WOULD ME RLATE BE A SAPE PRESIDENT.

In the canvas preceding the last Presidential election the public character and opinions of the Democratic candidate for the Vice-Presidency were thoroughly discussed. Mr. Pendleton's votes, opinions and polit-ical associations became, in the public mind, of great importance; and that for the reason that most men, even, among the democrate, knew General McClellan, the candidate on the same ticket for the Presidency to be a weak man, of no well-defined or strongly held opinions, who would inevitably be the tool of stronger men if he were elected, and over whom a man like Pendleton would as every body knows, and as can be shown if it is necessary, on the best evidence, subject to a disabling hereditary infirmity; he is not a man of positive character. Even if he lived and retained his health, he would inevitably be subject and controlled by the men who nominated him-Vallandingham and Pendleton-and by the man who would stand behind io Blair.

Whoever does not want Vallandingham, Pendleton and Blair to rule this country for the next four years ; whoever believes, as the great mass of the people of both parties do believe, that these men would work almost irreparable mischief to the country, would depress our credit, derange our industry, make hard times for the workingmen, and plunge the country into endless confusion; whoever believes that will find it his Coonecticut, New York, New Jersey duty to vote for Grant.
