OUTRAGE UPON A LITTLE GIRL.—Two men, named HENRY and PETER HANCOCK, arrested on Sunday morning, at Owego, on a charge of committing an indecent assault, under the most aggravated circumstances, upon the person of CAROL PANCE, a child twelve years of age, on Saturday evening, at the Erie Railroad, near the station at Binghamton. There is a doubt as to whether their victim will die. It required much effort of the officers to prevent the lynching of the prisoners. They are in jail in Binghamton, and will be tried there.

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH.—Mr. Bergner, of the Telegraph, has issued a prospectus in which he offers his paper for the approaching session of the Legislature for $1.50. The Telegraph is a fine Republican paper and its reports of the doings and doings of our lawmakers are always satisfactory and accurate. Its location at the capital of the State, and its facilities that are of immense value to an enterprising journal, rendering it indispensable to all who desire to be well posted in the political and general news of the State. Our readers who need such a paper cannot do better than subscribe for the Telegraph.

UPON the authority of a newspaper reporter we are enabled to say that it is reported that Santa Claus and Kris Kringle are making extreme preparations for their next visit to this mundane sphere. The first preparatory act to visiting this neighborhood, will be the selection of a large amount of Confectionery and a great number of Toys at HART'S establishment. Christmas would bring disappointment to the little ones, if they did not find themselves the possessor of a portion of his vast assortment. Dealers will find it greatly to their advantage to get their stock of Confectionery and Toys at an early day, while the assortment is unbroken.

There is living in Westchester Mass., the "last survivor of the Wyoming massacre." Mr. Amos Adams, born in the Wyoming settlement near Old Kingston, August 10, 1773. He was not quite five years old at the time of the massacre, which occurred on July 1778. The lives of those in the fort where his family was spared; but they were stripped of clothes and food and turned into the wilderness. The Adams family consisted of five members—the father, mother, and three children. Amos, five years, one three, and the other one year old. The mother carried the babe, the father the next, and the eldest had with him the journey of one hundred and fifty miles, and he was five years old, in constant dread of the Indians, to the place where he now lives. He is now very active and is a hard worker; his sight, hearing, and general health are excellent; he is now a widower, having had two wives and ten children.

TEMBLE and FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, the inhabitants of Brewster Chemung Co., were startled to hear that a boy had been torn in pieces in the mill of Joseph Bonanza.

It seems that a little boy of about twelve years of age, son of CHARLES BRINZA, the engineer of the mill, had been grinding a pocket-knife on a large grind-stone, which was run by means of a heavy belt. The belt passed about the main driving shaft of the mill, making about three hundred revolutions per minute. By some means he was caught in the belt by one foot. In an instant he was made to revolve about the shaft with such velocity as to actually tear the leg and hip from the body, throwing the dismembered limb some twenty feet away. The head was beaten all into pieces, the skull bones and every bit of the brain being scattered about on the floor and timbers.

The body revolved with such velocity as to break a brace in the heavy timbers overhead, four by six inches, and four feet long, severing it completely.—Emira Gazette.

A NICE STORE.—It is an admitted fact that one of the finest Book Stores in Northern Pennsylvania, is one owned by ALVORD & BARBER, in this city. Their stock is always full, and their prices are as low as any establishment this side of New York.

They are now adding to their assortment, a beautiful line of Holiday Gift Books, Stationery, &c., which we feel sure our readers will be sold at prices assuring the reach of all. Give them a call.

PERSONAL.—Hon. G. A. GROW, Col. BURNETT and A. T. SCHREYER, representatives from Susquehanna County, and D. W. SCHAFF, District Attorney, paid our town a visit this week.

J. O. FROST has added largely to his stock of Furnishings and has now one of the largest and best filled establishments in the country. His endeavor is to keep pace with the times as to the style of his Furniture and prices, and he is enabled to defy all competition.

CATTLE DISEASE.—We are informed by Hon. J. F. OMBRETT, of Wyalusing, that a singular and fatal disease has broken out amongst his cattle, five having already died. The following is a description of the disease:—

The blood settles under the skin behind the left shoulder, and looks like the animal blood. Quite a large quantity of black blood settles around the heart and lungs, and the heart is also filled with black blood. The tallow looks dark, and a yellow animal runs from the nose after death. The animal seems to lose its strength as there is scarcely any struggle.

"A merry Christmas!" How lightly we speak it yet how great its import. While you seek gifts for friends and dear ones, fail not to visit the establishment of WICKHAM & BLACK.

There are good articles suitable for the children, fit for parents, just right for Christmas trees, and oh how nice for "Constituents." Prices, from one penny up.

The prophets who predicted an "open winter," will have to prophesy again, judging from the experience of the past week. If Monday last was a satisfactory day, then we may judge that the "snow and hail," would have done credit to arctic regions. The snow accumulated to the depth of about eighteen inches, and the sleighing at present writing is good.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color, and dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for protecting the hair. Faded or gray hair is restored to its original color with the vigor and freshness of youth. This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for useful purposes, by the use of this Vigor. It will prevent the hair from turning gray, or falling out, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted for medicinal purposes, apply to the proprietor, Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., Price $1.00. Sold by Dr. H. C. Porter, Towanda, & all Druggists & Dealers in Medicines every where. Nov. 25, 1888.—1w.

M. C. G.—Call at the Book Store of Alvord & Barber and examine and you will be sure to purchase. Nov. 18.

GEORGE BREWER, Esq., of the County of Adams, Bradford county, Pa. Sept. 21, 1888, Huldah Kyzer. The subject of this brief sketch was born in Sussex county, N. J., March 30, 1806, to Bradford county, Pa., twenty-one years ago. She embraced religion when twenty years of age, and lived over an exemplary, religious life, and was for many years a member of the M. E. Church of this place. Her husband died December 23, 1869, and she died in the home provided by the father's industry on the farm, flowing Susquehanna. As a wife and mother, Sister Kyzer was kind, affectionate, and wise; as a christian, full of faith and good works. It was my privilege to know her for the last few days prior to her last illness, which was very short; she was then, as I am sure, as much as might be expected, she died in the triumphs of the faith leaving the blessed testimony behind her that she has gone to be with Jesus, who she had so long and so faithfully followed.
