latitude of Rock Island, from Pottstown at 6.45 a. m., returning leaves Philosophia at 4.30 n. m. about July 19th to Angust 4th, and the second from August 23d to September 25th. The first brood is generated by temples that have passed the winter in the beetle state, and have attacked the car'y fruit, laying in the more matured truit the egg from which proceeds the second trood. The second brood of beetles of me out late in the same season, and the famales, at all events, if not the males, live through the winter, and process detailed above. Thus it will be seen at once the curculio differs about July 19th to August 4th, and z-repeat the succeeding season the be seen at once the curculio differs be seen at once the curculio differs from the apple worm or Codling moth which is also concluded in this, that the transfer appears to be seen at once the curculio differs from the apple worm or Codling moth toward each Passenger G. The practical inference to be drawn from this discovery is that by destroying in June or early in July the first wormy fruit that produced the first brood, the crop of curculois for the current year is diminished. On and after MONDAY, MAY 11th, 1868, the trains on the Philadelphia & Erie Rail Road will run as follows: diminished. We would urge upon fruit growers the importance of testfruit growers the importance of testing an autidate recommendation by Col Anderson, President of the Horti-st syringes or sprinklers, of water and vinegar, in the proportion of one part of the latter to nine of the former, had been tried in France with great success, and that he had since tried it on of syringes or aprinklers of water and egg plants and other vegetables with happy results; not an insect of any kind had injured the plants since -Whether of not it would have the same effect on the curculio he was unable to say, but thought it worth the trial.
